

Five Golf Lettermen Bolster Team

Coach Sid Milligan's varsity golf squad is now in preparation for its first test of the season, the Northern California Intercollegiate match, which is to be held on March 26-28.

Five lettermen from last year's squad have returned this year, and about ten other linksters have indicated their intention to turn out, according to Milligan. The lettermen are Bob Atkinson, Al Mundle, Don Krieger, Al Cross and Fred Strebel.

The first dual match of the season brings the Ducks up against the University of Washington on April 24, with the Webfoots meeting Seattle university and its famous girl player, Patty Lesser on the following day.

Varsity Baseball Nine Hold Daily Outside Practice Drills

By John Whitty
Emerald Sportswriter

With the coming of spring, Oregon's varsity baseball team has started to hold daily outdoor practices on the practice field, and according to head coach Don Kirsch, much progress was made during the fine weather of last week.

Intra-squad games of six innings Friday and three innings on Saturday were held, with a long batting drill following the contest on Saturday. On Monday, most of the drill was taken up by infield and outfield practice, with only a short time spent on batting.

The first game for the Ducks will be held on April 1, in Portland, where the Webfoots will open against the Pilots of Portland university.

The diamond squad has been holding practices in the unfinished area for the past month, but all further practices will be held outside as long as the weather holds good.

The 1953 edition of the Oregon

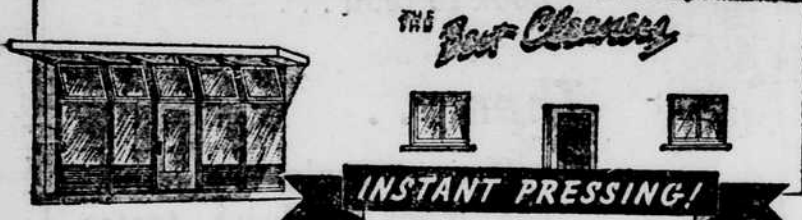

baseball team will probably not do as well as last year's team, according to Coach Kirsch, due to the large number of players lost by graduation last year. Ten of the first 17 men on the team received their diplomas last year, or were lost to professional baseball, and Kirsch faces the problem of replacing his entire infield.

Catcher Ron Bottler and his brother, pitcher Bill Bottler signed professional contracts during the past summer, while first baseman Phil Settecase, all PCC-second sacker Daryle Nelson, outfielder Joe Sugura and pitchers Stan Aune and Bill Mays have graduated.

Kirsch stated that his pitching staff would be weak unless junior hurler Don Siegmund is eligible to play. Siegmund was the ace of last year's mound staff.

Noe, Wegner Get All-Star Positions

Chet Noe, center, and Ken Wegner, guard, Oregon basketball players, were named on the Northern Division All-Star basketball team picked by the Associated Press in a poll of the Northern Division coaches.

Noe was an unanimous choice, as was Bob Houbregs, Washington. Others on the first squad were Joe Cipriano, guard and Doug McClary, forward, both from the championship Husky quint.

It was the second year for Noe on the All-Star list. Last year he made a forward position on the second team.

First Team	Pos.	2nd Team
Noe, O	F	I. Morrison
McClary, W	F	WS, Mullins
Houbregs, W	C	I. Kruger
Wegner, O	G	W. McCutcheon
Cipriano, W	G	OS, Robins

Honorable Mention: Flynn and McIntosh, Idaho; Halberg, Oregon; Coon, Washington; and Vlastelica, Oregon State.

WIN, LOSE 8

Individual Marks High As Ducks End Season

Despite a win-loss record of 8-8 which was identical to last year's Northern Division effort of the Oregon basketballers, the individual Webfoots improved noticeably over last year.

Chet Noe went from fifth in the Northern Division last year to second this year with an average of 19.2 points per game and a 307 point total. As a junior Chet racked up a 12.2 average on 195 points.

In addition, Noe's 307 points rank him as the highest scorer in Oregon history. Another record to be equally proud of is the new rebound mark of 229 which tops all previous division performers.

Ken Wegner, named to the first All-Northern Division team, had a 13.9 average in ND play and became the highest scoring "little man" in Oregon history with 221 points. Last year, alternating at the first string guard post, Ken hit for a 6.1 average and 92 points to end up fourth in team scoring.

Holland Fourth

Barney Holland, the other starting guard, took over fourth place in team scoring this year with a 10.1 average on 162 points. As a reserve last year, Barney had a 2.5 percentage.

Keith Farnum rose from eighth to fifth in team scoring this year ending up with a 5.9 ND average. Bob Hawes held on to sixth spot again this year but with an average increase of 3.2 to 5.1 points per game.

Coach Bill Borchert can be thankful that his two junior college transfers, Ed Halberg and Bob Stout, came through and helped the Webfoots disprove the pre-season fourth place berth tabbed by the experts.

Halberg, despite a year layoff from the game, made the transition to college basketball nicely and ranked third highest scorer on the team with an 11 point average.

Stout Clutch Player

Stout had a 2.7 average as an alternate forward. He got into all 16 conference games and proved to be a good clutch player.

The five seniors who will not be back next year are Chet Noe, Keith Farnum, Hank Bonnemman, Bud Covey, Wayne Johnson and Harlan Mickey. Coach Borchert will have to rely on the fine freshman team for much of his reserve strength next year.
