

GRAD STUDENT

Bruce Appointed To Senate Spot

Richard Bruce, graduate student in speech and psychology, was elected to the ASUO senate following interviews during its Thursday night meeting. His petition was submitted Thursday after those of Martin Meadows, Thomas Grave and Paul McMullen.

The senate moved to request that ASUO Pres. Tom Wrightson ask for the resignation of Don Fisher, senior representative. Fisher has not attended any meetings of the senate.

Bob McCracken resigned as honor code committee chairman. His reasons for resigning were that he had held it with the understanding it was temporary and felt a senate member should hold the post. A new chairman will be selected later.

Sally Thurston was approved as a member of the publications board, replacing Karl Harshbarger who resigned.

After a length discussion of the fate of the "O," Hollis Ransom was appointed as chairman of a committee including Jim Duncan and Paul Lasker to look into the situation and get the views of the city council.

Several suggestions on moving the "O" site and changing the composition of the "O" were made. It was also suggested that the freshmen, through their hall presidents, be asked to fix the "O" in time for Homecoming. The committee will look into all possibilities.

Autograph Parties Scheduled for Nun

Sister Mary Gilbert will be in Eugene Monday to autograph copies of her book, "The Springs of Silence," at two autographing parties. In the morning she will be at the book department of the University Co-op from 10 a.m. to 12

Saturday Deadline

Saturday noon is the deadline for making reservations for Matrix Table, Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Student Union. Names of persons wishing to attend should be turned in to the school of journalism office, according to Kitty Fraser, president of Theta Sigma Phi, sponsors of the dinner.

noon. From 2 to 4 p.m., she will autograph books at Russell's book department.

Students interested in meeting the former Oregon student may attend the autographing parties even though no purchases are made.

"The Story Behind 'The Springs of Silence'" will be told by Sister Mary Gilbert Tuesday at 7 p.m. at Matrix Table in the Student Union ballroom. The annual banquet is sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, women's national journalism honorary.

Matrix will also honor two outstanding women at the dinner Tuesday night. A "Woman of Achievement" chosen from University students and the selection of an outstanding Eugene woman will be announced by Theta Sigma Phi.

Lerner to Speak At UO Assembly

Max Lerner, noted author, teacher and journalist will appear at a University assembly in the Student Union ballroom Tuesday at 1 p.m. His subject will be "America and an Open World."

The speaker is currently a professor of American civilization at Brandeis university and columnist for the New York Post. He was educated at Yale and has taught at Sarah Lawrence, Harvard and Williams.

He is also working on a new book, "America as a Civilization," which deals with national traditions, America as a world leader and the pattern of American life.

He has published books dealing with politics, international affairs, economics, ethics and other areas of the American scene. His best known books are "It is Later Than You Think," and "Ideas Are Weapons." "Actions and Passions," his most recent book, is a collection of essays published by Simon and Schuster in 1949.

As a world traveler, Lerner has served as a war correspondent in Germany, has reported Labor Party conferences from England, international conferences from Paris, new developments from Yugoslavia, and the formation of a new state and society from Israel.

12 Still In Race For Betty, Joe

Contestants for the Betty Co-ed and Joe College titles were narrowed to a final 12 Thursday night by a board composed of students, faculty members, and townspeople.

Finalists for Betty Co-ed are Phyllis Pearson, Alpha Chi Omega; Jill Hutchings, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Beverly Jones, Pi Beta Phi; Paula Curry, Nestor hall; Barbara Bailey, Alpha Phi and Lorette Mason, Sigma Kappa.

In the finals for the Joe College contest are Phil Lynch, Alpha Tau Omega; John Shaffer, Beta Theta Pi; Andy Nasburg, Sigma Chi; Don Hazelett, Phi Gamma Delta; Don Bonime, Sigma Alpha Mu and Max Anderson, Carson 5.

Final selection from the six men and six women will be made by vote at the Sophomore Whiskerino next Saturday, according to Marilyn Parrish and Bob Mc-Cracken, co-chairmen of the selection committee. Last year's titlists were Alex Byler, junior in political science, and Gloria Lee, junior in liberal arts.

Finalists among the men are exempt from the no shaving rule which applies to all other sophomore men, McCracken reports.

Judges for the contest were Donna Buse, Student Union program director; Eileen Lindblad, executive secretary of the YWCA; Kay Stager, Don Collin, Tom Wrightson, Faith Johnson, Mrs. Varon, Russell's; Bill Baker, H. T. Koplin, and Henry Fahley.

Board to Review Prexy Candidates

Members of the state board of higher education will meet informally Saturday morning in Portland to receive evaluations of nominees for the presidency of the University of Oregon from the board of deans and faculty advisory council.

In an announcement made in Eugene Thursday, Board President Dr. R. E. Kleinsorge said no invitation would be made to any particular nominee at this time. Last week three nominees were interviewed by the board of higher education in Portland. Then two of the men, who are from the East, were entertained by the faculty at informal coffee hours here at the University. The third candidate is presumed to be a local man.

The next board meeting, at which time some official action could be taken, will be held Oct. 27 in Portland.

Keefe Announces Early Guide Sales

This year's Pigger's Guide, official University directory of students and faculty, is scheduled to be out two weeks earlier than usual this year, according to Paul Keefe, editor.

Usually on sale about Nov. 5th, the guide will go on sale Oct. 30th this year, Keefe said. Alan Opplinger, business manager, will be in charge of sales for the first day, and sales will be held at strategic spots on campus.

After the first day of sales they may be obtained at the Student Union main desk or Co-op, Keefe said. The price of the books has not yet been determined, according to Opplinger.

Freshmen Elections Nov. 4, Senate Says

Freshmen elections have been set for Nov. 4, it was announced at Thursday's senate meeting. Petitions are due by Oct. 27 in the ASUO office in the Student Union. The nominating assembly at which candidates will be given a chance to express their views will be Oct. 29.

Petitioners for the four freshmen officers, president, vice president, and two senate representatives must have a stantine or psych decile of four. Expenditures for the campaign will be limited to $15 per candidate. Four polling booths will be set up the day of elections, at Carson, the Co-op, SU and Straub hall.

SUCH FEAR

British Views Given

The British people do not understand why they can not carry the United States with them in certain questions of world policy, why there is "such fear" and repression of ideas in America, Victor Yates, Laborite member of Parliament told a University assembly audience Thursday.

Speaking with a definite British accent, Yates said that peaceful means are the only way to solve the present world crisis and that the British people as a whole see this.

"No war, bombs or guns will destroy opinions. In fact, they're likely to bring about just the opposite results," he said. "The only way to defeat a bad idea is to replace it with a better one."

Yates pointed out that in England "you can say what you want" with no fear of a congressional investigation. We feel that when people are allowed to express themselves openly and freely "you can see exactly where all the people are."

Commenting on the idea that Joseph McCarthy, (R. Wis.) is the "medicine necessary to stamp out a disease," Yates said: "First time I've heard that the way to cure a disease is to make people afraid to admit they have it."

A belief that the Labor party is infested with Communists seems to be widespread in this country, Yates commented. "This is not true for the Labor platform is entirely different for the Communist."

"I have found that the colleges and universities are not so prejudiced," he added. He has found sympathy in intellectual circles and feels that the intellectuals—those who have the education, the opportunity to base judgments on facts—must be "completely free to express what they feel."

If intellectuals are free, then the nation can feel that its leadership is not in doubt, he continued.

It's not because of sympathy to the Communist ideology, for Britain opposes any ideology that destroys thought or opinion, but there is no dispute as to whether Communist China should be admitted to the United Nations, Yates said.

"Britain can't understand why we can't carry the U.S. on this

UO Students to Fill Portland For UW-UO Game Saturday

A mass influx of University students to Portland is expected this weekend by Al Goldenberg, rally board chairman, as the campus is deserted for the first Portland game of the year with the University of Washington Saturday afternoon. Game time is 1:30.

Students will be admitted to the section below the west grandstand by athletic cards, which will be checked at the southeast gate of the stadium, the athletic business office reported Thursday.

Reserved seat tickets for the game will cost $2, $3 and $4, the athletic office has announced. General admission tickets will also be available Saturday morning. A special section will be reserved for members of Order of O and campus honoraries.

Dress for the game will be suits and heels for the women and slacks for the men, reports Anne Dielschneider, campus social chairman. Freshmen men are to wear rooter lids and freshmen women are to wear green ribbons, Goldenberg stressed.

Preceding the game members of Kwama and Skull and Dagger will decorate the goal posts. Free pom-poms will be distributed by the same organizations Saturday morning at Charles F. Berg.

A car rally will be held starting at noon at Holladay park, between N.E. 11th and 13th streets. The parade will go across the Burnside bridge, up Broadway, down 6th, and up to the stadium. Goldenberg urges that all students with cars participate in the rally.

Following the game, there will be a dance at Jantzen Beach for all Oregon and Washington students, according to Joe Anstett, rally board publicity chairman. Dick Schwary and his orchestra will be featured and regular ballroom rates of $1 plus tax will apply.

A yell contest between the two schools, exhibits of fraternity flags, and a 21-inch television set to be given away are also on the program.

Sophomores to Spend Weekend With Beards

"Sophomore men," according to Dick Gray and Phyllis Pearson, co-chairmen of the beard contest, "must not shave over the weekend."

Monday night at dinner there will be another progress check of the men by freshmen women, and Skull and Dagger, sophomore men's honorary, will dunk all violators in Fenton pool at 3 p.m. Monday.

IFC Discusses Confab Plans; Regional to be Held at OSC

Plans for the Western Regional Inter-fraternity conference meeting were discussed at the IFC meeting Thursday night. The University of Oregon will serve as co-hosts with Oregon State college for the meetings, Oct. 22, 23 and 24 at Corvallis.

Con Sheffer, Ted Rubenstein, and Alex Byler will serve as general chairmen for the college and alumni relations, social program and scholarship discussions, respectively.

Wes Ball, Lowell Schuck, Alan

Opplinger, Jim Casper, Forest Easton and Ronald Ricketts will serve as discussion leaders. The conference will be held in three divisions: small, medium and large-size universities.

At a special meeting with dormitory counselors and Si Ellingson, counselor for men, fraternity presidents and pledge trainers discussed the best nights for freshman study tables at fraternity houses. The meeting was held Thursday noon in Straub hall.
