

Calcutta Prof To Discuss Art

Niharranjan Ray, chairman of the department of art and culture at the University of Calcutta, India, will lecture on "Contemporary Indian Art: Painting and Sculpture," Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Dads' lounge. The lecture is sponsored by the University lecture committee, in conjunction with the Festival of Contemporary Arts.

Currently a visiting professor at Washington university in St. Louis, Mo., Ray came to the United States last year under a State Department exchange fellowship. He has travelled in Asia, Africa and Europe, and has represented India at several international academic, cultural and political conferences.

While on campus, Ray will speak to University classes in Far Eastern studies, economics and religion.

Forensic Pictures To Be Taken Today

All members of forensics will have their Oregon group pictures taken at the Student Union at 12:45 p.m. today, Bob Ford, Oregon photography editor, announced.

Included in the picture are all debate and symposium students and Herman Cohen, instructor in speech and director of forensics, and Bob Kully, debate coach.

Forensics Panel Attends Meet

Speakers from the University are attending the fifth annual Northwest inter-collegiate town meeting tournament at Portland State college today and Wednesday. Panel discussions on the question, "What Should Be the Bounds of the Federal Government?" will be presented before civic groups and high school and college classes and assemblies in the Portland area.

Trophies will be awarded to speakers ranking first, second, and third in the competitive discussion. A sweepstakes trophy will go to the school with the highest average placement of speakers. Student moderators will also be judged and a trophy awarded to the first place winner.

The University group will compete with speakers from colleges in Oregon and Washington.

Eight Men Enter Telephone Billiards

Eight U of O men will enter the Telephonic Billiards Tournament to be held the first two weeks of March. On March 5, Hank Tilly, Ken Ostby, Milt Kotomirodo and Jim Oram will be Oregon's team in the Pocket billiards competition.

In Straight Rail Billiards, on March 12, Don Hannu, George Troeh, Steve Cannon and alternate Andy Miller will compete.

Oregon Comes Close Twice--Drops Both

Washington Wins, 86-72

SEATTLE, Wash.—Unwilling to discard Friday's script, the University of Washington Huskies struggled through three quarters of a Northern division basketball game with the University of Oregon Ducks Saturday night, then broke loose in the final ten minutes for an 86-72 victory.

The Huskies, crowned division champions the previous night, again had their hands full, with Webfoot center Chet Noe netting 25 points. Chesty Chester effectively tossed another blanket over the darling of Husky cagedom, Bob Houbregs, who was held to 17 points, third low for the year.

Oregon jumped to the fore in the opening quarter and built up a 12-6 lead, but the Huskies had pulled into a four-point, 22-18 edge by the close of the stanza. Noe again startled the close to 12,000 in attendance with a spectacular show in the second period, banking and hooking shots with abandon, as the Webfoots pried open a 30-27 lead. Washington rallied and led, 42-38 at halftime.

Huskies Tip Ducks Again

SEATTLE, Wash.—"As Noe goes, so go the Ducks."

This was never more evident than Friday night in Edmundson Pavilion when Oregon's Webfoots bowed out of the running for the Northern division championship in losing to the newly-crowned Washington Huskies, 84-67.

For three quarters, with Chet Noe in the game to bombard the hoop with baskets and keep the Huskies' Bob Houbregs from doing the same, the visitors from the Willamette valley fought on an even par with their eventual conquerors.

But, with four minutes gone in the last frame, Noe was tagged with his fifth personal. Washington went from a tight 58-52 edge at the start of the quarter to its final advantage of 17 points.

Phi Delta Theta overcame a 23-18 third quarter deficit to down Sigma Nu 28-27 in the final five seconds of play in an intramural league playoff game Monday afternoon.

Sigma Nu opened the ball game strong, owning a 10-3 first quarter lead and a 17-12 half time lead. In the third quarter the teams matched basket for basket with Sigma Nu holding a five point edge, 23-18. In the final frame the Phi Deltas caught fire and tied the ball game at 25-25 with one minute remaining in play. A fast basket by Sigma Nu and a return two-pointer by the Phi Deltas tied the ball game at 27-27. With but five seconds remaining Bob Wagner sank a foul shot for the win.

SIGMA CHI WINS

French Hall Tumbles Kappa Sig IM Five

Despite a 22-point performance by Doug Talbot, Kappa Sigma fell before French hall, 48-35, in intramural playoff action Monday afternoon. Six-foot, five-inch Ray Bell tossed in 18 counters for the winners.

Kappa Sigma moved to a 4-2 lead on baskets by Tom Novikoff and Talbot, but Bell, who tallied 13 points in the first half, hit twice from the field and added a gifter for a 7-4 French lead. Trailing 15-9 at the end of the quarter, Kappa Sigma narrowed the margin as Bill Bassett scored on a 25-foot set shot, but Bell and Harry Johnson sparked French to a comfortable 27-11 halftime edge.

With Talbot potting 18 second half points, the Kappa Sigs rallied to close the gap to 36-25 at the third quarter stop. However, big Bell and Jerry Ross totaled 12 points between them as French pulled away in the fourth quarter for the win.
