

Ducks Win on Power, 20-12

pass from center spiraled over punter Bordogna and the Husker kicker had to chase the ball into the end zone. The hurried kick slithered off the edge of his foot and went out of bounds on the Nebraska 12.

James, who racked up 76 yards in nine tries during the afternoon, took only one play to go the distance, an end sweep to his own right. It looked like the halfback would be stopped on the four, but Hodges applied a key block to open the hole.

This time Shaw's try for point after touchdown was good. Oregon's first squad, which played the entire first quarter without a substitution, not only showed off a sterling offensive push, but also played airtight defense. Nebraska was bottled up in its own half of the field during the whole 15 minutes, advancing only as far as the 47.

As soon as the initial frame was over, both coaches sent in their second elevens. This way, they could substitute their first squad later in the same period. Nebraska's substitute gridders made a better showing than the first team, as they went 57 yards in 12 plays early in the second quarter.

Fischer Leads Attack

Rex Fischer, Bordogna's understudy, was the leader of the Nebraska attack, which went all the way on the ground. Fischer, only a sophomore, personally accounted for 41 of the yards.

Notable gains were a 17 yard reverse by Denny Korinek from the Oregon 44 to 27; and a fine 13 yard broken field exhibition by Mr. Fischer that ended on the 3.

It looked like the Oregon line would hold after two plays had put the ball back to the four, but on the third down Fischer scored on an off tackle slant from the single wing.

Korinek's placement attempt was wide.

Nebraska's second platoon was quick in its scoring drive, but Oregon's substitutes were even faster. Albright took Korinek's kickoff and returned to the Oregon 39.

Albright carried again and picked up five yards. On second down, Fleet Ted Anderson, Oregon's 440 ace, streaked through the line, eluded the three Husker linebackers, and rambled 56 yards untouched for Oregon's third six pointer. Dean Van Leuven, fullback, threw the key block for his halfback mate on the midfield strip.

Holland Converts

Barney Holland, who replaced Shaw, was successful on his extra point attempt.

Nebraska threatened again before the half, after on Oregon fumble set the home crew up on the Oregon 27. Bordogna packed the ball to the 19, but on the next play he also fumbled, with Oregon's John Reed recovering. Shaw punted out of danger on fourth down.

After a scoreless third period, Fischer came back into the game for Nebraska, and set up the last touchdown, this time through the air lines. Working from the tail-back spot, he ripped off gains of nine and three yards to place the ball, first and ten, on his own 32.

He found the Oregon pass defense off the switch on first down, and passed a long one to Korinek on the 41. With defenseman Anderson on his tail all the way, Korinek barely made pay-dirt, being spilled just over the goal line. The point that could have put Nebraska within one TD of Oregon was blocked by Oregon's booming line.

The Webfoots controlled the ball for the last eight minutes in the game, when a slow drive ground out 79 yards, only to be stopped six feet from the goal.

With Hodges, Albright and James handling all the ball packing chores, the Ducks picked up six first downs on 19 plays. Walt Gaffney, with 12 seconds left, tried to go over from the two but was snowed under by Husker tacklers as the horn sounded.

Oregon resorted almost entirely to the ground game, and fired only six passes that gained a scant 21 yards. Coach Casanova was pleased with his team's ground attack, especially the running of James, who averaged 8.4 yards a try.

Defense Stops 'T' Wing

Oregon's defense worked to perfection against the Husker "T" and single wing. Reed, another Webfoot sophomore, and Emery Barnes stopped off all Nebraska's end runs, forcing the losers to go through the air or up the middle.

IM Office Making Plans for Football

The intramural office is now making plans for its fall sport program with touch football starting Monday, September 28.

Intramural managers are reminded that the fall term sports entries are to be turned into the intramural office no later than Tuesday, September 22 at 3:00 p.m.

The IM office is interested in contacting officials for the coming football season. Twelve referees are needed each evening. Officials are paid at the campus rate for 2½ hours per evening. Interested referees are asked to contact Earl Ferguson or Dr. Paul Washke at the IM office.

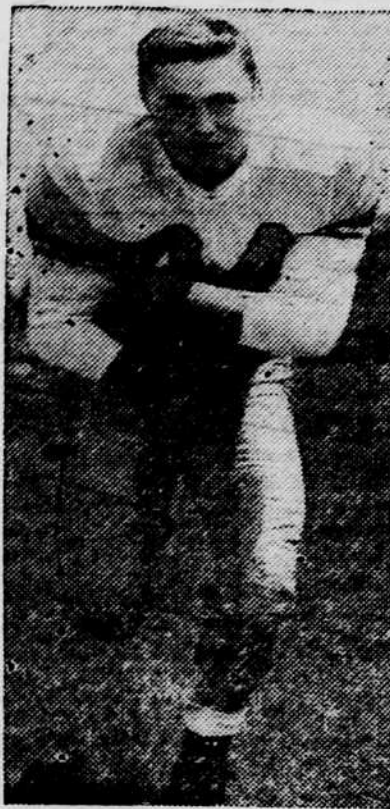

Vogue Magazine Sponsors Contest

Enrollments in Vogue magazine's competition for senior college women may be made now through Oct. 15. The first prize is a position as a junior editor with the magazine for one year.

The winner will spend six months of her year in Vogue's Paris office, with transportation to Paris and back, in addition to her salary, paid. The remaining six months will be spent in New York. Second prize is a job for six months as a junior editor in the New York office.

Writing ability, grasp of subject matter, general intelligence, originality and demonstration of special talents are points on which the contestants are judged. Competitors complete two quizzes of four questions each, based on actual editorial problems. First of the quizzes appeared in the August issue. The second is scheduled for appearance in the December issues.

Those entrants who satisfactorily answer the quizzes will be eligible to write a 1500 word thesis on a general subject which gives them opportunity to express their own ideas.
