Workshop to Show Student Art Talent

Campus talent in all fields of the arts will be featured in a Creative Arts Workshop in the Student Union ballroom at 8 p.m. Friday. No tickets are needed for the event, workshop chairman Valerie Cowsls said.

Highlight of the evening will be the full-length staging of "The Fruit and the Timothy," an original play by Mrs. Frances Logan. Two modern dances are on the program, "The Mourners" and "Cow Punchers," both choreographed by University students.

An instrumental trio ensemble and vocal numbers will be presented in a brief music recital, and an exhibition of art work, including sculpture, ceramics, weaving, painting and watercolor, will be displayed in the SU art gallery. The browsing room will feature literary displays of student-written poetry and short stories.
