French, Campbell Club Post Mural Victories

French Hall bested Merrick Hall, 42 to 35; Nestor Hall triumphed over Sherry Ross, 31 to 18; and Campbell Club swamped the Yeomen, 52 to 11 in "A" basketball action Wednesday.

Paced by Loyd Lewis and Jerry Ross, French Hall got the jump on Merrick and was ahead 23 to 13 at the half. Merrick fought valiantly in the third quarter and clipped the French lead to five points.

Nestor Hall Grabs Tilt from Sherries

Nestor Hall combined their backboard power and the poor free throw shooting of Sherry Ross to coast to a 31 to 18 victory over the Sherry Ross five.

Rebounding, Ball Handling Top Duck Practice Session

Vandals Hold Edge in Height

By Rick Tarr Emerald Sportswriter

Coach Bill Borchner put the Duck cagers through a varied list of drills Wednesday in an attempt to polish up rough spots before taking on the Idaho Vandals this weekend.

ND Standings

Table with 2 columns: Team, Record. Washington 8-0 1,000. OREGON 4-4 .500. Idaho 5-5 .500. Oregon State 4-6 .400. Washington State 1-7 .125.

A rebound drill was at the top of the list as the tall Idaho team usually takes control in this department. Individual defensive assignments were worked on as well as getting the ball down court against a full court press. The OSC press gave Oregon plenty of trouble last weekend.

When the ball handling got a little sloppy, Borchner ruefully recalled the series split with Idaho four weeks ago in Moscow. "Hawes to Falash; Wegner to Falash; Holland to Falash; I can still remember that!" Borchner was referring to the many times the ball was stolen by Idaho's six-foot junior guard, Bob Falash.

Idaho Coach Chuck Finley will bring a sharpshooting pair of guards to McArthur court in Tom Flynn, 6'2", and Bruce McIntosh, 6'3". Flynn was out with a bad ankle suffered in pre-season play when the Webfoots invaded Moscow but is back in the lineup now.

At the forward spots will be Dwight Morrison the 6'8" junior and Bill Mather, 6'2" veteran. Morrison teams up with center Hartley Kruger, the other six-foot-eight man in the lineup, to make life difficult for the opposition rebounders. Bill Mather accounts for quite a few despite being "shorty."

The injured Barney Holla hasn't worked out this week and is probably lost to the Oregon cause. Bob Hawes will be called upon to fill in and previous performances show the position to be in capable hands.

Indian Pitcher Signs Contract; Cut Reported

CLEVELAND (AP)—One of baseball's highest paid pitchers, Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians signed his contract today for a reported $10,000 cut.

It's believed Feller's latest contract calls for about $40,000. O's teammate Bob Lemon and 19 members of the New York Yankees, Vic Raschi and Allie Reynolds are known to be near that figure. Other than pitchers, only Ralph Kiner of the Pirates and Stan Musial of the Cardinals, make more money.

It was Feller's 15th contract with the Tribe. The 34-year-old former strikeout king won nine games last year while losing 13. In a major league career that has embraced 14 seasons, Feller won 233 games.

The Indians would not discuss what Feller's salary will be, but a source close to the club said that he did not get the full 25 per cent but allowed under major league law. He got around $50,000 last year after winning 22 games the previous season.

Jorge Quits as Head Football Mentor at College of Pacific

Football Coach Ernie Jorge has quit at College of the Pacific. He apparently has a new job lined up. An announcement is expected this evening or tomorrow. Jorge's resignation at Pacific was sudden and not at all expected.

College President Robert Burns had a 3-year contract ready for Jorge to sign. He's the only coach in Pacific's football history who has been offered more than a one-year agreement.

Rumor has it that Jorge will take a position with a professional team . . . as assistant coach of the Chicago Cardinals or Washington Redskins. So far, this is speculation, nothing definite.

Graduate Manager Jerald Kirsten says Pacific is very sorry to see Jorge leave. He moved up from line coach to head coach in 1951. This past season the Tigers from Stockton won 7 games, tied one and lost 3. Then they beat Mississippi Southern in the Sun Bowl.

Graduate Manager Kirsten, incidentally, makes clear that Pacific's football policy won't be changed by the resignation of Jorge. Pacific will continue football. It's big job now is to find another high-caliber coach.

SOCE Cancels OTI; No Wonder

Officials of Southern Oregon College of Education have decided it was a mistake to schedule Oregon Tech. And Southern Oregon has cancelled the second half of a 2-year, home and home contract. The reason is Oregon Tech won by a score of 89 to 0 last season. Southern Oregon admits it was a mismatch.

Nobody will disagree with that observation.

New York Leaves Browns off Slate Of Night Contests

NEW YORK (AP)—The St. Louis Browns will not play any arc-light games at Yankee Stadium this season. The New York Yankees announced their 1953 home schedule today. It included a 14 game night schedule without the Browns. None of the Browns' eleven afternoon games in New York will be televised.

The Yankees said their action was not a retaliatory measure against the Browns. They explained that their commitments with television sponsors call for at least 14 night games.

Owner Bill Veeck of the Browns has insisted on a share of television receipts when his club is on the road. The St. Louis Cardinals are following much the same line although they have reached agreements with the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds.

To make up for the absence of the Browns on the night schedule, the Yankees have added an extra game with the Boston Red Sox and one with the Cleveland Indians.
