

Webfoots Blast Beavers In 'Closed' Track Meet

By Jim White

Oregon's varsity trackmen ran all over the Oregon State team in a highly unpublicized meet at Corvallis Saturday. It was impossible to obtain complete results for Oregon students since the meet was closed by the OSC athletic department to all press and radio coverage but enough of the results were available to indicate a complete sweep by the Oregon team.

The meet held in icy showers and a cold north wind saw the Ducks take 11 of the 15 events and tie another. The most surprising part of the entire meet was Oregon's strength in the field events taking the high jump broad jump and shot put with apparent ease. Ken Hickenbottom put forth a tremendous effort to tie for the pole vault at 13 ft. 6 in. and just missed going 13 feet 9 in.

Home Runs Help Ducks Top 'Cats

Round-trippers by light-hitting Jimmy Johnson and the not-so-light-hitting Earl Averill were the key blows here Friday afternoon as the University of Oregon Webfoots dropped the Willamette university Bearcats, 6-3.

Saturday's scheduled game with Linfield college was washed out and left the Ducks with a pre-conference record of six wins and two defeats.

Stan Dmochowsky labored on the hill for the first six innings and drew credit for the victory. He may be rewarded further by being named as the starting pitcher in Oregon's first Northern division game against the University of Idaho Wednesday afternoon at Howe field. Don Siegmund, the holdover port-sider, is another opening day possibility.

The Webfoots fell on Mickey Coen for a pair of runs in the first inning and added one each in the second, fifth and seventh frames. Willamette scored single runs in the third, fifth and sixth innings.

Averill's home run came on a sharp line drive down the left field which took one hop and disappeared beyond the bank. A fly ball off the bat of Johnson got between the left and centerfielders and rolled to the edge of the embankment. Johnson arrived at the plate a shade ahead of the relay from the outfield.

Freshmen Edge Pelican Visitors

Coach John Londahl sent four Oregon Frosh pitchers to the firing line before the Duck squad finally downed the Klamath Falls Pelicans, 9-8, at Howe field Saturday.

After spotting the visitors a three-run advantage in the first two innings, the locals came back with a singleton in the second, three more in the fourth and sewed it up in the fifth with a five-run outburst.

Oregon Keglers Capture Title

Showing a late game splurge, University of Oregon's bowling squad shaded out seven other Northwest college kegler teams on the alleys of the Student Union in the Northwest Regional Collegiate Bowling tournament, held all day Saturday.

Oregon knocked down a total of 5,285 pins, almost 100 more than second place Washington, who collected 5,189. Other places went to OSC, third with 4,972, Washington State, with 4,963, Yakima Junior College, fifth with 4,935, Clark Junior college with 4,922, Seattle, seventh with 4,805, and Gonzaga, 4,750.

Oregon tended to weaken in the middle series, but came back with a strong finish in the last game to gain the edge over a fatiguing Washington university fivesome.

By winning the match, the first collegiate bowling tournament in the northwest, the Webfoot bowlers gained possession of the rotating Brunswick - Balke - Calendar challenge trophy until next year when the tournament will be held on the Washington campus.

Oregon started off strong during the first half of action, racking up a total of 2,632 pins before noon. The Ducks slowed down a bit as the afternoon wore on, but still managed to stay ahead of the Huskies, who had placed fourth at the halfway mark.

After the evening banquet, at which time Coach Lou Bellissimo and Captain Leo Paapi of the local team received the team cup, the individual and doubles matches were rolled off.

Washington's Fred Kerr Jr. was the top kegler of the morning and afternoon with a 1,150 total. Kerr also knocked over the highest series, 607.

Scores of the Duck team members were Leo Naapi, 1,051, Don Hannu, 1,040, George Troeh, 1,061, Jim Ekstrom, 1,033, Norm Rueckler 549 and Sam Sorenson 55.
