

Ducks Set to Meet Vandals Tonight

Tilt Will Decide ND 2nd Place

Second place in the Northern division basketball race is at stake tonight and Saturday when the University of Oregon Webfoots and the University of Idaho Vandals clash in a pair of games in McArthur Court. Tip-off for both tilts—8 p.m. Last year Coach Chuck Finley's crew split four tilts with Bill Borchers' Ducks, but the visitors finished the season in second place with a 9-7 record, a game ahead of Oregon. As of now both teams are deadlocked with .500 marks, Oregon with four wins, four losses and Idaho, five victories and five setbacks.

The rangy visitors boast the tallest club in the league with a starting lineup averaging over six-foot, four inches. Hartly Kruger, six-foot, seven-inch center from Spokane, Wash. is one of the highest scorers in the division with an average of over 17 points per game.

Other Vandal starters are Dwight Morrison, six-foot, eight-inch forward from Walla Walla, Wash.; Bill Mather, six-foot, two-inch forward from Spokane, Wash.; Tom Flynn, six-foot, two-inch guard from Lewiston, Ida.; and Bruce McIntosh, six-foot three-inch guard, also from Lewiston.

Borchers will use his regular lineup of Ed Halberg, Keith Farnam, Chet Noe and Kenny Wegner, except that Bob Hawes will start in place of Barney Holland, who may see limited action.

The Duck frosh will host the Oregon State rooks in the preliminary, starting at 5:45 tonight.

Fun Fest To Include Talks, Eats

A buffet dinner of Chinese and American food, a coffee hour and an international mixer will highlight the eighth annual International Fun Fest Saturday.

The event, which is sponsored by the YMCA and YWCA, will begin at 1 p.m. with registration in Gerlinger hall. All events have been placed for Gerlinger. A registration fee of 25 cents is being charged those attending.

According to Ted Goh, general chairman, the event will give students a chance to meet foreign students both from the Oregon campus and from other colleges in the state. This year, for the first time, American talent is being included in the program.

The afternoon coffee hour will start at 3 p.m. The program as announced by Leo Osburn will feature Ed Kenny, tenor; Juan de Montenegro, pianist, and the "Uncalled-Four" a male quartet made up of Emil Smith, Don Wilson, Jim Tan and Ray Walker.

The dinner will be served at 5 p.m. on the sunporch of Gerlinger. Dinner tickets will cost $1.20 for Americans. Oregon foreign students will be asked to pay 60 cents.

Following dinner a forum on "Student Life the World Over" will be held with Luitpold Wallach, assistant professor of history, as moderator. Seven foreign students will comprise the panel for discussion.

Those attending the "fest" will see the Oregon-Idaho basketball game at 8 p.m. The International mixer, featuring dances of other countries, will start at 10 p.m. on the third floor of Gerlinger.

Ready For Dad's Visit

Checking dates and the schedule of events for the coming weekend are members of the Dad's Day general committee. Carol Lee Tate, Don Almy, general chairman John Gamiles, Norma Hultgren and Joan Cartozian are shown looking over the shoulders of Ward Cook and Jim Light.

Houses Vie to Welcome Dad

Sign Judging to Open Dad's Day

Judging of house signs at 4:45 p.m. today will officially open Dad's Day weekend, according to John Gamiles, general chairman.

Governor Paul Patterson and H. K. Newburn, University president, will be guest speakers at the Dad's luncheon to be held in the SU ballroom Saturday at 12 noon. Tickets for the luncheon will still be on sale Saturday at the main desk of the SU, said Gamiles. The luncheon program will be broadcast over radio station KOAC and over a special wire to the SU fishbowl for those who are unable to get tickets.

Mrs. Sally Webb, Dad's Day hostess, and the other two finalists, Mrs. Eunice Early and Mrs. Nancy Green, will be presented at the luncheon. Corsages for the hostesses will be furnished by Flowers Unlimited. Doors to the ballroom will open at 11:40 a.m.

General admission tickets will admit visiting fathers to the basketball games both Friday and Saturday. Reserve seat tickets at $1.80 are on sale at McArthur court.

Air ROTC To Drill

The first Air Force ROTC drill team will serve as color guard for the presentation of the colors at the basketball game tonight in Mac court.

The drill team is also scheduled to have a preliminary match with the team from Willamette university at Salem Tuesday evening. This match will be in preparation for final matches to be held before the first of March with teams from Willamette, Oregon State and the University of Portland.

The drill team is under the supervision of Air Force Maj. Nicholas Mihailov, and directed by cadet Lt. Col. A. L. Smith, assisted by cadet Lt. Col. J. L. Beyers, cadet Maj. R. D. Heffernan, cadet Capt. W. O. Paulus and cadet Capt. J. E. Markham.

The 26 men who make up the first drill team have been chosen from a total of 50 basic cadets and 15 advanced officers. The second team comprises the nucleus for next year's first team.

TRAVIS CROSS

Who Runs the UO?

Travis Cross, director of the division of information, was appointed to his present position in June of 1950. Before that time he was director of information and alumni affairs at Willamette university in Salem.

Cross graduated from Stanford university with a bachelor of arts after serving two years in the Navy.

As director of the division of information, Cross is responsible for public information of the state system of higher education. His office handles all inter-institutional publications and assists the smaller institutions which have no information services.

All information given out in regard to the state board and the chancellors office comes through Cross' office.

The office of the division of information is located in Johnson hall.

Browsing Room Hears Riegger

Wallingford Riegger, American composer, played several of his original recordings to a capacity browsing room audience Thursday night.

One of Riegger's presentations was a cantata entitled "In Certainty of Song." He passed around mimeographed copies of the work, so that the audience could follow the lyrics more closely.

In response to a request from the audience, Riegger played a brief section on the piano from one of his modern dance pieces. The composer denied that his works, which range from the conventional to the revolutionary, betray a Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde personality. "The dissonant and the harmonious both 'come naturally' to me," he said.

What Do You Think ... of Student Government?

Jim Case, sophomore in music, said:
 "It should be run according to the constitution, which was not followed very closely last year. I did not approve of the freshman election council which said it wasn't a political party but was set up as one and operated as one."
