Young Peoples' Art Exhibit Set at SU

Paintings and drawings done by young people are featured currently in the art gallery of the Student Union. These young artists, ranging in age from 8 to 16, are the pupils of Mrs. Paulette Beall. Mrs. Beall, a native of France, has studied art in Paris at the Academy Julian and the Academy Modern of Fernand Leger. She has also studied in New York and Mexico City.

Browsing Room Schedules Jazz

A program of jazz recordings and other piano interpretations will be featured Wednesday evening in a lecture "American Music Comes of Age," first in the spring term series, in the Student Union browsing room.

George Hopkins, professor of piano in the school of music, will play recordings and interpret the growth of modern music as we find it in the United States today.

Stacey Green, associate professor of piano, will act as discussion leader for the session.

SU Board Calls For Petitioners

Petitions are being called for membership on the 1953-54 Student Union board, Chairman Clyde Fahlman has announced.

Deadline for petitions is April 8. Petitions should be turned in at Fahlman's office on the third floor of the SU or placed in the petition box outside the program director's office, room SU 301.

Applicants must meet regular University scholarship requirements, have residence here during the two previous terms and be a major in the school they represent, Fahlman said.

All petitions will be turned over to a joint committee of the SU board and the ASUO executive council for screening and interviewing. Deans of the schools will make recommendations to the committee, and final appointment will be made by University President Harry K. Newburn. Don Zavin, assistant chairman of the board, is in charge of the screening process.

Vacancies will occur at the end of spring term from the graduate school, and schools of law, music, health and physical education, architecture and allied arts and college of liberal arts.

Only sophomores this year are eligible to petition from the schools of music, health and physical education, architecture and allied arts and college of liberal arts.

Students will also be selected to fill the posts of member-at-large, a one-year term on the board for two representatives from the junior class. A sophomore member at large will also be selected to serve a two-year term on the board. Nominations of members at large will be made Apr. 15, and interviews and selection will be Apr. 22.

No student who performs the duties of an elective office established by the ASUO constitution or who is a member of the senate or cabinet is eligible for a place on the SU board.
