Theatre Plans Comedy for Kids

A double-bill comedy-adventure program, designed to appeal to boys and girls of grade school and junior high age, will be presented in Villard 102, Saturday at 10:30 a.m. It will be a children's theater production by Mrs. Ottilie Seybolt's advanced classes in production of school and community plays and play direction.

The first half of the program will be "The Dragon Who Giggled," an exciting adventure story by Elizabeth McCormick. The cast includes Dave Sherman, freshman in journalism; Harold Long, senior in speech; Lorna Lee Davis, freshman in liberal arts; Phil Sanders, junior in speech; Ron Pheister, sophomore in physical education; Jerry Shaw, senior in speech;—and Gerald Pearce, graduate in architecture and allied arts, as the Dragon.

The second feature will be a hilarious farce entitled "The Man in the Bowler Hat," a melodrama complete with hero and wicked villain. The cast includes Dick Olsen, junior in education; Kay Maloney, junior in speech; Allen Widestrom, Lucille Swaggart, junior in English; Phil Sanders, junior in speech; Glen Yost, senior in speech; with Dale Banks playing the title role.

Admission for children, students, and adults will be 25 cents.

Sign-Up Ends This Saturday

Noon Saturday is the deadline for completing the steps in pre-registration, according to the registrar's office.

By this time students should have seen their adviser, registered for classes and either paid their fees or filed their cards with the registrar's office. Students who do not wish to pay their fees at this time may do so at the first of next term.

After Saturday no registration material will be accepted until regular registration begins for spring term.

Jose Limon, Team Performs Tonight

Jose Limon, who has been called by dance critics "certainly the finest male dancer of his time" will appear on the main stage of the University theater tonight at 8 p.m. He and his dance company are being presented by the Festival of Contemporary Arts.

The Limon Dance company performed Thursday night at the University theater and tonight will present the same program.
