

Husky-Cougar Encounter To Delay Pacific Coast Rose Bowl Balloting

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP)—The Pacific Coast conference vote to decide the Rose Bowl team is going to be late this year, regardless of who wins the USC-UCLA football tunic. The Trojans and the Bruins clash in their game-of-the-year this Saturday. But the official Rose Bowl vote won't be officially known until December 1st nine days later. That's because Washington and Washington State play their big game at Spokane on November 29th. Neither the Huskies nor the Cougars are in the Rose Bowl running. But the conference does not take its vote until the full conference schedule has been completed.

In the event of a tie ball game between the two undefeated southern rivals, the Trojans and Bruins will remain in suspense for more than a week. In the event of a 4-4 ballot, the deciding vote could be cast by Idaho, which did not play either USC or UCLA this season. USC plays Notre Dame at South Bend on November 29th. But non-conference games do not count in the Rose Bowl balloting.

The Rose Bowl committee says the annual classic will be held after 1954 regardless of any decisions reached by the Pacific Coast conference and the Big Ten. Dr. John Hannah, president of Michigan State, says the Big Ten will not renew its Rose Bowl contract. He adds that presidents in the Pacific Conference share his opinion on dropping post-season football games.

Nevertheless, Lathrop Leishman, chairman of the Rose Bowl committee, says two teams will be found for the annual classic at Pasadena even if the Big Ten and the Pacific Conference withdraw.

The results of their games were as follows: WWCE I, one win and two losses; WWCE II, 0-3; OSC II, 3-0; OSC I, 2-3; UO I, 1-3 and UO II, 1-2.

Ducks Hold Light Drill; Novikoff Tops Rushers

Bolstered no end by Saturday's upset over Stanford, the University of Oregon Webfoots were immune to the frigid weather Tuesday afternoon, as they ripped through a snappy, no-contact offensive drill on the practice turf.

Quarterbacks Barney Holland, Hal Dunham and George Shaw looked as if they were ready to "bring on Oregon State." The trio targeted Ends Ron Lyman and Monte Brethauer and Fullback Ted Anderson for the long gainers. Anderson and Tom Novikoff, fullback, ran the ends and the middle with equal success.

Simmons Only Injury

Tackle Hal Simmons still is nursing a leg injury and may not see action against Oregon State Saturday afternoon in Portland. But as for the remainder of the squad, it is in as good a shape as it has been since the opener against UCLA.

Statistics released Tuesday by the Athletic News bureau show

Novikoff as the leading Duck rusher—and by a big margin. Novikoff, in 112 carries, has racked up 417 yards net. His nearest rival is his understudy, Sophomore Dean Van Lueven, who has 165 yards in 24 tries. Cece Hodges, who scored the winning touchdown against the Indians in Palo Alto, is third with 109 yards.

Monte Brethauer, still the leading pass catcher in the nation, has a record of 37 snatches for the season, good for 419 yards and two touchdowns. Brethauer caught seven passes against Stanford but four of them were nullified because of penalties. He now trails the career record of Bill McColl (106) by nine and the seasonal mark, set by Ed Barker (46).

In the pass throwing department Shaw leads all comers with 116 tosses and 55 completions for 666 yards and a .474 average. Dunham follows with 498 yards and Holland is third, with 216 yards.

Shaw, Novikoff and Brethauer are deadlocked in the scoring race with two touchdowns apiece for 12 points.

DU's, Tau Deltas, Kappa Sigs Win In Volleyball

In Tuesday's volleyball battles, Delta Upsilon turned on the steam to crush Beta Theta Pi, 15-12 and 19-9.

In other games, Phi Delta Theta won via a forfeit over Pi Kappa Phi; Gamma hall forfeited to Alpha hall; Phi Sigma Kappa stopped Phi Kappa Sigma, 15-11, 15-5; Delta Tau Delta blasted Chi Psi, 15-7, 15-9; and Kappa Sigma bested Sigma Phi Epsilon, 15-8, 8-15 and 15-3.

Van Dijk Big Wheel

The Du's combined the all around play of Pete Van Dijk and its good teamwork to edge the Beta's in the first contest after the game had been knotted eight times.

After trailing the Beta's 5-0 in the second game the DU's rallied to score nine points and win the match easily.

Harlan Mickey played exceptionally well for the losing Beta's.

Retraction

In Monday's Pi Kappa Alpha-Phi Sigma Kappa game, Phi Sigma Kappa won by forfeit, NOT Pi Kappa Alpha as reported in the Emerald.

Phi Sigma Kappa with three starters and Phi Kappa Sigma with four, battled on even terms during the early part of the first game. However, with the arrival of its fourth man, the Phi Sigs teamwork proved superior and they dominated play throughout both games.

Deltas Slap Chi Psi

Delta Tau Delta, a well organized team, took advantage of the fact that Chi Psi played only five men instead of the regulation six to win the first game. The score was never close. Chi Psi appeared must stronger in the second game. They held an early 3-0 lead, but with their team now at full strength they still fell short.

Kappa Sigma led throughout the entire first game, with a 9-6 score being the closest Sigma Phi Epsilon could get. This situation was reserved in the second game when the Sig Ep team made the first point and was never headed.

In the third and deciding game of the series, Kappa Sigma recovered, and with the aid of good team coordination gained a decisive victory, 15-3.
