five votes of the Communist nations in the UN.

Where these countries do capitalize and get votes on their side, he said, is over questions of Asia and colonial problems.

Pearson noted, with a smile, that there has been little change in U.S. foreign policy since the Eisenhower administration took over U.S.

Comments on Newspapers

Pearson gave a few comments on Canadian and U.S. radio and newspapers. A regular reader of U. S. newspapers and radio listener, he said they do give quite a good picture of public opinion.

He was very much in favor of Canada's system of government controlled radio - minus the commercials - which exists side by side with private stations, instead of the U.S. system of only private stations.

He also described Canada's system of civil service in their state department where politics does not interfere with the department's personnel. A change in government view committee chairmen must be has no effect on these people who advise and administer policy, even has announced. Reports may be those policies with which they do turned in to Summers at Theta not agree.

Oregon ping-pong champion for his second year in a row.

In the women's finals, Margie Elliott, junior in business, won top honors over Ann Ogle, sophomore in journalism. The best three out of five matches determined the championships.

The tournament was termed a success by Don Bonime, chairman of the meet.

Trophies will be awarded sometime this week to the champions, he added.

There were 29 men entered in the men's singles and seven women in the women's singles.

PRESSING!

OR . . Before You Can Whistle While You Work, You've Got to Get, on the Payroll

Once there was a Junior who had pro-crastinated himself into a Bleak Outlook. Two weeks from the end of the Term, he had no Summer Job lined ap, no Prospects, no Funds.

Browsing through "Help Wanted". his eye hit a High Octane Item. To wit "Wanted: college man of intelligence, initiative and good appearance to accompany family to Europe this summer and drive car. All expenses, reasonable salary, ample free time." "Eureka!" our Boy breathed, "this is Indubitably It! I'll write 'em tonight."

He sank back, Spellbound. Suddenly, however, he heard a Tiny Voice, speak-ing from within his Medulla oblongata. "Look, Junior," it said, "what about all the guys who have written already?"

"Okay, Okay," said our Hero, "I'll write right now!"

"Write, schmite?" continued the Tiny) Voice. "Drag your hulking Frame out of that chair fast, and down to the Western Union office. The ad specifies Intelligence and Initiative—you'll show both by applying by Telegram, and be Number One Man."

He did-and he was. Talk about . Bon Voyage!

Whether you're Setting Up a Summer Stint or Prospecting for a Permanent Position, get the jump on Competition, use Telegrams to schedule appointments, outline your Talents, reach the Man on the Hiring Line ahead of the Mob. Businessmen use Telegrams for many Practical Purposes. They'll respect your judgment, in Doing the Same.
