WEDNESDAY'S RESULTS
 ...Washington State, 8 at Oregon State, 4.

SEATTLE — Washington's Huskies, almost knocked out of the Northern Division title race after losing two of their first three home games, hit the road this week sorely needing a split or better against Oregon and Oregon State.

The Huskies face Oregon in Eugene Friday and Saturday and then swing over to Corvallis for a two-game set on Monday and Tuesday with the conference favorites, Oregon State.

Coach Warren Tappin's nine not only lost to WSC and Idaho at Graves Field against a single win against the Cougars in their first three outings, but lost the services of shortstop Don Vaughan, at least for the Oregon trip and possibly for the season. Vaughan suffered a deep spike wound above the wrist on his throwing arm.

The only bright spot in the Huskies' early games were the brilliant hurling of Bill Reams and the heavy hitting of Sam Mitchell and Larry Watson. Reams twirled a four-hit shutout Saturday, beating the Cougars 6-0. The sophomore right-hander whiffed 10 and walked only two men. Mitchell and Watson were the only Huskies to do much at the plate, Watson having the biggest day with a five-for-six effort against Idaho Monday.

Golf -- Tennis

Oregon and Washington will meet in golf and tennis matches in Eugene this Friday. Washington is heavily favored in the tennis competition, while Oregon is given the edge in golf.

SEATTLE — Coach Hec Edmundson's University of Washington Huskies open their 1953 track season against the University of Oregon here Saturday, but the gala opening may not be such a joyous one for the home fans.

The Ducks began their spring cinder campaign at Eugene last weekend when they walloped Idaho 84 to 47, and showed surprising strength in many events.

In the over-all picture, Washington will rank strongly in the distance and a majority of the field events. The main weakness is in the pole vault, where Oregon has three men capable of hitting the 13-foot mark. Darrold Skartvedt has gone 23 feet in the broad jump and may take the event over Oregon's Ben Johnson and Ray Packwood. Duane Wardlow and Dean Parsons will give the Huskies ample strength in the shot put and almost a sure bet for 1-2 honors in the event.

Denny Meyer, in the two-mile is the favorite, while Northern Division Mile champ, Bob Forna, has been picked to edge Webfoot Al Martin in a close contest.

In the hurdles and middle distance races, both teams seem to have equal strength. However, Oregon's Doug Clement has hit 49.1 in the 440 and should win that event. Oregon sprinters Bruce Springbett and Jerry Mock will challenge Huskies Bob Hutchison and Stan Green for two honors in the sprints. Both of the Duck speedsters have broken 10-flat for the 100 yard dash.

Cougars Trip WSC

CORVALLIS (AP) — After being frustrated through six innings, Washington State college hitters finally came to life late in the game to thump Oregon State 8-4, in a Northern Division baseball game at Corvallis today.

The victory moved Washington State into third place.

The big blow in the uprising was Stan Poppe's long three run homer in the eighth inning. That overcame Oregon State's 4 to 3 lead, and the Beavers never threatened thereafter.

Landy James, Washington State's slow-ball expert, held Oregon State to five hits, and gained effectiveness as he went along.

Norb Wellman was the losing pitcher for the Beavers.

The Philadelphia Athletics beat Detroit 24-2 in 1912, when the Tiger regulars went on strike for teammate Ty Cobb.
