

PRICELESS VIOLIN

Stern Concert Friday Night

Isaac Stern, noted American violinist, will present a concert at McArthur court Friday evening at 8 under the sponsorship of the Eugene Civic Music association.

Admission to the concert for Oregon students is by student body cards. This is the last concert of the current season.

The violinist, who returned last December from a three-month tour of England and the continent, is now on his eleventh consecutive tour. He played a total of 55 concerts in Canada and the U. S. last year.

Currently featured in the film biography of Impresario S. Hurok,

ISAAC STERN
Fiddler for Friday

"Tonight We Sing," Stern has appeared on radio and television in addition to making many records. His music was on the sound track of the film "Humoresque."

Stern made his music debut in San Francisco at the age of 11. Since that time, he has appeared in South America, Australia, New Zealand and Europe. In recent years, his annual tours have encompassed at least three continents.

At his Eugene appearance, Stern will perform on his priceless 250-year-old Guarnerius violin. He will be accompanied by Alexander Zakin.

Kwama Issues Petition Call

Petitions for Kwama, sophomore women's service honorary, are being called for by Nan Mimnaugh, president. The petitions are due at 5 p.m. Tuesday, she said.

Freshmen women who petition must have a 2 point GPA, Miss Mimnaugh pointed out. Regular ASUO petitions are to be used, listing the woman's activities, she said. Petitioners should also attach a picture of themselves to the petition, Miss Mimnaugh said.

Petitions are to be turned in to Miss Mimnaugh at Pi Beta Phi or to Dorothy Kopp at Kappa Alpha Theta.

SU Mixer Slated For Friday Night

An all-campus mixer will be held in the Student Union fishbowl Friday night. It will be from 9 p.m. to midnight.

It was decided not to have the mixer held as a terrace dance because of the poor student response at last Friday's terrace dance, according to publicity chairman Becky Fortt. Dress will be campus clothes at the mixer, a date or stag affair.

General chairman for the mixer is Phyllis Pearson. Committee chairman are Jackie Steuart, arrangements; Miss Fortt, publicity; Jim Dielschneider, setup, and Jean Singleton, finance.

Good Book Essay Deadline May 1

An essay contest on the reading of good books and the art of fine book making is now open to students, sponsored by the Peter Pauper Press of New York. The contest, sponsored locally by the University of Oregon library, offers a first prize of ten classics and a second prize of five classics.

Entries are due May 1 and may be turned in to Bernice Rise in the Student Union browsing room. Each contestant is limited to one essay, not to exceed 2000 words. Prize winners will be announced during Junior Weekend, and they will select their books from the Peter Pauper Press series of "Collector's Editions."

Space and Clouds Star In Wednesday Lecture

The multi-shaped dark and light areas that lie between the star clusters of the milky way, were discussed by E. G. Ebbighausen, associate professor of physics, Wednesday night in the browsing room lecture on "Space Between the Stars."

Illustrating his discussion with slides, he pointed out several of these nebulous regions, including the galaxy of Orion, which is heavily obscured with hydrogen.

According to Ebbighausen, these areas were once regarded as tunnels, devoid of stars. Now they are considered as opaque clouds, screening star that lie beyond. "A newer theory holds that stars are being produced in obscuring nebulae," he noted.

The bright clouds, he continued, are simply dark clouds illuminated by an imbedded or neighboring star. Since no two stars have an identical spectrum, science is able to tell what star is illuminating a certain region by passing the star's light through a spectrum, he added.

The possibility of two stars colliding in interstellar space, where the air density is finer than any vacuum man could ever produce, is very remote, he stated.

"Suppose you were to play billiards on a table as large in area as the United States, using standard size balls. The possibility of your cue ball bouncing off the Gulf of Mexico to strike another of these widely separated billiard balls, is no less remote than the chance of two stars colliding," he said.

Ebbighausen concluded with a brief discussion of the Alpha Gamma Beta theory, which attempts to explain the distribution of the chemical elements.

Red Cross Board Petitions Asked

Red Cross Board petitions are now being called for by Joan Walker, president. Open to men or women, board positions include: president (must be a junior or senior next year), vice president, secretary, treasurer, promotion, special events, winter term blood drive chairman, disaster chairman and Roseburg hospital chairman.

Petitions are available at the Student Union, third floor, and may be turned in to Miss Walker at Kappa Alpha Theta, Janet Bell, Delta Delta Delta, and Valera Vierra, Carson hall.

Committee Approves Building Program; New J School Closer

The University of Oregon's new journalism school was one step closer Wednesday when the Oregon legislature's joint ways and means committee approved $8,137,000 of the $20 million building program for state institutions and colleges.

The new building program calls for construction of a $600,000 journalism building, a $1,250,000 state reformatory, a $1,500,000 addition to the State Hospital, a $2,200,000 dental school and a $760,000 chemical engineering building at Oregon State college.

The State Board of Higher Education which had asked an original total of $9,455,000 in new buildings was granted $3,560,000 by the committee.

The committee also approved the State Board's recommendation that elementary school teachers be trained at Oregon and OSC and to allow high school teacher training and liberal arts courses at the three colleges of education and Portland State college.

12 Semi-Finalists Remain in Race

Junior Weekend Queen Elections Will Be Wednesday, Thursday

Twelve candidates remained in the race for Junior Weekend Queen with the culmination of interviews last night. From the 12 semi-finalists will be elected the five finalists for queen. All-campus court elections will be held Wednesday and Thursday.

Semi-finalists are Audrey Campbell, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Carolyn Dickey, Pi Beta Phi; Sally Hayden, Orides; Joan Marie Miller, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Phi Kappa Sigma; Lorna Murakawa, University house; Dorothy Peterson, Carson hall; Sandra Price, Pi Kappa Alpha; Diane Stout, Phi Kappa Psi and Theta Chi; Carol Lee Tate, Phi Delta Theta; Cathy Tribe, Alpha Phi and Campbell club; Joan Walker, Chi Psi, Delta Tau Delta and Phi Gamma Delta; and Marjorie Williams, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Judges in the contest were Mrs. J. V. Berreman, Russell's; Si Ellingson, counselor for men; Mrs. Edna M. Stokes, Carson hall head resident; and W. S. Hayden, associate professor of architecture.

The 12 women are to report to Kennell-Ellis at 1 p.m. today to have their pictures taken, according to Joyce Jones, queen selection chairman.

Junior Vice-Prexy, Committee Reports On Senate Agenda

The ASUO senate will select a new junior class vice president at its regular meeting tonight at 6:30 in Student Union 334.

Any junior with a 2 point cumulative GPA and a 2 point winter term is eligible to apply for the class office vacancy, according to Pat Dignan, ASUO president. All petitions must be submitted by 5 p.m. today to the ASUO office, SU 304.

Other items on the senate agenda are a report of the student affairs investigating committee, Tom Shepherd, all-campus primary plan, Don Collin, and rally board report, Bob McCracken.

Applications Due For Scholarships

Applicants for Kwama, Phi Theta Upsilon and Hazel Schwerling scholarships should submit their applications to the office of women's affairs as soon as possible, Mrs. Margaret Kopp, women's affairs secretary, has announced.

Freshmen going into their sophomore year are eligible for the scholarships given by Kwama, sophomore women's honorary. Sophomores entering their junior year are eligible for the grants from Phi Theta, junior women's honorary, and the award given by women's living organizations in honor of the late dean of women.

Nickel Counting To Begin Today

"Coin Count," a juke box contest being sponsored in conjunction with the World Student Service Fund drive, will open on the campus today and continue through April 23.

Object of the contest is to guess how many nickels are put in the juke box in the Fishbowl of the Student Union in one week, according to Sally Thurston, WSSF publicity chairman.

Chances for the contest will be on sale at the main desk of the SU for five cents. Prizes will be awarded the winners at the WSSF auction Friday, April 24.

Today Is Deadline For Vodvil Entries

Deadline for entries in the All-Campus Vodvil has been moved ahead to today at 5 p.m. according to general co-chairmen Shirley Wendt and Gloria Lee.

Living organizations wishing to participate in the vodvil, April 24, must turn in their entry blanks to the main desk of the Student Union before the deadline, said Miss Wendt.

Students Urged To Invite Mom

All students should write personal letters to their mothers, inviting them down for Mother's Day, May 9, urges Barbara Wilcox, general chairman.

Sub-chairmen named by Miss Wilcox include Ward Cook, promotion; Hazel Forsythe, housing; Donna Hill and Edna Humiston, breakfast; Jo Kopp, tickets; Marilyn Lundell, hospitality; Barbara Redford, registration, and Sally Ryan, publicity.

An additional number of students are needed to work on all of the committees, particularly promotion and registration, reports Miss Wilcox. Petitions may be turned in to any committee chairman or to Hendricks hall.

Weekend Tickets Available for Play

Tickets are still available for the Friday and Saturday night presentations of the University Theater's production, "Even the Gods," with better seats remaining for Friday, according to Mrs. Gene Wiley, business manager.

Seats are also available for the April 22 to 25 presentations. Box office hours are from 1 to 5 p.m. daily.

The modern version of an old Greek legend is directed by F. J. Hunter, instructor in speech. The Oregon production marks the second time the play has been produced.

Rippey Recovers Rainbow's Body!

The Millrace yielded its first mortality in many years Wednesday morning. The body was pulled out of the millrace by James Rippey, senior in business administration, behind Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The body, that of a 12 inch rainbow trout, is now resting in state in the refrigerator after its untimely death.

It was first spotted Tuesday evening in the dried-up Millrace and was placed in an old bathtub at the Sig Ep house. It revived and spent the evening in the tub but was found dead Wednesday morning. No autopsy is planned.
