Co-ed Groups Plan Campus Briefs UO Women's Day

This year, for the first time, three major events sponsored by large campus women's organizations are being held on the same day and united into a common activity.

Entitled "Women's Day," the projects will take place Friday. It is the work of a small nucleus of women who hold

Who are the "somebodies" who give blood? All kinds of peopleveterans, businessmen, farmers, clerks-everybody! And why do they give blood? A refugee who lived through the bombing of Berlin knows "it could happen here." A graying mother who never forgets the day her daughter's party dress caught fire remembers "there just wasn't enough blood in our local blood bank to save her." An anxious father who is expecting a long overdue letter from his boy in Korea feels "he might need it."

Yes, all kinds of people give blood for all kinds of reasons. But whoever gives it—for whatever reason—this they can be sure of: As long as the priceless, painless gift of blood may mean the difference between life and death for any American anywhere . . . including you and me . . . the need for your blood is urgent!
