

Webfoots Start PCC Playoffs

Forbes Probable Oregon Starter; First Game Slated Today at 1

Coach Don Kirsch's Oregon baseball team, winners of the Northern Division title, opens the 1953 PCCC playoffs this afternoon at Palo Alto, Calif., taking on the Southern Division champ, Stanford.

The game starts at 1:00 p.m. The two clubs will resume action Saturday at noon in the second game of the best out of three series. If the winner is then not yet decided, the rubber contest will be played later Saturday afternoon.

Forbes Starter

Coach Kirsch will probably start young Norm Forbes, the workhorse of the Webfoot pitching staff, in the first game. Saturday's mound nominee is expected to be Stan Dmochowsky, sophomore right-hander. If the series goes into three games, Trent Huls is a likely choice for pitching duties.

Stanford Coach Everett S. Dean will start Bob Murphy on the hill for the Indians in the opener. Murphy has won 11 and lost only 2 so far this season against conference, armed services, and professional ball clubs.

In the hitting department Oregon will be decisively outgunned. As a team the Stanfords are batting .280, almost twenty percentage points above Oregon's .261.

Tribe Better Fielders

The Palo Alto crew is also sharper afield, with a .946 mark to the Games Broadcast

Friday and Saturday's PCC playoff games between Oregon and Stanford will be broadcast locally over KORE at 1:00 p.m. Friday and 12 noon Saturday.

Webfoot's .935. The Ducks have a lower earned run average, however, 2.76, to the Tribe's 2.97.

Topping the California team's hitters is Jack Shepard, catcher, with a respectable .399 mark in 61 hits in 153 times at the plate. This right handed hitting senior also leads in runs-batted-in, 62, triples, 10, and home runs, four.

Shortstop "Goody" Goodrich is next among the Indian regulars, with 58 hits in 17 tries. Chuck Essegian, outfielder, is the remaining starter above the .300 mark, with a .329 average.

Murphy Top Hurler

Murphy is by far the top hurler with almost as many wins as the rest of the staff combined.

His earned run average, 1.89, is one of the lowest in the California collegiate loop, and he leads the Indian hurlers in strike-outs with 90.

This will be Oregon's first bid for an NCCA title and the second for the Palo Alto nine.

The winner of the PCC playoffs will earn a berth in the Western Regional NCAA playoffs to be held early in June.

COACH LEN CASANOVA Conducts Japanese Clinic

Casanova to Hold Clinics in Japan

Oregon's head football coach, Len Casanova, will travel to Japan this summer to conduct football clinics in two Japanese cities.

The Oregon mentor will leave July 7 and is scheduled to return July 27, after a three day stop in Hawaii. In Japan he will stop at Yokohama and Tokyo.

Casanova was contacted for the trip by the armed forces, who will sponsor the football clinics in the Japanese nation.

Hale Kane Earns All-Mural Crown

Hale Kane, independent men's dorm, has earned its second straight all-sport intramural championship. Although some sports are not yet completed, the dorm has a wide enough margin over its nearest rival that it can coast to the title.

In second place is Phi Delta Theta, which jumped from sixth last year. The next in line is Alpha Tau Omega, followed by Sigma Alpha Epsilon in fourth, and Sigma Chi in fifth.

Hale Kane, with the tennis finals yet to be played, can get no less than 941 points. If they win the tennis championship, they will cop 954. The Phi Deltas, in the golf semi-finals, can do no worse than 850, with a possible high of 870.

Alpha Tau Omega cannot overhaul the Phi Deltas, since the highest it can get, even if it wins the golf championship, is 846. On the other hand its margin over SAE, which has finished its competition, is a safe 100 points.

Hale Kane got off to a blazing start last fall, winning first place in all three sports for 375 points. Winter term, it was Phi Delta Theta which walked off with the highest total, 379. Alpha Tau Omega has cinched a first place spring finish, with either 267 or 277 points, depending on whether or not it wins the golf crown.

Faculty Netmen Edge Ducklings

The university faculty tennis team came from behind to edge out the Frosh court crew Thursday afternoon, 3-2. Duckling first man Dick Grey turned in the only actual playing victory, slipping past Ed Bingham, assistant professor of history, in a marathon match, 9-7 and 6-4. Don Bonime turned in the other student win with a default decision.

The faculty swept the last three matches to grab the victory. In the third singles, Martin Meadows, graduate assistant tripped Duke Oldham, 6-2 and 6-2. The fourth singles competition saw E. C. Robbins down Bill Dutton, 6-1, and 6-4.

In the deciding event, the second doubles, Meadows and Robbins won out over Denny Carlson and Pete Plumridge, 7-5 and 7-5.

Alpha Tau Omega Captures P.E. Club's Decathlon Title

Alpha Tau Omega's three man decathlon team scored a total of 2320.5 points Wednesday and Thursday afternoon in the Men's P.E. club's decathlon to capture the first place team trophy.

Second spot went to Sigma Nu, close behind with 2302.

Monte Brethauer, who didn't score a first place, won the individual high point trophy by a slim margin of half a point. The ATO star compiled a total of 777.5 points to edge out Doug Minor, who racked up 777.

Point System

The points were awarded on the basis of 100 for first place, 99 for second, 98 for third, 97 for fourth and so on, except in the 3/4 mile relay, where the points were divided among the three members of the squad.

Ken Wegner won four first places, yet placed only third among the individual scorers. The speedy junior won the broad jump, 75 yard dash, high jump, and hurdles events.

The winning team, ATO, receives the handsome, three-foot-high perpetual trophy, donated by the Men's P.E. club, which sponsored the event. Five teams were entered.

Team Scores

Team results: 1. Alpha Tau Omega, 2320.5; 2. Sigma Nu, 2302; 3. Phi Delta Theta, 2223.5; 4. Phi Sigma Kappa, 2201; and 5. Campbell Club, 2180.

The top six individual scorers were: 1. Brethauer, ATO, 777.5; 2. Minor, Sigma Nu, 777; 3. Wegner, ATO, 776; 4. Dean Van Leuven, Phi Deltas, 768.5; Don Lyman, ATO, 767; and Bob Enright, Phi Sigs, 764.

THREE TEAMS TOO MUCH

Faculty Nine Loses to Students

Despite a tremendous late game rally that netted two runs, the Faculty women fell victim to the combined talents of three student co-ed ball clubs Wednesday on Gerlinger field, 7-4.

An apparent cause of the defeat was that the faculty nine was just worn out by the trio of girls' teams which each played one inning. The older club had to go the entire three innings without relief.

Mixes 'Em Up

Faculty pitcher Shirley Cox, P.E. instructor, hurled a masterful ball game, completely baffling the student hitters with a variety of fast, slow-fast, medium, fast-slow, and slow ball pitching. Her curve, up and down, was also working to perfection.

The losers threatened to protest the contest in the second inning, after going behind, 6-2, when the second student thrower, Norma Munie of the Lone Swatter nine, substituted a sponge ball for the regular horsehide.

However, the impartial arbitrator, Counselor of Men A. L. Ellingson, overruled the protest. (Before the game began, Ump Ellingson banned all soda pop, sold in bottles, from the field.)

No "Coming Home Late" Faculty member Golda Wickham ruled her squad with an iron hand. She didn't tolerate poor excuses, such as "being stranded on the bases," whenever her girls "came home late."

The game almost broke up in the last inning when the students, fearing a last minute faculty comeback, assembled all three of their teams on the field. Against 21 fielders and three pitchers, the Faculty batting attack folded, with the last batter hitting into a double play.
