

Sports Staff Picks . . .

. . . winners of Saturday's games. See page 3.

Student Assemblies . . .

. . . for this school year are listed on page 4 of today's Emerald.

WANT A SHINE?

Prexy Losing Bet

The Oregon State student body president will get a shoeshine at the OSC-Oregon game from ASUO Pres. Tom Wrightson if the report on insurance sales presented to the senate at last night's meeting remains the same through Saturday noon.

Oregon student insurance sales amounted to 700 policies, Wes Ball, insurance committee chairman, said, while OSC has a total of 2000 policies sold. Wrightson had a bet with the OSC president that if Oregon sold the least number of policies, he would shine his shoes. The time limit is Saturday noon.

In other business, the senate heard reports on the Northwest Federation of College Leaders, honor code and Wrightson presented his list of appointments for various campus groups.

R. D. Horn, professor of English, joined E. G. Ebbighausen as the second faculty member on the senate.

Appointments listed by Wrightson included military and educational committee, Andy Berwick (second term); assembly committee, Pat Gustin and Ward Cook; student affairs committee, Andy Berwick, Judy McLoughlin, Mary Waddell and Wrightson; publications board, Karl Harshbarger, Dorothy Kopp and Alan Oppliger; discipline committee, Ron Lowell, Alex Byler and Gail West; ASUO-SU board joint screening committee, Ward Cook, Elsie Schiller, Marilyn Parrish and Len Calvert; entertainment commission, Gloria Lee; community chest drive, Janet Wick; rally board committee, Don Crawford, Paul Lasker and Ann Blackwell. Cabinet appointments include Pete Williams, athletic chairman, and Ann Dellschneider, social chairman. A public relations chairman may be appointed later after definite duties for the position are decided upon.

Freshmen elections have been set for Nov. 4. A discussion as to when and how a graduate student will be added to the senate in accordance with the amendment passed last spring, brought about several interpretations of the meaning of the amendment. Further discussion will be held next week.

Summer's report on the letters he has sent to schools in the Northwest concerning the formation of an organization in this area, not connected with the National Student association was favorable for the replies he has received so far. There is a possibility the group can be organized by next spring.

Bob McCracken, chairman of the honor code committee, presented a rundown on the activities of his committee in informing the freshmen of the Honor Code.

Disapproval of a proposal to move Junior Weekend from Mother's Day weekend to the next weekend was indicated by the senate.

The senate also heard a proposal on installing chimes in the SU tower. Dick Williams, SU director, is to report to the senate next week.

Petitioners for the vacant senior and sophomore representative spots on the senate will be considered next week. The petitions are due Wednesday at 5 p.m. in Wrightson's office in the SU. Homecoming chairman petitions are due at the same time.

The senate also approved athletic awards for spring term sports.

Elsie Schiller was elected senate secretary to replace Patti Ruan who was elected last spring but failed to return to school.

Annual Bunion Derby Scheduled for Tonight

"UPON MY SOLE!"

the money ready at the specified time.

Men's percentages will be checked by the number of men visiting the houses compared to the number of members of the organization. Women's percentages will be calculated from the number of women in the house compared with the number of men who visit during the evening.

Last year's winners were Phi Gamma Delta and Alpha Gamma Delta. Second place winners were Zeta Tau Alpha and Sigma Alpha Epsilon with Kappa Kappa Gamma and Alpha Tau Omega third.

Men are to start out at the living organization with which they are paired. They are then to proceed down the list to the bottom. When this is reached they will start at the top and continue downward until all of the houses have been visited. In order to be eligible for the prize the men must follow the route exactly and visit each house.

Pairings Listed

Official pairings for the derby are as follows: Theta Chi at Hendricks Annex; Merrick hall and Phi Kappa Alpha at Hendricks hall; Sigma Phi Epsilon at Gamma Phi Beta; Phi Kappa Sigma and Phi Kappa Phi at Alpha Phi; Susan Campbell and Alpha hall at Rebec house (Highland house women will be at Rebec); Lambda Chi Alpha along with the money at 9 and Sigma Alpha Mu at Alpha Xi Delta; Beta Theta Pi at Chi Omega; Sigma Chi at Kappa Alpha Theta; Phi Delta Theta at Kappa Kappa Gamma; Delta Tau Delta at Sigma Kappa; Sigma Alpha Epsilon at Pi Beta Phi.

Additional pairings include: Phi Kappa Psi at Alpha Chi Omega; Gamma hall and Kappa Sigma at Zeta Tau Alpha; Phi Gamma Delta at Delta Gamma; Sigma Nu at Alpha Gamma Delta; Delta Upsilon and Nestor at Alpha Delta Phi; Campbell club at Alpha Omicron Pi; Alpha Tau Omega at Delta Delta Delta; Chi Psi and Phi Sigma Kappa at Delta Zeta; Tau Kappa Epsilon and Sigma hall at University house and Hale Kane, Stitzer and French halls at Carson hall.

Strike Stops Work On New DU House

A strike by the cement finishers in the Eugene area and a series of sympathy strikes in almost every field of the construction business has temporarily stopped construction of the new chapter house of the Delta Upsilon fraternity, according to Milan Foster.

Latest word on the strike indicated that work would resume on many projects by today, but despite pressure by University of Oregon officials and the DU alumni association, the new fraternity house was not included in the back to work movement. The strike is expected to end in the next few days but the union's demand for a 15 cent hourly wage increase has not yet been accepted.

Bunions, calluses, bruised toes and sore feet are in prospect for tonight following the Associated Women Students' Bunion Derby. Traditionally the members of all of the men's living organizations on campus invade the women's organizations for seven minute periods of dancing.

At 7 tonight University men will make a tour of the 21 women's houses.

Campus clothes are in order for this AWS fund-raising project according to Barbara Wilcox, general chairman. The nickel collected from each man at each stop on the route will go to the AWS scholarship fund.

Prizes Awarded

A rotating trophy and records will be awarded to the men's living organization which has the largest percentage of men participating in the tour. The women's house which collects the most money per capita will receive a prize of records.

The women are to mark off on a tally sheet the men's groups as they arrive. This will be collected along with the money at 9 a.m. Saturday morning by members of the collection committee. The committee has requested that the organizations have both the list and

Special Theater Production To Run Tonight, Saturday

KEN OLSEN

Season ticket holders only will be viewers of a special bonus production of "The Man," under the direction of Glenn Starlin to be presented at the University theater tonight and Saturday. Mel Delinni's psychological mystery drama will star Tru Vosberg and Ken Olsen, both graduates of the University of Oregon.

"The Man" was recently made into a motion picture under the title "Beware, My Lovely," starring Ida Lupino. The University theater first presented this drama in August as their final summer production.

Other cast members include Clarence Suiter, Audrey Mistretta, Bob Ross, Winston Ruse and Paul Maier.

Old season ticket subscribers will have been mailed invitations, and new holders will be admitted by showing their receipts at the door. The seating will be on a first come, first served basis, according to Mrs. Gene Wiley, business manager. A special adjustment will be made for those who fail to be seated, she said.

The doors will open at 7:30 p.m., curtain time is 8. Season tickets will be on sale at the theater box office from 1 to 5 p.m. Friday and 7:15 to 8 Friday and Saturday evenings. One admission will be allowed for each season ticket receipt held.

TRU VOSBERG

Philosophy Prof Receives Award

One of the 1953-54 Fulbright grants, carrying a year's study at Germany's Heidelberg university, has been awarded to Bertram E. Jessup, associate professor of philosophy.

During his year abroad, Jessup will work on a translation of Goethe's "Faust." His position on the University faculty will be filled by Catherine Rau, professor of philosophy at San Rafael college.

IFC Begins Fall Rushing With Sunday Meeting

Oregon fraternities will begin their first fall term rush week in four years with an orientation meeting Sunday night at 7:30 in the Student Union ballroom.

Frederick M. Hunter, former chancellor of the State Board of Higher Education, will speak to the rushees on the idealistic side of fraternity living.

Inter-Fraternity President Con Sheffer will give a brief rundown on the schedule for rush week. IFC members will hand out copies of the schedule at the door.

Rush week rules will go into effect Sunday and the 10 p.m. termination of rush dates will be more rigidly enforced than in the past.

At its regular meeting Thursday night, the IFC discussed its annual "get acquainted" trip to the coast. Fraternity presidents, university administrative officials, and dormitory counselors will discuss plans for the school year. Governor Paul Patterson will join the group Sunday.

In other regular business, house presidents were asked to prepare estimates of the number of men to return to school next fall.

J-School Faculty Named to Posts

Two members of the University of Oregon school of journalism faculty were named to top posts in national journalism associations at conventions held in August at East Lansing, Mich.

Gordon A. Sabine, dean of the journalism school, was elected vice-president of the National Association of Accredited Schools and Departments of Journalism. Named to the Council on Communication Research of the Association for Education in Journalism was Warren C. Price, associate professor of journalism.

Science Department Prepares Roster

A roster of all pre-professional scientific students is being prepared by the science department, according to A. H. Kunz, head of the chemistry department.

All students who are planning to major in some scientific field are asked to register in the science building office. The roster will be used as a reference and mailing list