Browsing Room Features Clark

Walter Van Tilburg Clark, American author, will speak at 7:30 tonight in a browsing room lecture entitled, "The Place, the Purpose, and the Story."

Best known for his novel, "The Ox-Bow Incident," Clark is the author of short stories which have appeared in such periodicals as the Saturday Evening Post and The New Yorker. His story, "The Portable Phonograph," has appeared in many American short story anthologies.

Clark's visit to Oregon is part of a three-week tour of Northwest colleges and universities. Other appearances of the author will be at the University of Washington and Reed college.

AGS Primary Election Slated for May 4, 5, 6

May 4, 5 and 6 have been selected as the dates for the Associated Greek Student primary election for the offices of student body president, class officers and ASUO senate, Jack Faust, AGS president, has announced.

Students petitioning to have their names placed on the primary ballot must have their petitions in by 5 p.m. Tuesday, Faust said. Petitions are to be turned in to either Faust at Theta Chi or Pat Ruan at Delta Gamma.

According to Faust, petitions should include the candidate's GPA last term and accumulative GPA,

'HOLI-DAZE' BEAUTIES

Court Voting Starts Today

The winner will be determined by the amount of change placed in the jars bearing his name outside the Student Union and the Co-op. He will be presented with Herman the Moose Head now on display at the Co-op.

WSSF Auction To Sell People

Beauties and beasts will be auctioned off to the highest bidders at the World Student Service Fund auction on the Student Union terrace at 4 p.m. Friday, according to Don Gartrell, auction chairman.

Stepping across the auction block will be the six finalists for the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, the Homecoming court, the 12 finalists for Betty Co-ed and Joe College, Kwamas, Skull and Daggers, miscellaneous athletes, the ten finalists for Ugliest Man on Campus, a group of instructors including E. R. Bingham, assistant professor of history, and office of student affairs officials, including Mrs. Golda Wickham, associate director of student affairs. Spencer Snow, freshman in liberal arts, will be the auctioneer.

"This is a good idea for houses who want to offer their high school guests something unusual," Dick Gray, publicity chairman, said Tuesday. Friday night the groups will serve dinner and entertain the living organizations which purchase them.

Voting for the Junior Weekend court will be held today and Thursday in booths at the Co-op and the Student Union, according to Joyce Jones, queen selection chairman. Names of the five members of the court who will be finalists for the queen election will be announced Friday morning.

Students will vote from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days. Election booths will be staffed by freshmen women.

Candidates in today's election are Audrey Campbell, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Carolyn Dickey, Pi Beta Phi; Sally Hayden, Orides; Joan Marie Miller, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Phi Kappa Sigma; Lorna Murakawa, University house; Dorothy Pederson, Carson hall; Sandra Price, Pi Kappa Alpha; Diane Stout, Phi Kappa Psi and Theta Chi; Carol Lee Tate, Phi Delta Theta; Cathy Tribe, Alpha Phi and Campbell club; Joan Walker, Phi Gamma Delta, Chi Psi, and Delta Tau Delta, and Marjorie Williams, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

5 Vodvil Finalists Picked by Judges

Five acts by men's living organizations were selected last night to appear in the All-Campus Vodvil Friday evening, according to Shirley Wendt, general co-chairman.

Finalists and their acts include Campbell club, "Ducksie-land"; Phi Delta Theta, "The Shooting of Dan McGrew"; Phi Sigma Kappa, "Merry Worth's Family"; Sigma Chi, "Frankie and Johnny," and Sigma Nu, "Let's Dial In."

Previously announced finalists were Alpha Chi Omega's "Chinese Fantasy"; Delta Delta Delta's "As Time Goes By"; Delta Gamma's "Magoo Ties the Baby Shoe"; Delta Zeta's "World Cruise," and Kappa Kappa Gamma's "Take Back Your Mink."

Preview Visitors May Reach 1000

1953 Estimates Top Previous Figures

This year's Duck Preview, to be held on the campus Friday and Saturday, promises to be the biggest in the annual weekend's four-year history, according to figures released Tuesday by Dorothy Kopp and Joe Anstett, housing chairmen.

Estimates of the number of visiting high school seniors ranges from 850 to 1000. The 750 seniors registered last year was an all time high for Duck Preview.

A full round of events, starting with the All-Campus Vodvil Friday night, has been planned for the visitors. Parties in living organizations have been arranged to follow the show.

The performance of scientific experiments in the Science building will be one of the highlights of the educational tours planned for Saturday morning from 10:30 to 12.

Following an orientation assembly, the visitors will be conducted through the Student Union and around the campus by Kwama and Skull and Dagger. In addition to the previously announced stops, the seniors will view the new geodesic dome.

Information sheets will be provided for the seniors, and departmental personnel will be on hand to answer questions. When the tour is completed, students desiring to return to a specific department may do so until noon.

Late Lunch Set

Lunch for the seniors will be in living organizations at 12:30 p.m. Afternoon events will include the Amphibian water show, the Oregon-University of Washington baseball game at Howe field and a Panhellenic tea for senior girls at the Gerlinger Alumni hall.

Following exchange dinners from 5:30 to 7 p.m., the annual Duck Preview dance will be held in the SU ballroom at 9. Featuring Jack Lowry and the Eugene All-Stars, it will be the first all-campus dance of spring term.

Admission for high school seniors will be free, but Oregon students will be charged 20 cents per person. Dress will be short silks for women and suits for men. Decorations will carry out the theme "The Trail Leads to Oregon."

Grade Schoolers To Broadcast Sing

Several thousand Oregon grade school pupils will gather in McArthur court Thursday at 1:15 p.m. for the annual "big broadcast" of the "Let's Sing, America" series over KOAC's "Oregon School of the Air."

The program will be directed by Glen Starlin, assistant professor of speech; R. E. Nye, associate professor of music education, and Don Hunter, head of the audiovisual department. Students training to be teachers in public schools will assist in directing the chorus, which will sing a number of American folk songs.

Instrumentation will be provided by the University varsity band, directed by Ira D. Lee, instructor in brass, and marimbist Wayne Mercer, junior in music.

Other University students taking part in the broadcast will be Mary Allton, Doug Stobie, Mary Lou Watts, Anna Marie Blickenstaff, Dorothy Carlson, Dorothy Anderson, Clarence Dial, Charlotte Johnson, Winnifred May, Eva Jean Miller, Erle Ramey, Virginia Lee Rabick, Margaret Janet Patterson, Eugene Spathwell, Rae Thomas, Lou Ann Wold, and Clifford Matousek. Don Parr, junior in speech, will be the announcer.
