

Ducks Work Offense, Defense For Spartans

Oregon's football squad worked on both offense and defense Wednesday afternoon in an effort to sharpen both phases of play for the clash with the invading San Jose State Spartans on Hayward field Saturday.

The defense had the job of stopping the San Jose type plays directed at it and evidently didn't do too well as Coach Len Casanova described it as poor.

Passing Stressed

The offensive drill consisted of both running and passing. Pass receiving was stressed as usual, and Casanova feels it is improving. So far sophomore End John Reed is the leading pass catcher with nine. Back Dick James has snagged five for second place.

San Jose State comes to Oregon with three wins and two losses and with one of the top-rated running attacks in the nation. The Spartans lost 34-14 to California last week but had a 14-14 tie at half time.

Oregon Line Coach Vern Sterling, who scouted the Spartan-Cal game last week, reported that San Jose had a very capable team but was simply worn down by Cal. He also said the Spartans played better ball than the score indicated. With Cal leading 21-14, Coach Bob Bronzan's Spartans were threatening deep in the Bear's territory, but a fumble cost San Jose a possible TD. The Sparts were again threatening when time ran out on them.

Touchdown Parade

Primarily an offensively minded team, San Jose has averaged four touchdowns a game. Recent reports, however, indicate they have been stressing defense to cope

Latest report on Oregon injuries show that soph Lineman Jerry Nelson, out for three weeks with a leg injury, will be able to take the field, but that Fullback Cece Hodges probably will not suit up.

Olson Wins Title

(P) - Carl (Bobo) Olson won the middleweight title Wednesday by outpointing Randy Turpin in a 15-round bout at Madison Square Garden. The two men were fighting for the crown vacated by Sugar Ray Robinson last year. Turpin scaled 157 and Olson 159 and one-half pounds.

Halfback James Leads Rushers

By John Cary
 Emerald Sports Writer

Dick James, the Duck's sensational sophomore halfback, didn't play very much offensive football in high school, but this fact seems a fallacy when you watch this 19-year-old Grants Pass lad in action on Saturday afternoons.

At the present time, he is leading the Webfoots in rushing, and has also caught his share of passes. For the first couple of weeks, James was among the top ball-carriers in the Coast Conference.

The 5'8", 170 pound James' defensive ability needs no comment, especially if you saw him up-end UCLA's Paul Cameron early in the first quarter of that rugged contest.

Grants Pass Grad

Dick is a '52 graduate of Grants Pass high where he lettered three years in baseball, one each in basketball and track, and two in football. His gridiron activities were confined mostly to defense.

The diminutive James really began to roll last year as a frosh; in fact he earned four frosh numerals, which is quite a feat for anyone. He played halfback in football, guard in basketball, threw the javelin and high jumped in

Betas Top Sigma Chi In IM Volleyball Play

Led by the savage spikes and all around floor game of lanky Bill Garner, Beta Theta Pi A's took two straight sets from the Sigma Chi A's by scores of 15-7 and 15-11. The losers, led by Kent Dorwin's smashing returns, forced the Beta's to try six times before they finally scored game point in the hard fought second set. Chandler Sogge and Larry Wolford were Garner's ace henchmen in the Beta's victorious cause.

Sigma Nu's Win Two

Sigma Nu broke a 7-7 tie to take the opening contest from the Phi Kappa Psi's, 15-8. The Phi Psi's, after changing sides of the court, rallied from 12-6 to tie up the last game at 12-12 but Sigma Nu, with Tom Swalm leading the way, pulled itself together and won 15-12.

ATO's Thump Tekes

Alpha Tau Omega downed Tau Kappa Epsilon 15-13 in a tight second set after rolling over the losers 15-3 in the opener. The Tekes, clearly outclassed in the opener, and trailing badly in the second game, fought back to tie the score at 13-all. Then, with the pressure really on, slender Johnny Keller sparked the ATO's back to life just in time to save the contest.

Phi Delt's Triumph

Phi Delta Theta and Lambda Chi Alpha had a nip and tuck battle in their first game, the Phi Delt's winning 15-12, but in the second contest the Phi Delt's waxed hot to win 15-0.

SAE's Nip Phi Kaps

SAE continued its winning ways in all intramurals by taking two straight games from Phi Kappa Sigma. The losers rallied from a 13-3 deficit in the first game before going down 15-10. The Sigma Alpha Epsilon team jumped to 9-0 lead in the second and coasted to a 15-7 game.

track, and hit around .270 as a second baseman, for the frosh baseball team.

Ahead of Veterans

Graduating to the varsity this year, James moved into the starting line-up at halfback ahead of several varsity letterman, and has performed like a season veteran in every game. At the conclusion of the football season, he will turn his attention to the basketball court, and then in the spring it'll be baseball.
