Beavers Victors

Oregon State came to the head in a determined fourth period drive, spearheaded in its efforts by Tony Vlastelica, who played under the handicap of a back ailment, and Ron Robins, who for a second straight night broke Oregon's back.

Marks Go Down

Oregon's field and free throw marks went down during the final two frames to a lowly 268. Throughout the route the Ducks missed 11 gift toss attempts to Oregon State's 10.

Chet Noe led all scorers with 20 points. Behind Noe were Wegner and Vlastelica, 15, Robins, with 13 and Romanoff, 12.

University to Entertain YMCA Area Council

The University of Oregon and the Eugene city YMCA's will act as joint hosts for the YMCA area council meeting in Eugene this weekend.

A program has been planned featuring University foreign students and national YM staff members as speakers. Also planned for the two-day meetings are workshops and reports from local and student associations. The council will meet in the Eugene hotel.

Jones Toastmaster

W. C. Jones, dean of administration, will act as toastmaster at the Saturday night banquet. A panel of four University foreign students will discuss the general topic "Builders for Youth," at the dinner. R. C. McCall, head of the speech department, will act as panel moderator.

Built around the general theme of "That Youth May Grow," the featured speaker at the meeting will be Ed Espy, executive secretary of the student department of the national YM, who will discuss his experiences in Asia.

"Bull Session" Schedule

Espy will speak at the banquet and will also meet with student delegates to the conference. According to Russ Walker, executive secretary of the YM, all interested students may attend the program following the banquet and the informal "bull session" with Espy.

Espy will also tell the meeting of his experiences at Travencore, India, at the World Conference of Christian Youth held last summer, as well as what he observed in India, Pakistan, Burma, Ceylon, Japan, Korea, Formosa and the Philippines.

Maybe the Low Man on that Totem Pole Started at the Bottom

Once there was a Senior who was Engaged. Very happily. One day, however, he realized that while Being Engaged, before graduation, was one thing, Being Engaged (A.D.) (after diploma) involved such complications as Getting Married and Supporting Dependents. In a word, Work.

So he began sending job letters to Personnel Directors of Large Corporations, outlining his qualifications. Some answered, sending him Application Forms to fill out. Some didn't. Eventually he wound up with a grim Common Denominator: they would let him know if anything came up.

Disenchanted but Willing, he outlined the problem to his Betrothed, a girl of Superior Intelligence. She regarded him sternly. "No wonder," she said, "letters, yet! Listen," and she unfurled a Stratagem.

First thing next morning, he jetted down to the Western Union office, in one hand a list of the 10 companies he'd most like to work for, and in the other a compelling message making clear that here was The Man, awaiting only the opportunity to Prove It. Sent it as a Telegram to all 10 companies.

Results? Within a week he had 6 interviews, 4 Job Offers. Today, when he brags about being a Self-Made Man, his wife just Smiles Indulgently.

When you're jockeying for a job, use Telegrams to Get the Jump on the Competition. Telegrams get in, get read, get the Reaction you want. Wonder-workers in other ventures, too . . . whether you're Dickering for a Date, a Hotel Reservation, or Pesos from Pop. Just call Western Union.

"Amazing variety and practical wisdom"

says DR. ANDREW W. BLACKWOOD

Temple University, Philadelphia, Penna.

"The Reader's Digest helps a busy man to understand life in these United States, in the United Nations, and even in Soviet lands. With amazing variety, and a world of practical wisdom, each monthly issue helps the reader to interpret life on earth today, with more than a few glimpses of tomorrow."

Each month, Reader's Digest editors comb through more publications than any one person could read in two years, and select whatever seems of outstanding interest.

Each article is carefully condensed to preserve both its content and flavor. The wide range of subjects stimulates new interests, encourages a further search for knowledge.

In a real way, Reader's Digest helps continue the education of millions of readers in America and all over the world.

In March Reader's Digest, you'll be interested in The Earth Is Born—latest scientific theories on how our earth began, how it will end; We CAN Win the War in Korea—William Bullitt's analysis of how we can end the bloody stalemate; Fred Waller's Amazing Cinerama—how a self-made scientist is bringing breathtaking realism to movies.
