

Washington Correspondent Will Speak Here Monday

"Evaluating a New Administration" will be the topic of an address to be given in the Student Union ballroom Monday at 8 p.m. by Roscoe Drummond, Washington correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor.

Drummond is a widely-known newspaper columnist and public speaker who is one of the foremost correspondents covering the daily Washington scene. He is personally acquainted with many of the federal government's top figures and is a keen analyst of American foreign and domestic policy.

Recognized as one of the outstanding personalities in his profession, Drummond is a past president of the Washington Overseas Writers club. He served for two years as director of information for the European Marshall Plan headquarters in Paris. His work in directing the American government's psychological propaganda offensive took him into seventeen countries west of the Iron Curtain.

Arents Award

Both American and British magazines have carried Drummond stories, and he has frequently appeared on radio forum broadcasts. He is holder of the George Arents award for excellence in journalism granted to alumni of Syracuse university for distinction in their chosen profession.

Drummond has been associated with the Christian Science Monitor since 1924. He has held successively the positions of assistant city editor, assistant to the executive editor, European editorial manager, general news editor and executive news editor. Since 1940 he has been chief of the Monitor's Washington bureau.

Presidential Campaigns

In his campus talk Monday

ROSCOE DRUMMOND
Washington Columnist

Drummond will highlight many events in the recently concluded presidential campaigns. He traveled as a correspondent on the campaign trains of both president-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson, unsuccessful Democratic presidential nominee. His back stage position in the political scene gives him first-hand knowledge of the successes and failures of the campaign and enables him to comment intelligently on the future administration.

Drummond will participate in a coffee hour forum Monday at 4 p.m. in the Dad's lounge of the SU. His visit to the Oregon campus is being sponsored by the university assembly committee.

Oregana Retake, Makeup Pictures Start Monday

Makeup and re-take pictures for the Oregana will be taken at Kennell-Ellis beginning Monday, Jody Greer, Oregana associate editor, has announced.

Nine living organizations will be scheduled for each day. This will be the last opportunity for students to have their Oregana pictures taken, Miss Greer said.

Students unable to have their pictures taken on the day scheduled, may do so this Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday is being set aside for these students with conflicts in their makeup day.

Friday is set aside exclusively for off-campus seniors who are not affiliated with campus living organizations.

All proofs, whether makeups, retakes, or pictures taken previously, must be returned to Kennell-Ellis

Photo Schedule

Sherry Ross hall will have Oregana pictures taken at Kennell-Ellis today, Jody Greer, Oregana associate editor, announced.

This will conclude the picture-taking schedule. Makeups and retakes will begin Monday.

the week before finals, Miss Greer emphasized.

Scheduled makeup and retake days Monday through Friday are as follows:

Miss Greer emphasized that wear for makeups and retakes must be identical to that worn by the organizations on the original picture-taking day to maintain the unity of the page.

Burglary Staged At Tri-Delt House Wednesday Night

Delta Delta Delta was burglarized Wednesday night of $68.50 in currency and silver, according to Detective E. G. Bunch, of the Eugene Police force.

Bunch said the house was entered by an unknown person sometime between midnight and 6 a.m. Wednesday. He said that it probably happened between 2 and 3 a.m. as a noise was heard then.

Also discovered missing late Thursday afternoon were three pairs of ear rings and a brooch, according to Norma Hultgren, house president. The brooch belonged to Sayra Sue Storey and was valued as a family heirloom, Miss Hultgren said.

Janet Bell, Tri Delt member and Emerald reporter, told the paper

Pigger's Guide Ready Tuesday

The Pigger's Guide, campus directory, will be issued Tuesday, according to Dick Williams, director of the Student Union. The Emerald reported Thursday that the books would be issued this week.

On sale at the Student Union and at the Co-op, the directories will cost 50 cents.

In addition to the names, home and campus addresses, phone numbers and the majors of all University students, the Guide includes traditions, songs, organization officers and an academic calendar for the year.

Pat Choat edited the book. She was assisted by Mary Ann Moore and Bob Ford, executive editors; Julie Connell, index editor, and Janet Bell, information editor.

'Concert Hour' Set for Sunday In SU Ballroom

The "Sunday Concert Hour", the first of a recital series, will be presented this Sunday at 7 p.m. This is a new project of the Student Union music committee and will be a regular monthly event. The concerts are held in the Student Union ballroom and campus clothes are in order.

Performing in this Sunday's concert hour will be Juan Montenegro, Audrey Mistretta and Lawrence Maves. Montenegro is a special student in music, having graduated from the Guatemala Conservatory of Music in Guatemala City. He is attending the University of Oregon on a scholarship from the Institute of International Relations of New York City.

Miss Mistretta portrayed Miss Todd in the opera "The Old Maid and the Thief" presented last spring in the University theater. She is a sophomore voice student and was "Miss Oregon of 1951."

Maves is a junior in music and has appeared with the University Symphony for the past two years. He will be featured again this spring playing a complete violin work with the symphony. After his junior year in high school, he was awarded a scholarship to the Interlaaken music festival in Michigan and that summer was named the "most outstanding boy in music" for that summer.

Sunday's program will consist of eleven numbers by the three performers. Maves will play "Prayer" by Handel; "Malaquena" by Sarasate; "Pantomime" by Falla and "Variations on a Theme of Corelli" by Kreisler.

Miss Mistretta will sing "O Del Mio Amato Ben" (O, Vanished Loveliness) by Donaudy; "Oh, Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me?" by Handel; "Sing a Song of Sixpence" (With Apologies to Handel) by Diack and "Nobody Knows De Trouble I've Seen" arranged by H. T. Burleigh.

Montenegro will play "Scherzo in Bb Minor" by Chopin; "Sara-bande" by Debussy, and "Funerail-

Detective Urges Caution

Detective Bunch urges all fraternities and sororities to be on the lookout for sneak thieves and to lock their doors at night to prevent further burglaries. He also asked that the houses investigate any unusual sounds which they hear.

Thursday, that the unseen prowler apparently entered the house through an unlocked second story window from the metal canopy over the front door. She said that the assumption is substantiated by a fresh smear of dirt on the roof of the canopy and torn cobwebs outside the window.

Bunch said that two girls apparently heard the burglar, thought it was just a noise or their imagination and went to bed without investigating the sounds. While the Tri-Delts were asleep on the sleeping porches, the prowler went through all the rooms on the second floor except one, according to Miss Bell. She said the burglar went through bureau drawers, jewel cases and purses. She pointed out that the prowler left drawers and jewel cases disturbed, but he replaced the bill-folds in the purses.

Eugene police believe the burglar was a man, due to the size of the footprint found outside the house, Bunch stated. He added that, as of Thursday afternoon, there was no trace of the man.

The burglar left the house by the front door, leaving it unlocked on his way out, Miss Bell said.

2000 Hear Concert By Don Cossacks

A crowd of approximately 2,000 attended Thursday night's performance of the Platoff Don Cossacks, according to an after-concert report from Dick Williams, Student Union director.

In addition to the previously announced program the chorus sang several extra numbers, including the cavalry song, "Meadowlands"; the "Song of the Nightingale," with solo by Valentine Rukurvy; and the comic song, "Malanya", also with the solo being done by Rukurvy.

Highlighting the performance were the dances in costume by Zina and Nicholas Lashkan and the dagger dance by Gabriel Soloduhin, ending with Soloduhin sticking his eight daggers one by one in the stage by tossing them with his mouth.

Different colored tunics were donned by the chorus for each of the three sections of the program. They appeared first in navy blue, next in red satin and last in white satin.

IFC Fines SAE Fraternity $30 for Illegal Rushing

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was fined $30 Thursday by the Inter-Fraternity council tribunal for violation of the IFC rushing rules.

The SAE's were found guilty of violating article six, section two, sub-paragraph two, which deals essentially with a fraternity man being in a freshman dormitory, according to Fred Baltz, IFC secretary.

Not Maximum Fine

Baltz stressed the fact that the fraternity was not fined the maximum amount under the rules and that the freshman was not punished. Under the rule, the fraternity could have been fined $50 and the freshman could have lost his right to pledge for a year, Baltz said.

Under the IFC rushing rules a fraternity man may not enter a freshman dorm and no freshman may enter a fraternity house.

The Tribunal

The tribunal was presided over by Dick Morse, Phi Delta Theta, president of the judging body. Members of the tribunal were Ray Gilky, Ji Kappa Alpha; John Crim, Pi Kappa Phi; Don Zavini, Sigma Alpha Mu; Fred Turner, Sigma Chi; Jerry Smith, Sigma Nu; Fred Baltz, IFC secretary, Phi Sigma Kappa, and Jack Hutchins, IFC president, Beta Theta Pi.

The SAE's were also fined $10 for illegal rushing last year when they sent Christmas cards to about 20 selected freshmen. The cards were sent principally to legacies (men whose fathers had been members of the fraternity) and guests of the fraternity during Duck Review in spring of 1951.

Drinking Fountain 'Spouts Off' Again

The drinking fountain between Fenton hall and the Pioneer Father is "spouting off" once again, after a five year layoff.

The four brass bubblers were installed shortly after fall term began.

The outside fountain has been dormant because the original old-type bubblers were considered unsanitary. I. I. Wright, head of the physical plant, stated.

Wright planned to put the fountain into operation in 1949, but the scarcity of brass materials prevented it.

With the recent availability of the necessary brass bubblers, the campus planning committee, composed of Wright; J. O. Lindstrom, business manager; W. C. Jones, dean of administration, and Lionel Chadwick, instructor in architecture, took action on the fountain face-lifting.

Chadwick is acting on the committee in the absence of S. W. Little, dean of the school of architecture, who is on sabbatical leave.
