 they want to be."
 Jack Roche, assistant coach, thought the Beavers would be capable of bouncing back after being bounced around by UCLA, 57-0 and Idaho 27-6. "If we make a maximum effort, we'll beat Oregon State. Otherwise it will be touch and go."

More intent on the previous game, backfield boss John McKay praised Barney Holland for "a terrific job of quarterbacking—both in his choice of plays and his passing." About OSC he said, "We should win—but remember the score of the OSC-Michigan State game?"

The Beavers were an altogether different ball club that day. They held the Spartans to a 17-14 win.

Drummond Gives SU Speeches

 that the press supported Thomas Dewey in 1948, but it is also true that Truman's majority could have been greater with press support," the correspondent said.

Drummond also advocated shortening of the pre-election campaign. He felt that the conventions should be held the first two weeks of September with the campaigns beginning immediately.

 "I don't feel that the election itself will lead to any great change in foreign policy. Future events will cause the changes, not the administration."

He added that under Eisenhower foreign policy will continue in the light of the United States as the leader of the free world.

HOW THE PROFIT SYSTEM BENEFITS YOU

1. Shortly after the end of World War II we brought out a brand new super gasoline called 7600—a high octane aviation fuel adapted to automobile operating conditions. The performance of 7600 was so superior to anything the average motorist had experienced that it was months before we could supply our stations with enough to satisfy the demand.

4. It didn't take us long to decide on the desirability of increasing our facilities for making 7600—although the program represents an investment of many millions of dollars. For we reasoned that by maintaining the quality of 7600 we would get enough additional business to make a profit out of our investment.

2. Today 7600 is still the top-quality gasoline in the West by a comfortable margin. For its quality has steadily improved from year to year. But in one way 7600 has been a rather embarrassing success—for we haven't always been able to keep pace with the demand for it.

5. This profit incentive is the driving force behind our whole competitive economic system. It has given the American people the best products, in the greatest abundance, at the lowest cost in the world. That's why any attempt to tax away this profit incentive is bound to lower the standard of living of every American.

3. In order to keep up with this demand we were faced with doing one of two things: (1) reduce the quality of 7600 so that we could make more of it, or (2) undertake a program to increase our output of high octane super quality gasoline.
