

Mount Angel Choir Sponsored by SU

The Failing Distinguished Lecture series, in co-sponsorship with the Student Union board, will present the Budapest Quartet here in January. However, the SU board alone will sponsor the Mount Angel Choir presentation in February, not in co-sponsorship with the Failing group as was incorrectly reported in the Emerald Friday.

Men's Dormitory Has Housemother

by Len Calvert
Emerald Assistant Managing Editor

Something new has appeared on the University of Oregon campus—a housemother in a men's dormitory.

Mrs. Katherine DePue is housemother at Susan Campbell hall, the first woman to fill such a post on the University campus. Mrs. DePue comes from the University of Maryland where she acted as housemother for six years. Her last place of employment was Theta Chi fraternity at Maryland.

Particularly impressed with the friendliness of the people she has met at Oregon, Mrs. DePue also likes the cleanliness of the campus.

'Susie' Is Pleasant

Terming herself as "partial to boys," Mrs. DePue says that living in "Susie" has been very pleasant so far, and she believes that there is a good, representative group of men living in the hall.

Acting as housemother for 112 men, Mrs. DePue has one trait which is in her favor—she is not bothered by ordinary noise.

Mrs. DePue believes that each group of men has a way of testing the personality of their "mother away from home." To illustrate her point, Mrs. DePue told of an incident at Maryland when a dance band was brought to the house at 3 a.m. It was a boy's going away party, she said, and the boy decided that the right way to end the evening was to bring the dance band home.

No Noise Heard

The next morning the men asked her if she had heard anything during the night. She smiled and told them in her slight Southern accent, "either I heard something or I was dreaming." Nothing more was done about the matter and the men cooperated perfectly with her after that, she said.

At the University of Maryland it is customary for fraternities and dorms to have housemothers, according to Mrs. DePue. Ten new fraternity houses are being built there, she said, all with suites for a housemother.

No Resentment Felt

Mrs. DePue said that she can not tell if the men in "Susie" resent her presence in the dorm or not. So far there has been no expression of resentment toward her presence, she said.

The University feels that her presence in the dorm will aid the freshmen to adjust to campus life and also lend an air of graciousness to the hall, Si Ellingson, counselor for men, said.
