

Senator Records For Year Given

10 Score Perfect Meeting Attendance

Ten of 26 members of the ASUO senate have perfect attendance records for this year's 15 senate meetings. Worst records were scored by three senators-at-large who missed from five to seven meetings.

Perfect attendance has also been scored by Paul Lasker, junior class vice-president; Don Rotenberg, sophomore class representative, and Sue Shreeve, freshman class vice-president, who were all appointed to their positions within the last three meetings.

E. R. Bingham, faculty member, missed four meetings; Don Parr and Francis Gillmore, senators-at-large, missed five meetings each, and Mike Lally, senator-at-large, missed seven meetings.

Senate members who missed only one meeting were: Mrs. Helen Jackson Frye, ASUO vice-president; Jody Greer, senator-at-large; Mary Whitaker, sophomore class representative; Bob McCracken, freshman class president; Bob Maier, freshman class representative, and E. G. Ebbinghausen, faculty member.

Signatures Asked For Primary Plan

Petitions are now being circulated to refer to the students at the general election May 13 a proposed amendment to the ASUO constitution on an all-campus primary plan. Two hundred signatures are needed to place the proposal on the ballot.

Under this plan, originated by Senator-at-large Don Collin, all University students would vote at the same time and at the same places for nominations in either party. The voter would choose the ballot of the party he wished to support upon entering the polling booth.

This would be a change from the present system whereby the two political parties, AGS and UIS, hold separate primaries. The preferential voting system and the Australian ballot would be retained, however.

Another change would prevent candidates from running for more than one office "except candidates for president of the ASUO shall be considered candidates for senator-at-large." At the present candidates for class office can also run for senator-at-large positions.

Art Major Is Princess

DIANE STOUT
"Speechless"

Diane Stout, hazel-eyed candidate for Junior Weekend queen, admitted that she was so excited that she just "didn't know what to say" when told of her choice on the court.

Although work in her major field, art education, takes a good deal of time, Diane finds spare minutes to bowl and sew, making most of her own clothes.

Serving as president of Alpha Phi, Diane claims Portland as her home town and attended Grant high school. She is 5'7" tall, with hair she described as "just brown," and has an older sister.

AGS Interviews Slated for Today

All freshman candidates for AGS primary nominations will be interviewed by the AGS policy committee from 3 to 5 p.m. today and Thursday at Delta Gamma.

Freshmen running for any office—sophomore class president, representative, or senate-at-large will be screened on a first come, first served basis, AGS President Jack Faust explained.

Balloting on class offices will be held during next Tuesday's lunch hour. Candidates being defeated in that portion of the AGS primary will be eligible to run for the senate-at-large positions — balloting to take place during the lunch hour next Wednesday.

Primary election clerks will meet at 4 p.m. Thursday at Delta Delta Delta with Jane Simpson, chief clerk.

Sociologists, Grads Attend Conference

Sociology professors and graduate students from five northern states attended the northern Division sociology conference at Gearheart Thursday and Friday.

The sociology staff heard papers presented by John James and Mr. and Mrs. Putney. J. M. Foskett served as chairman of one discussion group.

Trophy Awards Set for Moms

Two trophies will be awarded to the living organizations with the largest attendance at the annual Mother's weekend, according to Barbara Wilcox, general chairman. Only merchandise, such as records, has been awarded in previous years, Miss Wilcox reports.

Registration for the mothers will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday in Gerlinger hall. Winners will be announced at the All-Campus Sing.

Tickets for the annual combination breakfast and Mother's club meeting are now on sale at the main desk in the Student Union for $1.25.

The mothers will be guests at all events of Junior Weekend and the Sunlight Serenade on Sunday. A special section has been reserved for them at the All-Campus Sing Saturday evening in McArthur Court.

Assistant housing chairman Pauline Merrill held the Emerald Tuesday afternoon that a limited number of housing reservations are still available in Eugene area hotels and motels. A list of vacancies has been compiled for the various living organizations and will be brought up to date later this week.

Independents Voting Today

Independent students began voting this morning at the first primary of United Independent Students, new campus political party.

Polls will be open until 5 p.m. at the Student Union and the Co-op. Also, polls will be available at Carson hall and John Straub dormitory during the lunch hour.

A total of 20 candidates are in the running, two being added late Monday night. They were Don Fischer, for senior class representative, and Sam Frear, for senate-at-large.

Candidates Listed

Candidates for the ASUO president nominations are Don Collin, Ben Schmidt, and Tom Shepherd.

Hollis Ransom and Elsie Schiller are candidates for senior class president. Unopposed for senior representative is Don Fischer.

Junior class president candidates are Len Calvert and John Vazbys. Bob Kanada and Joan Nelson are running for junior representative.

Talks Given

Senate-at-large candidates are Mary Jordan, Sally Hayden, Frear, Ted Goh, Miss Haag, Roop, Miss La Marche, Vazbys, Kanada, Vahey, Ransom, Miss Ducich, Ward, Miss Schiller, Calvert and Shepherd. (UIS candidates are allowed to run for two positions in the primary, choosing one if they are nominated for both.)

Tuesday night, candidates gave short talks on their aims and party operations, before a small group, about 30, in Science 123. Collin explained why he was militarily eligible for another year in school (he has a year before he must enter the service), Schmidt supported living and called for an end to the "climate of squabbling" on the issue, and Shepherd asked the group not to "tear down the Greeks" but to "build up the independents."

AGS Candidates Given More Time

Petition deadline for candidacies in the AGS primary election next week has been extended to midnight Thursday. Petitions may be turned in to Jack Faust at Theta Chi or Pat Hunt at Gamma.

Twenty-eight students have petitioned for positions on the primary ballot.

Jack Faust, senior in history, Paul Lasker, junior in education, and Tom Wrightson, senior in business, are the candidates for ASUO president.

Senior class president candidate is Alan Opplinger, junior in business, and representative candidate is Jane Slocum, junior in architecture and allied arts.

Jim Light, sophomore in liberal arts, is candidate for junior class president. Those seeking the representative bid are Marcia Tamiesie and Ann Blackwell; sophomores in business, and Shirley Wendt, sophomore in liberal arts.

Sophomore president candidates are freshmen Gary McMurry and Martin Brandenfels, liberal arts, and Jim Duncan, economics. Running for the representative nod are freshmen Jane Bergstrom, Gerry Porritt, Marilyn Parrish, Rhoda Wolfe, and Barbara Wilcox, all liberal arts, and Paul Curry, education.

Senate-at-large candidates include juniors Gary Mererith, business, and Robert Hooker, political science; sophomores Ward Cook and Dorothy Kopp, business; Mary Wilson and Mary Whitaker, liberal arts; and Don Crawford, pre-law; and freshmen Patty Teale and Robert Pollock, liberal arts; and Jean Owens, pre-journalism.

'Sing' Eliminations Planned for Tonite

All-Campus Sing eliminations will be held tonight beginning at 7 p.m., according to Jean Mauro and Sally Palmer, sing co-chairmen. Men's houses will tryout in McArthur court and women's houses in the Student Union ballroom.

"All houses competing in the sing eliminations must be on time," requested Miss Mauro, "according to the schedule in Tuesday's Emerald." Groups arriving before their scheduled time should wait outside and enter the ballroom or Mac court in between numbers, she added.

Finalists for the All-Campus Sing will be announced in Thursday's Emerald. Twenty-seven living organizations are competing tonight.

Tickets for the Sing, for Mac court Saturday, May 9, will go on sale in the SU and o-p next week. Tickets are 90 cents.

Recordings of the houses singing their songs tonight will be made by Don Hunter, head of the library audio-visual department. Any living organization wanting a record or tape recording of their song should contact Hunter today.

Sophomore Dessert Set for Thursday

The first sophomore dessert of the term, sponsored by the YWCA sophomore cabinet, will be held Thursday night at the Alpha Phi house, according to General Chairmen Carol Huggins and Donna Buchanan.

Door prizes will be given and Duckling counselling will be discussed. Hostesses for the affair, which will be held from 6:15 to 7:15 p.m., will be the Alpha Phi, Gamma Phi Beta and Alpha Xi Delta houses. All freshmen and sophomore women are invited to attend.
