Christian House

Sunday morning's Christian house activities will begin with the 9:15 doughnut hour and two Bible study classes which follow at 9:45. At 5:30 the evening program, featuring the second in a series on "What Do I Believe About God?" discussions, will be taught by Rev. Donald Helseth, pastor of Corvallis' Christian church.

During the evening session the new worship center, presented to Christian house students by the adult committee, will be dedicated. It was presented during a reception honoring Victor P. Morris on his birthday.

A talent show, "Hobo's Holiday," to be presented in the Condon grade school auditorium at 8 p.m. Jan. 23, is the next project.

Jan. 13 an all-day meeting of the Regional Disciples Student Fellowship Conference committee will be held at Christian house. The meeting, to be headed by President Alvin Busby, will be attended by representatives from Oregon and Washington.

Deseret Club

First social event of the term for members of Deseret Club will be Jan. 14 at the home of W. D. Richards. Members and friends attending the party are to meet on the Student Union steps at 6:30 p.m., transportation will be provided.

AWS Cabinet Posts Open to Petitioners

Petitions have been called for AWS cabinet officers, according to Elaine Hartung, AWS vice president. Deadline for filing petitions is Jan. 28. They should be turned in to the AWS office on the third floor of the SU or to Elaine Hartung.

Freshmen women may petition for sergeant at arms and reporter. Positions open to sophomores include secretary and treasurer. Junior women may petition for president.

Women's elections will be held Feb. 25 and all new officers will take office spring term.

Canterbury Club

Discussing the topic "The Three Branches of the Catholic Church," Canterbury club will begin its 1953 program at St. Mary's Episcopal church. Beginning at 5:30, the evening program will consist of a supper and discussion period.

A regular event for Episcopal students is the weekly celebration of Holy Communion, held Wednesday mornings at 7 in Gerlinger.

Wesley Foundation

Methodist students begin their social events with a "Tip-off" party Friday night after the game. Friends and members of Wesley Foundation are invited to the party, which will be held at Wesley house.

Sunday morning the basic beliefs of Methodism will be discussed in a "Festival of Faith," at the 1st Methodist church Koinonia class at 9:45. The 11 a.m. service will continue the same discussion.

Sunday evening firesides will feature movies on the "Life of Paul." Jan. 11 there will be a movie on "Stephen, the First Christian Martyr," which will be discussed afterwards by students.

Plymouth Club

Congregational students will discuss chapters nine and ten of the book of Mark at their Sunday evening meeting. Faculty guest of the evening will be Charles Schleicher who will talk informally on "This I Believe." Interested students are urged to attend this session, which will begin at 6:15.

Applications Due For Graduate Test

Applications for the Jan. 30-31 graduate record examinations must have their applications in by Jan. 16. The examinations are required for admissions to certain graduate schools. Students planning to take the exams should check to see if the test is required for admission to the school in which they are interested.

Fees will amount to from $8 to $12, depending upon the number of sessions attended. Friday afternoon a profile test will be given, Saturday morning an aptitude test, and Saturday afternoon, advanced tests. For the latter examination a student may choose from one of the following: biology, chemistry, economics, education, engineering, French, geology, German, government, history, literature, mathematics, philosophy, physics, psychology, sociology and Spanish.

Application blanks for the exams may be obtained at the counseling center in Emerald hall.

Scores on the tests will be used to supplement other available criteria to determine the fitness of a student for graduate study. Scores will be sent free to three schools; a charge of $1 is made for each additional report.

Informal Rushing Slated for Women

No formal rushing for women will be held winter term according to Nancy Gloege, new president of Panhellenic.

Informal rush will take place later in the month, but no special time will be set aside for this. Specific plans for the extent of the rushing and rules governing it will be decided Thursday at a meeting of Panhellenic. Only those houses who have not filled their quotas will participate in rush activities. Miss Gloege became president of Panhellenic when Jean Webb, fall term president, left school this term.

Y's to Continue Hospitality Plan

The "home hospitality" program sponsored by the YMCA and YWCA for foreign students over the Christmas holidays is continuing, Russell Walker, executive secretary of the YM has announced.

The program, as originally planned, was set up to place foreign students in Eugene homes for Christmas dinner. Under the program, about 16 students were placed with Eugene families directly by the Y's and several others were contacted through the Y by the families themselves, Walker said.

The program was so successful that more Eugene families called in for student guests than were available. Families who did not entertain a student were asked to call back after Jan. 1, and they would be given a chance to entertain a student during a weekend or holiday, Walker stated. He said that so far this term several families have taken advantage of this plan.

Other foreign student activity under the direction of the YM and YW was finding holiday jobs for students, arranging a tour of the state capitol at Salem for a small group and greeting some of the new foreign students arriving for winter term.

Campus Briefs

Orides will hold an open meeting Monday night at 7, in Gerlinger hall.

Students who are interested in starting a photo club are asked to register their interest at the YMCA office in the Student Union, Russell Walker, executive secretary, has announced. If enough students show interest in forming a club, the YM might sponsor such a group, Walker said.

Positions Still Open For YW Heart Hop

Petitions for chairmanships of the Heart Hop, annual winter term dance sponsored by the YWCA, are due Monday. They may be turned in to Norma Hamilton or Mary Wilson.

Open chairmanships include general chairman, decorations, coronation, publicity, refreshments, tickets, promotion and voting.

Final Performance Set For Amphibian Show

The final performance of the "Blue Dolphin," an aquacade, will be given in the men's pool tonight at 8 p.m. The show is staged by the UO Amphibian club and is open to the public.

Music Teaching Conference Set

The University of Oregon school of music will host the third annual Conference on Music Education Jan. 16 and 17.

Elementary and high school music teachers from all over the state will attend the two-day session, which is to include music clinics, exhibits and demonstrations. A banquet featuring William Jones, University dean of administration, as guest speaker will be held Friday night in the Student Union.

A concert, which will be open to the public without charge, will be presented at 8 p.m. Jan. 16 by the University symphony and band.

KWAX to Feature Lectures of Castell

"Window in the Ivory Tower," a 13-week series of informal talks by Alburey Castell, head of the department of philosophy, will begin Monday at 7 p.m. over station KWAX.

This series was recently taped for distribution to about 70 U. S. stations under the direction of D. Glenn Starlin, assistant professor of speech and director of radio activities.

Scheduled for the broadcasts are such topics as "Conversation Between Myself Aged 21 and Myself Aged 40," and "The Moralist Looks at Marriage."
