

Painting Vandals Hit Six Sororities

Six sorority houses were painted late Thursday night with black enamel and varnish by vandals. Houses hit were Gamma Phi Beta, Pi Beta Phi, Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Delta Gamma and Zeta Tau Alpha.

The office of student affairs was notified of the damage by several of the houses. The vandals are so far unidentified.

The Theta's, hardest hit, had their windows and pillars "x'd" with black enamel. A side wall was adorned with "CAT house." One member heard the vandals but didn't investigate the noise.

The Pi Phi nameplate was smeared and a black pagoda was painted on the door.

"X" 's and other markings were painted on the Tri Delt door and walk, according to the Tri Delt president. Zeta Tau Alpha had a ring of black enamel painted across the length of the house.

The vandals strewed the Delta Gamma pillars and door with black painted "X" 's. The front door window panes of the Gamma Phi Beta house were painted with brown varnish.

Shefford Elected IFC President

Con Shefford, Sigma Nu, was elected president of Inter-Fraternity Council at its regular meeting Thursday. He replaces Dick Morse, Phi Delta Theta, in the position.

Other officers elected were Ted Rubenstein, Sigma Alpha Mu, vice-president, and Alan Opplinger, Sigma Phi Epsilon, secretary-treasurer.

Art School Lists Reprint Exhibit

Color lithographed prints by such contemporary artists as Picasso, Leger, Charlot, Barnet, and Crawford are currently on display in the gallery of the art and architecture school.

The exhibit, "Contemporary Color Lithography," will continue through Sunday. It is being circulated by the American Federation of Arts and was selected from the Cincinnati Art museum's second International Exhibition of Contemporary Color Lithography.

Hours for the show are 1 to 5 p.m. today through Saturday and 1 to 10 p.m. Sunday.

In the catalog for the show, a color lithograph is explained as "a picture on paper printed by hand from prepared limestones." The show contains 60 such prints selected from the Cincinnati exhibition.

'Ugly Man' Candidates Picked; Voting Starts

The goal in the life of every male student about this time becomes being named Ugly Man during the annual World Student Service Fund week contest. Accordingly the living organizations have selected 44 candidates to vie for distinctive honor of being UMOC for a year.

Students may vote for their candidates today and Tuesday by dropping loose change in the jars placed with the candidates names outside the SU and the co-op. Tuesday night the ten finalists will be selected. The Ugly Man will be announced at the Vodvil Friday night, according to co-chairmen Jerry Froebe and Marty Johnson.

Candidates Named

Candidates include: Bob Stout, Alpha Chi Omega; Duane Best, Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Gamma

Men's eliminations will be held at 7 and 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Themes Requested For Float Parade

Living organizations are being asked to choose their Junior Weekend float parade chairmen and paired houses are to confer on a float theme today, Parade Chairman Sally Hateltine announced.

Themes are to be turned in to the Junior Weekend office, Student Union 303 by 5 p. m. today. Float costs are not to exceed $70 and chairmen will meet May 7 to submit itemized accounts of float construction.

In charge of the various phases of the parade to be held the afternoon of May 9 are Walter White, line-up and trophies; Jane Slocum, queen's car; Bob McCracken, bands; Connie Seymour, pairings; Bob Pollack, parade route interim skits, and Lyn Perkins, judges. Pairings were made Tuesday afternoon, but will not be published in the Emerald until themes have been chosen.

WSSF Drive Opens Today

The World Student Service Fund drive opened this morning on campus with its theme of "Hands Across the Sea" and its goal of $1800.

Money collected during the drive which ends Friday, will be sent to India, Greece, Pakistan, Syria, Burma, Korea, Japan and Indonesia. It will be used for scholarship assistance, textbooks, laboratory equipment, hospital and surgical equipment, tuition and examination fees for university students.

WSSF Car Wash— Tuesday The Day

Tuesday is "Car-washing" day on campus, Bob Glass, co-chairman of promotion for the WSSF drive, has announced. Women's houses have offered to give out with the elbow grease from 2 to 5 p.m. and will wash any and every car for $1 per car with proceeds going to the WSSF fund, he said.

Pairings for the car-wash (with houses where the cars will be washed first) are Delta Delta Delta and Delta Zeta; Carson hall; Hendricks hall; Ann Judson house and Rebec; University house and Highland house; Gamma Phi Beta and Alpha Phi; Alpha Chi Omega, Pi Beta Phi and Zeta Tau Alpha; Delta Gamma, Kappa Alpha Theta and Alpha Xi Delta; Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Delta Pi and Alpha Gamma Delta; Chi Omega, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Sigma Kappa.

A prize will be awarded to the houses in the winning group.

A WSSF representative will collect the receipts of the day's work sometime after 5 p.m. Tuesday from the house WSSF representatives.

Women's houses are asked to provide the facilities for the wash job, Glass added.

Beauty and Talent Auction Charted

Campus talent and beauty will be auctioned off on the SU terrace during the WSSF auction Friday at 4 p.m., according to Don Gartrell.

Auctioneer for the highlight of the annual WSSF fund-raising drive will be Spencer Snow, freshman in liberal arts. The committee plan to auction off to the highest bidder such campus attractions as the Homecoming court, the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi and a variety of Kwamas and Skull and Daggers, according to Gartrell.

'YM' to Discuss UO Campus Politics

"Behind Campus Politics" will be the subject of this week's Thursday noon meeting of the YMCA in the Student Union.

Featuring speakers from United Independent Students and Associated Greek Students, campus political parties, the meeting will begin at 12:25 and is open to all men, according to Russ Walker, executive secretary of the YM.

Tuesday night, the second in the series entitled "This I Believe," has been scheduled by the YM. Students and faculty members interested in attending must contact the YM office in the SU for details, Walker said.

Also scheduled for Thursday evening is the third in the series of inquiry groups on the "Problems of Religion." This week's topic is "Why Does Man Believe in the Existence of God?" and will feature L. R. Sorenson, assistant professor of history, as discussion leader. The meeting will begin at 7:30 in the SU and is open to all interested students, Walker said.

Working with religious groups of all denominations, the YWCA and YMCA, WSSF offers a worldwide program of mutual assistance among students according to Barbara Swanson, education chairman of the drive.

Relief Administered

Relief is administered on economic lines. Except where students are physically unable to work, money is used as capital to start self-help enterprises, Miss Swanson said.

In his recent evaluation of campus charity drives, John Talbot, campus public relations chairman, gave special consideration to WSSF because it "is the only student to student giving in colleges."

Talbot reported that WSSF collections at Oregon had been outstanding in the nation. With an average yearly collection of $1800 over the past three years, Oregon ranked 25th out of 681 contributing schools.

Drive Kept Separate

Convinced of the importance of the WSSF drive, Talbot recommended in his report to the ASU senate that the drive be kept separate from any proposed campus chest or united fund.

Special money raising projects are now in progress and will continue until the All-Campus Vodvil Friday night at which time the winner of the Ugly Man contest will be announced.

Pictures of candidates submitted by men's living organizations are on display at the Co-op where voting will take place.

Guess The Number

"Coin Count," the juke box contest, will continue through Thursday. The contest's object is to guess how many nickles are put in the juke box in the fishbowl of the Student Union in one week, according to Sally Thurston, WSSF publicity chairman.

Chances for the contest will be on sale at the main desk of the SU for five cents. Prizes will be awarded at the WSSF auction Friday at 4 p.m. in the SU.

Millrace Cleanup Termed Success

"Quite successful" said Dave Todd, organizer of Saturday's Millrace clean-up. "We didn't have as many people as we expected but the work got done," he added.

Todd estimated that 200 students turned out for the Millrace clean-up. The 200 were divided into nine teams with each team assigned a specific section of the "Race to clean."

Tex Matsler, Eugene superintendent of parks and playgrounds, said Saturday afternoon that he was surprised at the cooperation of the students. "I've had perfect cooperation from everyone, all day," he said.

Most of the work on the Millrace was done before noon but a few people worked east of the Alder street bridge in the afternoon.

Because the area behind the Sigma Phi Epsilon house was not drained and could not be worked in Saturday, Matsler said the Millrace would remain empty for a few days so this can be done. He said all other areas were well cleaned.
