

Schmidt, Rice Fill Senate Vacancies

Ben Schmidt and Gordon Rice were elected by the ASUO senate Thursday night to fill the senior and sophomore vacancies, respectively, of that group. Dorothy Kopp and Bob Pollock were chosen as co-chairmen of Homecoming, following interviews which took up a good share of the 3½ hour meeting.

In other business, the senate:

1. Heard a complete report on the present state of the Millrace and what can and cannot be done about it from E. G. Ebbighausen, faculty member of the group.

2. Approved a recommendation by Student Union Director Dick Williams that $1900 in a memorial plaque fund be put in a fund to purchase chimes for the campus.

3. Declared a graduate student vacancy on the senate and called for petitions for the spot.

4. Approved the appointment of Sylvia Wingard, Art Middleton and Dick Gray to the student court.

5. Heard a report on the rally

Petitions Asked To Fill Vacancy

Graduate students may submit petitions for membership on the ASUO senate, it was decided at Thursday night's senate meeting.

The decision came after discussion of how the requirements of the amendment providing for a graduate student representative on the body were to be met. (The amendment was approved by the student body in the general elections last spring.)

The amendment states: There shall be one graduate student, a voting member of the senate, elected by the graduate students during the school year.

The senate members questioned whether this meant they should call an election this fall or declare the spot vacant and call for petitions. In the latter case, the selection of the new member is done by the senate.

It was ASUO Vice Pres. Don Collin's opinion that the spot was technically a vacancy and petitions should be called for.

Deadline for the petitions will be announced later and the candidates for the post are to be interviewed at the next senate meeting, Oct. 15.

Art Museum Hours Changed; Japanese Prints on Exhibition

The art museum, which had previously been open for only two hours a day, opened on an extended schedule Thursday, according to Wallace Baldinger, curator of the museum.

Both the galleries and the library of the building will be opened, Baldinger said, and the new hours will be from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, and from 7 to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

A special exhibition of Japanese prints will be featured in the mezzanine gallery, commemorating the centennial of Matthew Perry's expedition to negotiate a treaty between the United States and Japan.

Mrs. Gertrude Ross Warner donated the collection to the University in 1921 as a memorial to her husband. The collection, which is composed of prints reflecting board finances, a short orientation report by Judy McLoughlin and approved the ASUO budget.

Schmidt was selected for senior representative over Dick Hollenbeck. Rice won the nod for the sophomore vacancy over nine other petitioners. The other petitioners for Homecoming chairman were Milan Foster, whose petition was accepted by the senate late and Russell Cowell and Robert Kelly who also petitioned as co-chairmen.

Ebbighausen's report was the result of investigation during the past summer by himself and Dick Williams who took a personal tour of the entire length of the 'Race. He stated that as things stand, the lower end of the waterway (from the highway past the Millrace houses to the outlet) cannot be changed, the size of the outlet pipe under the highway being too small to allow a faster flow of water.

However, he was very optimistic about the chances for improving the 'Race and its flow from its intake point to where it runs under the highway near the 11th St. intersection. J. O. Lindstrom, University business manager, has $5,000 which is being used now to begin preliminary work on a park on the banks of the 'Race across from the physical plant. The area is now being graded, and construction of a cement sidewalk on the highway above the area has begun. The money must be spent by July 1, 1954, Ebbighausen stated.

Approval of the proposition for campus chimes came after discussion of whether the money might be used for something else and of where the chimes would be placed. Money for the chimes would come from a fund set up several years ago for veterans' scholarships and not used because of G.I. bill of rights aid. That fund now contains $1,900 and would need $700 more to take care of purchase and installation of the chimes.

A question was raised concerning the placement of the chimes as some felt the SU was not appropriate. Sally Hayden, who is also president of the University Religious council said that group had done some work toward plans for a campus chapel, in which, if built, the chimes could be placed. Williams said that if the chimes were installed this year in the SU, they could be moved without much trouble to a chapel if such were built.

the barbarous impact of Western civilization upon Japan, was started by Major and Mrs. Warner, while they were living in Shanghai.

Mrs. Mabel Garner, the retiring curator of the museum, was a close friend of Mrs. Warner, and has represented her as caretaker of the collection. Mrs. Garner's resignation will be effective Nov. 1.

Speaking of his long-range plans for the museum, Baldinger said, "We hope to make the program of the museum a means by which to arouse popular interest and enthusiasm for oriental art. We propose to remain faithful to the spirit of Mrs. Warner's gift, which stresses the purpose of the collection, in furthering good will and understanding between the peoples of America and the Far East."

Rush Nears End; Men Obtain Bids Early Saturday

Men completing rush week will pick up their bids Saturday morning in Student Union 214.

This will climax a week's activities which saw 390 men go through the first fall term rush week in four years. It is also the largest number to participate in formal rushing for the past few years.

Rushes will sign their preference cards tonight between 10 and midnight in SU 214. Rushes may pick up their bids between 9 a.m. and noon Saturday.

"It has been a very successful week," Con Sheffer, Inter-fraternity council president said. There had been no violations of the IFC rush rules up to Thursday night, Sheffer said. He was also pleased about the large turn-out of men for the week's activities.

Mixer Planned For SU Tonight

Another informal, no-date mixer will be held in the Student Union Fishbowl from 9 to 12 tonight, announced Phyllis Pearson, chairman of the SU dance committee.

Admission to the mixer is free, Miss Pearson said. Correct attire for the dance is campus clothes, she added. Music will be by record only, and no entertainment intermission has been planned.

SU mixers are held on weekends throughout the year when no major campus function is planned, and are under the sponsorship of the SU dance committee. No dates are specified in order to give new and old students an opportunity to become acquainted with one another, Miss Pearson declared.

Ticket Salesmen Asked to Report To UT Today

All house representatives in the University theater house ticket sales campaign are to check in at the box office between 1 and 5 today, Mrs. Gene Wiley, theater business manager, has announced. Receipts are to be turned in for all renewals of season tickets so that processing can begin this weekend.

Mrs. Wiley asks that all agents check in, whether they have any renewals or not. If a seller has no renewals, he may keep his receipt book until Wednesday when house sales formally end.

The house selling the largest percentage of tickets will be admitted free with guests to any one University theater production. The current season begins Oct. 23 when "See How They Run," directed by Horace W. Robinson, opens on the main stage.

Hui-o To Party Saturday Night

Hui-o-kamaaina, campus organization for students who have lived in Hawaii for two or more years, will hold its first social of the year from 8 to 12 p.m. Saturday in Gerlinger hall.

Both old and new members are invited to attend, according to Margaret Ednie, junior in physical education. Refreshments will be served and campus clothes are in order, Miss Ednie reports.

UCLA, Oregon Meet Saturday

GEORGE SHAW Passing or Punting

Partially cloudy skies are not expected to dampen the enthusiasm of the crowd of 15,000 to 18,000 forecast by the athletic business office for Oregon's opening home game with UCLA at Hayward field Saturday afternoon. Kickoff time is set for 1:30 p.m.

Plenty of tickets for the game are still available, according to the athletic office. Prices of reserved seats are $3 and $4. A total of 1500 general admission tickets will go on sale for $1.80 Saturday morning.

Students will be admitted to the game by athletic cards. These cards should be picked up in McArthur court by 5 p.m. today, urges the athletic department. They will also be available at the field Saturday. According to the athletic office, those students who use the cards illegally will be barred from all athletic events for the remainder of the term.

The south end of the east grandstand, sections M and N, has been reserved for students, reports Al Goldenberg, rally board chairman. The rally squad will center its activities in this area.

Preceding the game members of Phi Theta, Kwama and Skull and Dagger will sell programs. The latter two organizations will also decorate the goal posts.

Dress for the game will be campus clothes, Goldenberg stresses. Freshmen men are to wear rooters lids and freshmen women are to wear green ribbons. Members of Skull and Dagger will check for violators of these traditions.

Oregon's spirited football team ran through their final important work-out Thursday afternoon before Saturday's all-important contest with the vaunted UCLA Bruins on Hayward field.

Hoping to have his charges in top shape by game time, Coach Len Casanova emphasized punting and sharpening offensive plays in the Thursday drill.

It appears likely that Saturday's tussle will be played in the mud. This could make punting a very important aspect of the game. With this thought in mind, Casanova had his prize quarterback, George Shaw, practicing for some fifteen minutes on his punting. After the punting drill the Ducks spent much time in running through their planned offensive maneuvers for the encounter.

Rally Set Tonight

A pre-game street rally for the UCLA game will be held on Willamette street beginning at 7 this evening, according to Al Goldenberg, rally board chairman. With a primary purpose of promoting ticket sales, the rally is sponsored by the rally board and the Eugene Chamber of Commerce.

A demonstration of Oregon yells will be given by the rally squad, making its first public appearance, Dave Lenz, yell king reports.

Delta Zeta, Gamma Phi Beta, Delta Delta Delta and Delta Gamma will have Oregon living organizations pictures taken Monday at Kennell-Ellis, Janet Bell, living organizations editor, has announced. Makeups for other houses are scheduled for this afternoon and Saturday.

There will be two photographers taking organization pictures for the remainder of the shooting schedule, so two complete time schedules can be run, Miss Bell said.

Times for the houses are: Delta Zeta and Delta Delta Delta, both 9 a.m. to noon, and Delta Gamma and Gamma Phi Beta, both 1:00 to 5:15 p.m.

Dress will be white blouses of the sport or Peter Pan type, with uniformity of style urged by all members of one house, Miss Bell stated.

Members of Alpha Xi Delta, Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Delta Pi, Ann Judson, Alpha Phi, Chi Omega, and Alpha Omicron Pi, who were not able to have pictures taken during their scheduled time this week, may have makeups taken today from 3:15 to 5:15 p.m., and 9 a.m. to noon tomorrow, Miss Bell said.

All Saturday mornings will be reserved at Kennell-Ellis for makeups from the previous week, but house members are urged to have pictures taken during their specified time to avoid congestion at Kennell-Ellis on Saturday, Miss Bell emphasized.

Cosmopolitan Club Schedules Meeting

Cosmopolitan club, whose announced aim is to promote better understanding between the foreign and American students on campus, will hold its first meeting at 8 a.m. today at Plymouth house.

Transportation to the meeting will be provided from the Onyx street entrance of the Student Union between 7:45 and 8 p.m.

Entertainment will be provided by the Eugene Folk Dancers under the direction of David Eikenbeiner, president. Former members of high school International Relations leagues are invited to the meeting.

The backfield timing has been thrown off somewhat by the wet weather but backfieldmen Dick James, Farrell Albright, and Ted Anderson seemed to be running quite well despite the slick going. If the Webfoots are able to condition their offense to the muddy field by Saturday afternoon they could very easily give the highly favored Uclans a rugged battle.

Red Sanders' Bruins will no doubt have a tough time adjusting to the wet turf and if Oregon can get their attack clicking early in the game a tremendous upset is possible.

Before this young football season got underway some two weeks ago Oregon was conceded little chance of staying anywhere close to UCLA in this game. But in
