MEADOWS' DERBY

LaSalle Nation's Top Quintet; Huskies Rated Seventh in Survey

By Martin Meadows

With almost half of the college basketball season gone, only three major teams—Seton Hall, Fordham, and Wayne—remain in the unbeaten category.

However, in this writer's opinion, the top outfit in the country is a once-beaten squad, LaSalle of Philadelphia. The Explorers advanced from fourth to first, replacing Oklahoma A&M, on the strength of victories last week over Loyola (Baltimore), 89-47, and Muhlenberg, 97-77, running their record to an impressive 13-1.

Undefeated Seton Hall continued in the runner-up position by extending its string of triumphs to 14 without a loss. In their only game last week, the Pirates downed Scranton by a 64-57 margin.

Illinois, top-ranked of the Big Ten teams, follows closely with a 7-1 slate. The Illini roled over Purdue, 87-71, and bounced Wisconsin, 71-61, to maintain their grasp on the third spot.

Pack Fourth

North Carolina State moved up a notch to fourth by posting two more wins. The Wolfpack hit 105 points for the second time this season as they crushed Davidson, 105-71, and then swung over to Duke, where they chalked up a handy 82-64 decision to give them a 14-2 record.

In fifth place are the Kansas State Wildcats (8-1), who climbed from sixth by whipping Marquette, 88-72.

Right behind is Fordham, which posted its 10th and 11th victories without a setback. The surprising Rams rolled on by walloping Brooklyn College, 81-56, and then subdued brash St. Peter's by a 77-75 margin. One of the top games of the week takes place tonight, when Fordham plays host to Seton Hall in a contest which will further reduce the number of unbeaten aggregations in the nation.

Washington's Huskies, the almost-certain Northern Division champions, rest in the number seven slot with a win-loss record of 11-1. The Houbregs-led Huskies mangled Idaho twice, 76-64 and 82-58, to rise from eighth.

Hilltoppers Move Up

Western Kentucky (11-2) boosted itself to eighth with two wins. The Hilltoppers brushed past Cincinnati by an 84-76 count and then knocked off strong Murray, 62-57, to stay ahead of improving Notre Dame. The Irish edged two tough squads last week on an Eastern trip. After squeezing past Holy Cross, 73-71, they were forced into overtime to hand NYU a 78-77 loss.

Rounding out the top ten are Aggies of Oklahoma A&M. Hank Iba's crew skidded all the way from the number one position as a result of a 65-53 upset at the hands of Kansas.

Other Coast teams in the first hundred include USC 16th, Seattle 25th, California 48th, UCLA 40th, Idaho 45th, Oregon 76th, and Santa Clara 92nd.
