Verla Thompson, chairman of the Homecoming Radio Promotion committee, has announced members of her committee. Sally Cummins will handle correspondence; Lynn Rohlfis, local promotion, and Donna Hill, scripts.

Members of the radio skit committee include Sandra Price, Ed Myers, Pat McCann and Shirley Greenblatt.

Other members of the committee are Barbara Bailey, Patty Fagan, Abby Andrews, Larry King, Terry Duling, Naomi Brooks, Janet Monaghan, Nila Dodd and Pudge Johnson.

UIS Will Clarify UO Voting System

United Independent Students will meet at 12:30 Thursday in the Student Union to hear an explanation of the University of Oregon preferential system of voting, Pres. Hollis Ransom has announced.

The explanation is the first step in a program to acquaint new students, especially freshmen, with the Oregon procedure before the coming elections, Ransom said. Members of UIS will later visit various living organizations.

Ransom also announced the election of Gloria Lane, junior in education, as corresponding secretary of UIS and Gordon Rice, sophomore in journalism, as parliamentarian.

Teacher Education Expansion Planned

A 15-man committee began work here Friday to formulate curricula for the expanded teacher education program in the state system of higher education approved by the 1953 Legislature.

Next fall course work in elementary teacher education will go into the curriculum of the University of Oregon, Oregon State college and Portland State Extension center; and secondary teacher education will go into the three colleges of education at Ashland, LaGrande and Monmouth.

In outlining the functions of the committee Chancellor Charles D. Byrne said it must "establish guiding principles in building curricula at the several institutions and must plan a co-ordinated program of teacher preparation for the state."

The Chancellor charged the committee with the responsibility of keeping course and staff additions to an efficient minimum until needs and enrollment trends are established. He said that selfish institutional interests must be waved aside in the interest of providing the state with a well-balanced and effective program of teacher education.

The committee is composed of institutional presidents, education deans, liberal arts and science staff members, the state superintendent of public instruction, Rex Putnam, Wendell Van Loan representing the Oregon Education association and John R. Richards, system vice chancellor, the executive secretary.

Readings, Tryouts Slated For Play

The second and third readings and tryouts for "The Moon Is Blue" will be held today and Thursday in Villard 104 according to Horace W. Robinson, who will direct the arena staged adult comedy. Today at 4 p.m. Robinson will hear both new readers and those who read Monday and wish to return.

Thursday at 7 p.m. only those who have not read previously or who have been asked to come back will be given an opportunity to read. The popular comedy by F. Hugh Herbert will be the third production of the current season and begin its run the last of January.

Soph Whiskerino Nets Large Profit

For the first time in several years, according to Sam Vahey and Jim Duncan, Sophomore Whiskerino co-chairmen, the annual Whiskerino cleared a large profit. The dance made $190, Duncan and Vahey said, and the reports of sub-committee chairmen should be turned in to them by Monday.

Foreign Women's Tea Scheduled

The Foreign Students Women's Tea sponsored by the YWCA will be held today at 4 p.m. in the Men's Lounge at Gerlinger hall, according to Germaine LaMarche, chairman of international affairs.

YW cabinet members, besides explaining program areas, will tell how to join the YW and get into other activities. Refreshments will be served.

Committee members are Jean Sandine, Gwen Endicott and Barbara Gilpin.

Students Voice Wilson Opinions

Sigred Skurdal, freshman in English: "He is a very capable man and I think he will do all right."

William Heath, junior in pre-dental: "Mr. Wilson is capable enough to run a university. He has had an education and is popular; that's all it takes."

Hollis Ransom, president of UIS, and senior in law: "Mr. Wilson is an excellent man for the job. Since he is to be our president I wish him luck and I believe, with his liberal views on education, the relationship between the students and the administration will be as good, if not better, than in previous years."

Lorrie Johnson, junior in history: "Sounds like a good man and has modern ideas about education."

Ted Johnson, sophomore in geology: "Mr. Wilson has all the necessary qualifications and the experience. He also seems to have the ability. By what has appeared in the papers, he seems to be a man of character."
