

Volunteers Needed In Listening Room To Extend Hours

Volunteers to help staff the Student Union Peter Bensen Howard music listening room have been called for by Donna Buse, SU program director.

Any student who enjoys listening to music and who has an hour or more free time per week is eligible according to Miss Buse. However, students who participate in the program will have to do so on a volunteer basis, as no funds are available to staff in this area.

Students working in this capacity will be expected to remain in the room during the time for which they sign up and to play music as requested. They will be given preliminary instruction in operation of the record machine.

It is hoped that enough students will volunteer so that the number of hours which the room is kept open may be greatly extended.

Anyone who is interested should contact Miss Buse in SU 301.

Speakers Prepare For Discussions on Forthcoming Tour

Brochures for the University symposium program were sent out this week and speaking engagements for the group will be made as soon as the pamphlets return to the speech department, Herman Cohen, director of forensics, announced.

The group annually tours the state speaking before service clubs, unions, high schools, granges and other affiliated groups.

The students are now doing preparatory work on the two questions selected for national collegiate discussion—a fair employment practices commission on the federal level and the Communist menace in the United States.

Cohen predicted approximately 50 engagements for the group of 15 speakers, basing his prediction on the activity of the group during past years.

The University speakers will also attend the annual Portland town meeting scheduled for Feb. 24 and 25. The competitive inter-collegiate discussion will be attended by schools from all over Oregon and Washington. The topic for the discussion is "What should be the bounds of the federal government?"

KERG To Present 'Tribute to Pierre'

"Tribute to Pierre," a fifteen-minute radio program dedicated to former exchange student Pierre Pasquio, will be presented tonight on Paul Ryman's "Music For Everyone" show over KERG at 10:30 p.m. The show was first presented last year at this time when news came of Pasquio's death in an automobile accident in Paris.

Narrated by Bob Chambers, Jim Blue and Dick Hardie, the program includes songs recorded by Pasquio during the 1950-51 school year. Some of the songs he sings are "Figalle," "I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby," "La Valse Tennessee," and "Autumn Leaves."

Noe, Wegner Second Hooks In ND Scoring

While Bob Houbregs of the University of Washington continues to make a runaway of the Northern division's individual scoring race, two Oregon Webfoots—Chet Noe and Kenny Wegner—strengthened their bids for runner-up honors.

Hook shot artist Houbregs, with 176 points in six games, has the to paverage in the league—29.3 per outing. Oregon's Noe has 104 scores to his credit and Wegner, with 90, is well out in front of Washington's Joe Cipriano and Barney Holland of the Ducks, both with 71. Ed Helberg, Webfoot forward, rounds out the big six with 65 points.

Following are the unofficial top 20, including Saturday's games:

Anderson Waxes Hot As Ducklings Win Two

PORTLAND—Center Max Anderson of the University of Oregon Frosh went on a scoring spree here last week-end as his mates took the measure of the Portland Pilot Jayvees, 92-73, and the Portland Outdoor Store, 74-52.

Anderson collected 22 points in the Friday encounter with the little Pilots and totaled up 37 for the series with a 15-point performance the following night.

The Ducklings resume hostilities with the Oregon State Rooks Friday in a preliminary to the USF game in Mac court, and travel to Portland for another match with the Pilot Jayvees Saturday.
