

SAC Approves NAACP

Oregon Daily

EMERALD

Fifty-fourth year of Publication

VOL. LIV

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, FRIDAY, MAY 29, 1953

NO. 130

Fall Term Rush Week To Return Next Year

Fall term rushing for freshman men will be a thing of reality next September after Inter-Fraternity Council action Wednesday.

The rush rules, containing a fall term rush week, were proposed and approved by the council in action last week. The proposed changes were then sent to the office of student affairs for consideration.

The proposal was reported back at Wednesday's meeting with student affairs approval. Under this new system, formal rush week will be held during the second week of classes starting Sept. 28. The new rush rules are now a part of the IFC constitution.

The complete rush rules as passed by the IFC are as follows:

1. Rush week shall be held the second week of classes fall term.
2. Rush week orientation meeting will be held Sunday, Sept. 27 and rushees will sign up for dates the next day, Monday, Sept. 28.
3. There will be no prep decile for freshman planning to rush.
4. There will be no hands off policy between the opening of school and rush week. This will allow fraternities to carry on summer rushing activities.
 - a. Freshman men may be rushed on arrival on campus.
 - b. Fraternity men will not be allowed in freshman dormitories at any time during the year.
5. Open rushing will be in effect all year with official pledge periods for winter and spring terms starting the second week of each term and lasting for three weeks.
 - a. If a pledge does not have a 2 point accumulative GPA at the end of three terms, he will be dropped from his pledge.

- b. Freshmen entering school winter term may move into the house the following fall term provided he makes his grades in two terms.

- c. Freshmen entering school spring term may move into the house fall term, but must have a 2 point accum by the end of the following winter term.

7. IFC will automatically drop pledges who have not made their grades for three terms.

8. Tuesday night will be the night for all pledge meetings.

9. Fraternities can not hire

Emerald Ceases Publication Today

Today's paper is the last Emerald of the year.

With today's issue, No. 130, a year of ups and downs (in number of pages and publication days per week) comes to an end. The Emerald started out fall term as an eight-page paper, four days a week. Winter term it went to five days per week, with Thursday's and Friday's issues eight pages, the rest four.

Since the beginning of the third week spring term the Emerald has been a five-day, four-page paper, coming out at noon for the first time in its 53-plus years of publication, as a morning paper.

Publication of the 1953-54 Emerald will begin Tuesday, Sept 15, during new student (and registration) week.

Lenz Named Yell King By New ASUO Senate

David Lenz, junior in business administration, was appointed yell king for 1953-54 by the ASUO senate Thursday evening. The meeting was the first one for the newly-elected ASUO and class officers and the final meeting for the school year.

Lenz was selected by the senate from a group of four petitioners. Those petitioning were Earle Culbertson, freshman in architecture and allied arts, Gary McFarland, freshman in business administration, Ed Wright, freshman in liberal arts and Lenz.

The senate selected Patty Ruan, junior in English, as secretary; Bob Summers, sophomore in law, as parliamentarian, and Paul Lasker, junior in education, as sergeant-at-arms.

A report on the results of the general election vote on the insurance plan was given by Merle Davis, an outgoing member of the ASUO senate. Davis was chairman of the senate committee which investigated the insurance plan. A motion to approve the bid of Mutual of Omaha was passed. The plan will take effect next fall term.

Several appointments by Tom Wrightson, ASUO president, were approved by the senate. The appointments were: Orientation program — Judy McLoughlin; Oreniter editor—Kitty Fraser; Millrace committee — E. G. Ebbighausen and Dick Williams; Student Activities Evaluation committee — Tom Shepherd, and Honor Code — Bob McCracken.

A report was given by Bob Summers on the proposed Northwest Federation of Collegiate Leaders. Summers has been working with leaders from other colleges and universities on the proposed federation.

pledges to work in the houses.

10. Freshmen may participate in house activities excepting intramural sports and when the dormitory may have a conflicting activity. Freshmen will also participate in house study tables.

In other action taken at Wednesday's meeting Lambda Chi Alpha was fined $35 on two counts at IFC tribunal action. Lambda Chi was fined $10 for pledging and initiating a man the same term and $25 for initiating a man whose accumulative GPA was not a 2. point.

Also appearing before the tribunal was Beta Theta Pi which was charged with pledging a man without a 2 point GPA. The Beta representative presented evidence that the man's grades had been brought up to a 2 point when he was pledged. No action was taken pending official notification from the office of student affairs of the man's scholastic standing.

SOCKMAN TO SPEAK

900 to Graduate June 14

Over 900 seniors will receive their degrees from the University of Oregon on Sunday, June 14. Delivering the commencement address will be the Rev. Ralph Sockman, pastor of Christ church in New York City.

Events for commencement weekend begin Friday, June 12, with a tea from 3 to 5 p.m. in alumni hall of Gerlinger to benefit the Pauline Potter Homer collection of beautiful books.

Women Slate Breakfast

Slated Saturday at 8 a.m. is the annual meeting and breakfast of the state association of UO women at the Student Union. Senior women and alumnae may obtain reservations and tickets, at $1, at 4-0590.

The class of 1913 is sponsoring at 9:30 a.m. Saturday a "Back to Learning" tour of Commonwealth and the science building. Morning lectures include James H. Gilbert, professor emeritus of economics, speaking at 10 a.m. on "The Breakdown and Build-Up of the Tax System." "Modern Developments in Astronomy" will be the topic of E. R. Ebbighausen, associate professor of physics, presenting an illustrated lecture at 11 a.m.

Class Reunions Slated

The SU ballroom will be the site at Saturday noon of a dinner, with meetings of the classes holding reunions this year — 1903, 1908, 1913, 1923 and 1928. The Half-Century club will also hold its fourth annual meeting.

A president's reception will be held at 4 p.m. Saturday in alumni

Petition Changes Given as Reason

By Paul Keefe
Emerald Assistant Managing Editor

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was recognized by the Student Affairs committee Thursday afternoon, according to Donald DuShane, director of student affairs.

DuShane stated Thursday evening that the group was recognized after reconsideration of the group's petition. The petition was resubmitted to the Student Affairs committee with "amendments and considerable amplification."

The amendments and amplifications "substantially clarified" previous questions which were raised by the Student Affairs committee," DuShane added.

NAACP has been refused recognition twice by the committee. The first refusal was about a year ago when certain items of NAACP's constitution were listed as the basis for refusal. On Feb. 19, 1953, the group repititioned with certain changes in their constitution but were refused by a vote of three to three, with two members of the committee abstaining.

The UO faculty senate decided Wednesday that it considered the refusal of recognition to NAACP "a mistake." This action by the senate came in the form of the acceptance of a sub-committee's report on SAC's policy for recognition of student organizations.

In other action Thursday, the SAC decided that recognition would be withdrawn from any group which had held no meetings and turned in a list of officers for a period of one year. Any such inactive organization will be considered "dead" by SAC. DuShane stated that one group still had recognition even though it has not functioned for nearly five years.

Webfoots Invade Stanford Diamond For Playoff Series

University of Oregon, Northern Division baseball champions, meet the Stanford Indians, Southern Division titlists, today at 1 p.m.

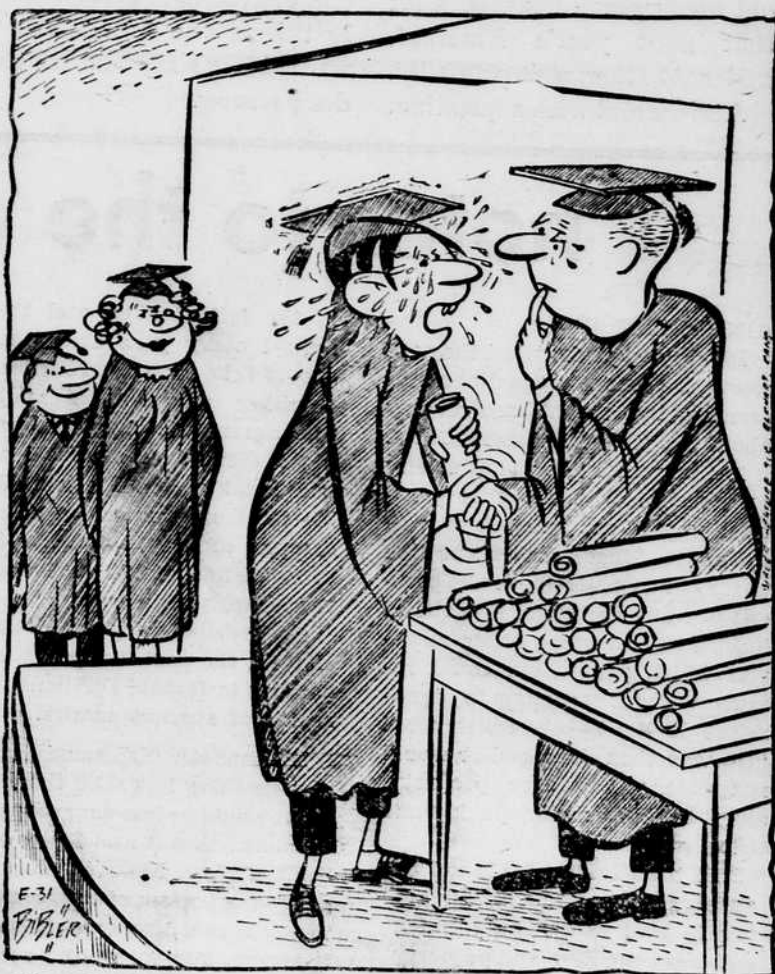

Rally Planned Sunday

Oregon's baseball team will be welcomed home from Stanford with a rally at the Southern Pacific depot, Sunday night at 8:30. Living-organization pairings will be posted in the Co-op and the Student Union today.

at Palo Alto in the first game of the 1953 PCC baseball playoffs.

Oregon Coach Don Kirsch will probably start Norm Forbes, sophomore righthander, on the mound against the heavy hitting Stanfords. The Indians' prize right

(Please turn to page eight)

"Gee, Dr. Newburn, why didn't someone tell me earlier that I had to register for those courses?"

hall of Gerlinger. Class reunion dinners will take place at 6 p.m. in downtown hotels and the SU. The weekend winds up Sunday with the flower and fern procession at 1:45 p.m. at the site of the Pioneer Mother. Commencement and baccalaureate exercises and conferring of degrees will be held in McArthur court at 2:30 p.m.