

A SPOUSE FOR DAD'S DAY

Gamiles Calls for Hostess Pictures

Pictures of Dad's Day hostess candidates have been called for by John Gamiles, Dad's Day general chairman. Deadline for submitting the pictures, which constitute submitting candidacy, is 5 p.m. Jan. 30.

Wives of University students, or married University women are eligible for competition, Gamiles said. The photographs should be turned into Student Union 303 (special events room), or to Don Almy, Druids president, at Theta Chi.

Gamiles urged all University wives, husbands, or relatives to submit pictures.

Name and address of the entrant should be written on the back of the picture, Gamiles said, and the photographs should be placed in envelopes or folders.

Three finalists will be selected from the photographs submitted, and the hostess will be named by student vote. She will be presented at the Dad's Day luncheon, with the other two finalists, and will present trophies at half-time ceremonies at the Idaho basketball game Feb. 7.

Barnett Studies Island Peoples

Homer G. Barnett, professor of anthropology, on leave from the University for the past eighteen months, has been working for the U. S. government as staff anthropologist of the trust territory of the Pacific.

Professor Barnett's work was among the Micronesian people, whom he studied to see their reaction to new ways of living. His interest in these people started in 1947 when he went to Palau islands to study the natives and their language.

Barnett is now writing a book on the administration of anthropology in similar situations. He remains a consultant of the trust territory staff.

This trust territory includes the Marshall islands, Caroline islands and the northern Mariannas. It was presented as a trusteeship administration to the United States by the United Nations organization following World War II.

eon will go on sale Monday at the Student Union main desk. Charge is $1.25 per plate.

Gamiles said students planning to have their fathers down for the weekend should write personal letters and purchase their luncheon tickets. In addition, the open letter to be printed in the Emerald should be cut out and mailed, he stated.

Conference in Hawaii To Draw UO Delegates

ASUO President Pat Dignan is looking for one or more students who would like to represent the University at a conference in Hawaii in April.

But for one thing Dignan thinks he would have no trouble finding all the representatives he needs. The problem: delegates will have to take care of their own travel expenses.

The conference, sponsored by the University of Hawaii, is being promoted to further good will among nations of the Pacific Ocean area, according to information Dignan received from its general chairman. Living expenses of delegates would be taken care of by individual members of the University of Hawaii, he said.

Invitations have also been sent to universities in Australia, Canada, Chile, Nationalist China, Indonesia, Japan, Mexico, New Zealand, Peru, the Philippines, the Ryukyu islands, Thailand and others in the United States.

Dignan hopes to bring the matter up in ASUO senate this Thursday. Interested persons should contact him before that time, he said.

New Blood Drive Starts Next Week

The Red Cross bloodmobile will be in downtown Eugene to collect blood for wounded soldiers in Korea. Students and faculty can make appointments now by calling the Red Cross office, 4-5244. According to Mrs. J. H. Jackson, chairman of Eugene blood drive, 140 donors are needed.

Those students who signed up during the drive in October, and who have not been contacted recently, are asked to re-declare their intent to donate. The quota this month has been set at 375 appointments, 235 of which have already been filled.

Vacancies occur primarily between noon and 3:30 p.m. on Thursday, Mrs. Jackson said. Persons who can fill these appointments are urged to contact the Red Cross office, as soon as possible. The bloodmobile will be located at 16th and Willamette.

Names of DU Pledges Added to Complete List

The Delta Upsilon pledge list was omitted in the Emerald Tuesday. Pledging DU during formal rush week were Bruce Blackledge, Bill Evans, James Massey, Homer Speer and James White.

CAMPUS BRIEFS

● Chairmanships for the annual Phi Theta Upsilon "Mystie" sale are still open to petitioners. Still open to freshmen women are general chairman, publicity, promotion, distribution, booth sales, house sales, collections and decorations.
