

Spring Lecture Series Planned

Books, Writers Topics For Browsing Room

A series of nine lecture programs will be offered this term on Wednesday evenings in the Student Union browsing room.

Discussion of great books and writers in the fields of political science, literature, economics, history, anthropology and science will be offered, Bernice Rise, browsing room librarian, has announced.

The speaker schedule includes:

April 8. "Some Oregon Authors I Have Known" by W. F. G. Thacher, professor emeritus of English and former creative writing head at the University of Oregon.

April 15. "The Place, the Purpose, and The Story" by Walter Van Tilburg Clark, author of the "Ox-Bow Incident," a guest lecturer who will be visiting the campus at this time.

April 22. Shakespeare's "Coriolanus" by E. C. A. Lesch, professor of English.

April 28. (Tuesday). "The Enforcement of Political Orthodoxy" by Dr. Ivan Nagy, assistant professor of political science, who has recently returned from research work on a Ford Foundation fellowship at Columbia university.

May 6. "Human Nature and Free Society" by Frank K. Knight, professor of economics at the University of Chicago, who will be visiting the university at this time.

May 13. "Micronesians—Our Responsibility," by Homer Barnett, professor of anthropology. Lecture will be illustrated by slides.

May 20. Gordon Wright, head of the history department will lecture on a current topic to be announced later.

May 27. "Lionel Trilling" with speaker Hoyt Trowbridge, professor of English.

June 3. "Space Between the Stars," a slide lecture by E. G. Ehbighauser, associate professor of physics.

Account Executive To Discuss Contest

Merle W. Manly, account executive from Portland for the national advertising agency of Botsford, Constantine and Gardner, will speak to students enrolled in the advertising problems class of the journalism school today.

Manly will discuss a contest sponsored by the agency for students enrolled in the course.

Students entering the contest will be required to plan a complete advertising campaign for a nationally advertised product. This planning will necessitate doing research work, planning production, executing copy layout and writing a complete presentation for the advertiser.

Prizes of $40, $25 and $10 will be awarded to the three best campaigns submitted.

Camp Directors Set Job Interview Date

Directors of a number of summer camps in Oregon will meet next Wednesday at 1 p.m. in PE 101 to interview students interested in positions as camp counselors, according to Mrs. Jessie Puckett, assistant professor of physical education.

Mrs. Puckett who, with Vernon Sprague, assistant professor of physical education, is in charge of local arrangements, stressed that there are many more job openings than applicants.

Detailed information on summer camp jobs is available at Gerlinger, the PE building and the student employment office.

Variety to Feature SU Friday at Four

Friday at Four will feature a varied show today in the Student Union fishbowl. On the program are Gordon Green, songs, and Hollis Hill, bagpipe solo. Two group acts are also slated—a combo composed of Marv Young on the piano, Harvey Hixson, drums and Dick Baranovich, bass, and a quartet consisting of Ed Kenny, Gordon Green, Cliff Matousek and Dick Baranovich.

SU Mixer Planned As Terrace Dance

The first Student Union mixer of the term, April 10, will be held on the terrace surrounding the fish bowl, according to Jackie Steuart, SU dance committee chairman.

Campus clothes are in order for the no-date affair to be held in the fish bowl if weather does not permit dancing on the terrace.

Bowling Tourney Chairman Needed

Petitions for Student Union special events chairman of the all-campus bowling tournament can be picked up in SU 302 or 310. Deadline for petitions is 5 p.m. Thursday. The tournament will be held from April 27 to May 15. Louis Bellissimo will work with the chairman on details of the tourney and publicity.

College to Keep Extension Status

Portland State college will remain a state extension two-year school for at least two more years as a result of a vote in the State House of Representatives.

The House voted 36 to 21 against the measure to make the college a four-year school. The action was taken the first part of last week.

Those favoring the bill argued that a four-year school located in the population center of the state would allow more people to receive an education who can not afford to attend school in Eugene or Corvallis.

Representatives against the bill said they wanted the measure on the 1956 ballot only if a need were demonstrated for the school. Alumni of Oregon and Oregon State college also opposed the bill, as did the University faculty, which passed a resolution against such a measure.

Record Lending Begins Monday

The Student Union record lending library will open Monday at 3 p.m. under the sponsorship of the recorded music committee in the SU program. Records will be available for all University students to check out for a two-day period.

"We hope to keep the library open from 2 to 5 every afternoon from Monday through Friday if a large enough staff can be maintained," Robert Kouteck, chairman of the committee in charge, said. The lending library will be located in SU 206 in the Browsing room wing.

The two-day lending period has been set as tentative to test student demand for the type of records offered in the new library. The period can be lengthened if demand is strong enough, Kouteck said.

"The success of the library, under the present plan, will depend entirely on the students making use of the facilities," the chairman reported. Plans now do not include any fine for turning records in late and if the borrowers cooperate the committee will continue this policy.

If returned records are too badly damaged to be usable, a charge of 75 per cent of the purchase cost of the record will be made.

The nucleus of the record library is the Arley Norcross collection. Available records number 100 and Kouteck stated that the library would continually grow, both through purchase and other donated collections. Requests for future purchases would be welcomed by the committee, Kouteck said.

The present collection of records includes a well-chosen group of semi-classical music gravitating to the classical. It also contains works by some contemporary serious composers.

The collection now includes records from the works of such noted artists as Cole Porter, Jerome Kern, Rodgers and Hammerstein, Albin Berg, Tchaikovsky and Schonberg.

The recorded music committee formerly maintained a record listening room in the Peter Benson Howard room of the SU but the records could not be checked out of the room. The newly initiated lending library has been under organization for the past two years. Due to the rapid turnover of the committee chairmen, the opening date was delayed until the present.

Members of the recorded music committee will be in charge of the library during the hours it is open for use.

UO Young Democrats To Host State Confab

Young Democrats will be hosts for the 22nd annual statewide convention of Young Democratic clubs to be held the weekend of April 10-11 at the Eugene hotel, according to Charles Grover, president of the campus group.

Tentative plans include Alaska Governor Ernest Gruening as banquet speaker. The banquet, which will cost $3 per plate, will be held on April 11 at 7 p.m. in the Colonnade room of the Eugene hotel. All interested persons are invited to attend, said Noreen Kelly, general convention chairman.

Gruening, who was appointed to his present post in 1939 by the late President Franklin Roosevelt, was formerly manager of "La Prensa," and managing editor of the "New York Tribune" and "The Nation" magazine.

He is also recognized as an expert on inter-American affairs, and has served as Director of Territories and Island Possessions and general advisor to the 7th Pan-American conference.

Convention plans also call for preliminary registration of delegates followed by a reception from 9 to 12 p.m. on April 10. Saturday's activities will feature committee reports, adoption of resolutions, a report by State President Ed Riederbusch and election of new state officers.

Committee chairmen appointed by Grover are Harvey Orner, finance; Carola O'Dea, banquet; Illa Edward, registration; Arlo Giles, program, and Lorna Davis, publicity.

UO 'Singers' Conclude Tour

The University Singers will end their seventh annual tour of the state with a home concert in the Student Union ballroom April 12.

During spring vacation the 60 voice group toured communities in central, eastern and southern Oregon and northern California as well as presenting their annual Portland concert.

Under the direction of Donald Allton, assistant professor of music, the Singers are sponsored by school of music although membership is not restricted to music majors. About half of the Singers are from other schools and departments.

This year's tour was under the direction of Clifford Matousek, graduate student in music, who acted as tour manager and assistant director.

The home concert is open to the public at no charge and will begin at 3 p.m.

Portland Symphony Appears Tuesday

The Portland symphony orchestra, directed by James Sample, will present a concert in McArthur court Tuesday at 8 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Eugene Civic Music association.

Appearing as guest artist with the orchestra will be Polish pianist Jakob Gimpel, radio and recording artist.

Included in the program will be Dvorak's "Overture in A Major"; Chopin's "Concerto No. 2, in F Minor," played by Gimpel; "Symphony No. 2 in B Minor," by Borodin, and "Symphony No. 5 1/2," by Don Gillis.

Frosh Picnic Date Changed to May 3

The date of the traditional freshman class picnic has been changed from May 2 to May 3 to avoid conflict with the Carson hall house dance, according to an announcement made Thursday afternoon by Bob McCracken, freshman class president.

The original date was only tentative, state Si Ellingson, freshman class adviser, and was set without checking the social calendar.
