

Local Television Receives KWAX; FM Still Needed for Small Radios

By JACK VAUGHN
KWAX Manager

The main complaint about KWAX is that many people don't own FM sets. Friday night it was discovered that one doesn't need an FM set to receive KWAX... all one needs is a television set.

It all started during the Friday night request time show on KWAX. The phone rang, and engineer Ken Whittle answered expecting another request. The person on the other end of the line questioned Whittle about what music he was playing, and then, after a pause said... "That's funny, I'm picking you up on channel 6."

A check was made with E. A. Kretsinger, KWAX chief engineer, as to whether this was possible. And it was. Kretsinger said, "KWAX's FM frequency is very near the sound frequency allocated to Channel 6, and people with variable tuners could possibly get the station."

KWAX program director Ed Ragozzino avowed that this new information would not alter the KWAX programming much. "We'll keep on sending out our same audio programs," Ragozzino said, "And most of our visual presentation will look much like a snow storm."

For people who are not lucky enough to own a television set, KWAX will continue to operate on its 88.1 megacycle frequency on the FM band.

Throughout the nineteenth century the British bought more goods from foreigners than they sold. Income from investments abroad was the main credit item that offset Britain's deficit of exports, for Britain was investment banker to the world.

Who, Me a Snob?

Why the last thing in the world you could call me is a snob—I despise snobs!

That's just the trouble, Mister, a lot of people are snobs and don't know it!

Not me—I'm a good American. Why, my people...

See what I mean—never mind your people. It's you we're talking about.

I don't get it!

Okay, what kind of day did you have? Bawl out any waiters? Give any dirty looks? And when you got on to politics at lunch did you start picking any race apart—make a few cracks about someone's religion? You see, that's where the trouble starts.

Well, I—uh...

Look, Mister, nobody is saying that you mean to be intolerant—but every time you make a crack like that you are hurting your country's unity.

I never thought of that. Say—who are you anyway?

Your conscience.

Accept or reject people on their individual worth
