

National 'Y' Councils To Sponsor Projects

The National Council of the YMCA and YWCA is again sponsoring several summer projects for university students in Oregon, the eastern United States and in Europe.

Established to provide students with opportunities to work, study and learn, the projects include students in industry, seminars, leadership training schools and work and study projects.

This summer the council is sponsoring, in Oregon, a students in industry project at Milton-Freewater and a community service project, also at Milton-Freewater. Projects in the East include a leadership training school in New York City, work and study programs in the New England and Middle Atlantic regions, a Washington student citizen seminar in Washington, D.C., and community service and students in industry projects in New York City and Chicago. The council also sponsors projects in California and a European seminar which will be held somewhere in Western Europe, the exact place to be announced later.

In the students in industry projects, students will find work at prevailing wages, live cooperatively and meet in evening seminars. In the European seminar, which will cost about $900, students will

Air ROTC Program Pamphlet Written

A synthesis of the Oregon Air Force ROTC program has been compiled into a pamphlet which will be instituted in 209 colleges and universities next year. Co-authors of the pamphlet are Merle F. Ogle, chief educational consultant to the commanding general at national headquarters, and Maj. David C. Winslow, chairman of the world political geography and related subjects panel at national headquarters, AROTC, Air university.

The pamphlet is divided into four sections: "Former and Present Missions," "The Development of the Generalized Program," "Preparation of Textbooks" and "Impact of the Generalized Program."

The average American newspaper reader spends about 50 minutes a day with his paper.

Chairmanship Petitions Due on Friday

Final deadline for Junior Week-end chairmanship petitions is Friday at 5 p.m., according to Bob Brittain, general chairman.

Positions open are all-campus sing, luncheon, floats, traditions, queen's contest and coronation, terrace dance, junior prom, promotion, publicity, sunlight ser-

UO Concert Band Slates Program

The University concert band will present a pop concert Sunday at 8 p.m. in the Student Union ballroom under the direction of Robert Vagner, associate professor of music.

Among the solo groups to perform will be a trumpet trio composed of Ray Walden, Marshall Pallett and John Kilborn. Vocalists to appear are seniors Janis Evans and Dorothy Anderson, who will sing soprano arias from well-known Puccini operas. Wayne Mercer, marimba soloist, will also be featured with the band in selections from "South Pacific."

This is the third appearance of the concert band this term, and the music performed is designed to appeal to all tastes, said Vagner.

study the religious and political situations in five or six countries and become acquainted with European students.

Students also receive moderate salaries for participating in the community service projects. During the student citizenship seminar in Washington, students will also hold full-time jobs, as well as observing sessions of the house, senate and supreme court.

University students who wish to obtain further information about the projects should contact either the YMCA or YWCA offices, according to Russell Walker, executive secretary of the YM.

On The Air...

KWAX Reporter

By Fronie Bromley
Emerald Reporter

Today's offerings from campus station KWAX will range from descriptions of the Spanish water court over Report from Europe to selections from two contemporary operas, Wozzech and Salome, over Campus Classics.

Directed by John Bree, today's Radio Workshop Drama will feature an original play by John Witherspoon of the College of Puget Sound entitled "Jacob and the Devil's Sword." Featured players are Al Barzman, Jim Blue, Hugh Garrabrant, with supporting players Porter Wood and Gordon Burtner. Sound effects are by Gerry Snow.

People Under Communism, also today, will continue the story of average life in the Soviet with "The Music and the Dream." More about music is offered on the Musician Comments show, with Arthur Hackett, head of the University of Michigan vocal department, telling of "My Favorite Singers and Why."

The cult of Yoga will be Alan Watts' subject for discussion on Way Beyond the West Friday. Lou Ford, in another series of Folk-songs and Footnoes, will introduce worksongs of the world.

Sunday provides listened geared to all tastes as shown by Cry of Warning, which will produce "Confession," illustrating the due process of law in the U. S., and

Allton to Rate 'Barbers'

Donald Allton, assistant professor of music, will act as one of the three judges of the annual Barber Shop Quartet contest, sponsored by the Forest Grove gleemen, in Forest Grove Friday and Saturday.

Petitions may be turned in to Brittain at Sigma Alpha Epsilon, the office of the Student Union program director or SU 303.

Arena Play Opens Tonight in Costume

"She Stoops to Conquer," an 18th century costume play, opens tonight at 8 p.m. in the arena theater in Villard for a 13 performance run.

Oliver Goldsmith's comedy, directed by Mrs. Ottilie Seybolt, will be the first staging of a costume play in the arena theater. Productions in the past have been modern comedies.

Tickets for the fourth University theater production are still available at the theater box office from 1 to 5 p.m.

Song Cycle Set For Festival

Exine Anderson, assistant professor of music, will present the fifth performance in the United States of Paul Hindemith's contemporary song cycle for voice and piano, "Das Marienleben," March 8, as part of the Festival of Contemporary Arts.

The work has been attempted by only a few vocalists, and has been done only four times before, once by Miss Anderson.

"Das Marienleben" is music set to poems by Rilke based on the life of the Virgin Mary. Narrator for the concert will be the Reverend Austin Johnson, head of church music in the Catholic diocese of Oregon.

Modern Views of Society and Man, with Law, "Freedom and Human Action in History." BBC Theater offers the imposing title of "Obrthur, Part III IV."

On Monday Albany Castell, head of the department of philosophy, will lean out of his Window in the Ivory Tower long enough to speak on "Liberty . . . A Post Mortem?" "You're Not Alone," is the subject for Tuesday's Ways of Mankind, with Henry IV being offered by the Rev. Carroll Bernhardt, S.J. of Boston University, on Old Books, Old Friends.

Karl F. Wieszacker, a theoretical physicist at the Max Planck Institute in Germany, will star in the Voices of Europe show, speaking on "Is Europe Still Superior in Science?"

Preregistration: Two Days Left

Advisors will be in their offices today and Friday for conferences with their advisees during the last two days of pre-registration.

Students who have not picked up their registration material may do so at the registrar's office in Emerald hall. After obtaining their advisor's signatures, students are to enroll in courses through school and department offices.

Once these steps are completed, the registration cards must be checked by the office of student affairs and a fee assessment obtained in the registrar's office.

Students who do not desire to pay fees now, students with scholarships and veterans on P. L. 16 or 346 will leave their cards with the registrar's office to be picked up for payment during the week of March 30.

Evans to Be Heard At Music School In Recital Tonight

Janis Evans, senior in music, will present her senior recital Thursday at 8 p.m. in the music school auditorium.

Included in the four part program to be sung by the soprano will be a composition by Milton Dietrich, assistant professor of music, entitled "In Absence."

Miss Evans has sung with the Madrigal Singers and University Singers and has appeared as a soloist with the University Concert band. She also sang the feminine lead in last spring's University theatre production, "The Devil and Daniel Webster." Last summer she was a member of the Portland Civic Light Opera company.

Phi Beta, women's speech, music and dramatics honorary, is sponsoring a reception in Gerlinger hall for Miss Evans following the recital.

SU Currents

Berwick, Price Chosen Delegates To National Student Union Meet

Andy Berwick, personnel committee chairman, and Sandra Price, junior member of the Student Union board, have been selected as delegates to the national conference of student unions in San Francisco, April 14 to 19.

Board Chairman Clyde Fahlman, one of the national executive officers, will also attend the conference.

A report on the perpetuation plan concerning redefining of officer responsibility was accepted. The suggested amendments will be read for the first time at the next board meeting, March 11.

Union Director Dick Williams was granted a request waiving prior rights of University students and the University family to use the recreation area during the week of the state high school basketball tournament, Mar. 17 to 21.

Williams stated that it has been the policy of previous union boards to grant the waiver and that no difficulties have yet arisen from the policy.

The board will sponsor five dances for the high school students during the tournament week. Dancing will be from 9 p.m. to 12 p.m. Tuesday-through Friday to records and from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday. An orchestra will play Saturday night.

Sandra Price, Jane Wiggen, aPT Belmer and Don Zavin were appointed to screen petitions for movie committee chairman.

Memorial union board members from Oregon State college will meet here Saturday for a luncheon-discussion meeting. A tour of the building is being arranged for them by the public relations committee.

Chi Delta Phi Calls Compulsory Meet

A compulsory meeting of Chi Delta Phi, women's literary honorary, will be held tonight at 6:30 in the College Side to approve new members, according to Sue Lichty, president.

Members are asked by Miss Lichty to read manuscripts of the prospective members prior to the meeting.

A short story entitled "Are People Like Horses?" by Pat Pollock, senior in liberal arts, will be read and discussed.

Duck Preview Letters Asked

Students from out of state are particularly urged by Martin Brandenfels and Allison LeRoux, co-chairmen of the invitations committee for Duck Preview, to write personal letters inviting their friends to come to Oregon for the weekend of April 25 and 26.

Individual houses will not be able to issue personal invitations to high school students to stay at the respective houses because of a PCC ruling. According to Miss LeRoux, they will be able to ask the students to request to stay at their living organization.

The invitations committee will issue official invitations to all high school students whose names have been turned in by the houses as interested in attending Duck Preview. These lists will be compiled from answers to the personal letters.

Members of the invitations committee are Cedric Grant, Ann Hopkins, Jill Hutchings, Patty Jeske, Jack Socolfsky, Jean Sandine, Art Weatherford and Marcia Webb.

Films Showing At Chapman

Four movies will be shown in Chapman 207 tonight at 7:30. "Boundary Lines," Phil Stapp's novel cartoon in color on the boundaries in men's minds; "Brotherhood of Man," an animated color cartoon which has been honored at all European and American film festivals; "Living Bodies" and "Joie de Vivre." There will be no admission charge.

Symposium To Address Lions

Members of the University symposium squad will present a discussion on "How the United States can combat the Communist menace" before the Cottage Grove Lions club today.

Hopkins To Talk To Record Fans

George Hopkins, professor of music, will deliver comments and notes on a program of recorded contemporary music, "The Changing Tonal Spectrum," tonight at 7:30 in the Peter Benson Howard listening room of the Student Union.

Included in the program will be music of MacDowell, Varese, Berg, Milhaud and Vaughn Williams. This event is being sponsored by the SU recorded music committee.

ROTC Med Exams To Begin Monday

An Army medical team will be on campus March 2 and 3 to give medical examinations to all junior ROTC students who will attend the 1953 ROTC summer camp. Students applying for the advanced ROTC course must take the free exams as a pre-requisite to enrollment.

Appointments for the examinations should be scheduled with Sgt. D. H. Seymour, ROTC information clerk.

All men who are not presently enrolled in ROTC and who intend to enroll in the advanced course should contact the professor of military science and tactics for additional information.

Badminton Tourney Victors Announced

Carol Lee Rouse, freshman in liberal arts, and Namika Ikeda, special student in art, won the primary and secondary places of the double-elimination single badminton tournament. The double tournament is now underway with 11 couples participating.

Tournament matches, sponsored by the AKS, are regularly held on Tuesday and Thursday at 4 p.m. All players are expected to keep track of their playing dates posted on a score sheet.