With football still going at a strong clip, basketball has come into the limelight as Coaches Bill Borchert and Don Kirsch called their players together for their first practice.

Under the guidance of Bill Borchert, fifteen men turned out for the opening day practice, with other hopefuls to report at the close of the gridiron season. Of these fifteen men Borchert has five lettermen, Ed Halberg, Bob Stout, Ken Wagner, Bob Hawes and Howard Page. Letterman Barney Holland will report after the gridiron season.

Coming up from the Junior Varsity of last year are several hopefuls. These include Dick James, Max Anderson, Jerry Ross, Ray Bell, Gary McManus, Kent Dorwin, Art Weatherford and Bill Sherman.

In the opening day session, two transfers also reported. These included Max Glaves who transferred here from the College of the Sequoia in Visalia, Calif., and Ed Keegan of North Idaho Junior college.

In the opening session of the "Junior Ducks," 23 turned out under the leadership of Don Kirsch. The Freshman list included four high school All-Staters, Phil McHugh, Central Catholic; Tom Crabtree, Marshfield; and Bill Moore and Johnny Lundell, The Dalles.

Theta Chi B's Outlast Co-op In IM Action

The B team of Theta Chi took the Campbell club's Bs in three sets 15-8, 11-15, and 15-2 for their first win in two starts. Gus Keller's arrival in the Theta Chi lineup provided the spark for the final 15-2 shellacking given the Campbell Clubbers. After Theta Chi had won the first contest easily, the Campbell Club fought back to prolong the series, 15-11.

SAE Edges Sigs

Sigma Alpha Epsilon's B team provided the biggest thrill of the day's action by overcoming a large lead held by Sigma Chi to win 16-14 in a dramatic finish. Behind 13-3 the SAE's suddenly caught fire, bringing the score to 14-7 and then banged home nine crucial points in a row to win by the needed two point margin. This triumph coupled with a first game 15-9 victory gave the SAE's the nod over the Sigma Chi B's.

Chi Psi's Take Two

Chi Psi's B's toppled the Sigma Nu B team, grabbing the first tilt 15-3 and then coasting to a 15-12 win in the finale. Behind 0-3 in the second game, Chi Psi ran up eight straight points with Walt Lovell, Al Evans and Bob Lawson leading the way.

The Phi Kappa Psi second team forfeited to the Pi Kappa Alpha B's in the only cancelled game Wednesday.

Betas Still Winning

The Beta Theta Pi B squad continued its winning ways by downing the Kappa Sigma B's in two straight sets. After taking the first round by an easy 15-7 margin the Betas were forced to come from behind to win the second contest 15-13. The Kappa Sig's erected a 12-4 lead in the final set only to see the Betas, led by the fine floor play of Norm Forbes, rally to win.

Merrick Tips Stitzer

Merrick roared to a 15-2 victory over Stitzer in the third and deciding round after the two teams had split the first two sets. Fine spiking by Bob McNeil and good floor play by Jarl Gibson and Dudley Makahanaloa led the Merrick team to the victory. Merrick won the opener 15-8 only to see Stitzer bounce back for a 15-9 victory which sent the contest into the third set.

Oregon's football squad ran through another practice session of offense and defense Wednesday afternoon for their impending clash with the University of Idaho Vandals on Hayward field Saturday.

On defense Coach Len Casanova had the third team run Idaho plays at the first and second teams. And judging from the success of the third team, the first two units may be in for a rough time Saturday.

Defense Ragged

On top of the recent poor showing by the defense, Casanova expressed concern over the number

Vandals Ready

One Idaho player, senior Guard Ray Faraca, will be in the starting lineup for the first time since he was injured in the first game of the season. Also recovered from recent injuries and available for duty will be End Lou Mendiola and Tackle Burdette Hess.

But despite the seeming well-being of Coach Babe Curfman's team, the Vandals are reported to be quite lacking in depth.

Starting backfield for Idaho shapes up with either veteran George Eidam or Soph Bob Haines at quarter, hard-running Dick Pickett and Jay Buhler at the halfbacks, and Flip Kleffner, top punter in the conference, at fullback.

Haines, a 6-foot, 182-pounder, is ranked as the finest passer to come to Idaho in years but lacking in experience. Recent reports indicate, however, that he has been improving fast in drills.

James Third Rusher; Garrett Nearing Top

LOS ANGELES — Quarterback Bob Garrett, whose superb passing has rocketed Stanford into the lead in the Rose Bowl Derby, is closing in on California's Paul Larson for the total offense leadership of the Pacific Coast Conference, according to figures released by the PCC Commissioner's office.

Larson has rolled up 908 yards passing and 48 rushing for 956 yards total offense, but is trailed closely by Garrett, with 925 and Paul Cameron, UCLA, 881. In touchdown responsibility, they are in reverse order, Cameron leading with 14, Garrett 11, and Larson 6.

Big Passing Yardage

Garrett bagged the biggest passing yardage total in the PCC this year Saturday when he moved for 272 yards on 11 completions in 14 tries. He has completed 72 for 1036 yards and 10 touchdowns over the season, with only four intercepted. Washington's Sandy Lederman is the second ranking passer with 60 completions and Larson third, 52.

Cameron has a big bulge in rushing with 553 yards and an average of 5.5 per play. Aramis Dandoy, Southern California, is second with 411 and Dick James, Oregon, third, 409. Dandoy and James have three games to play and Cameron only two.

Cameron also leads the PCC in scoring with 54 points on nine touchdowns, to 48 points for Al Talley, California, and 42 for Ron Cook, Stanford. The UCLA tailback also ranks second in punting with a 41.6 average to 43.1 for Flip Kleffner, Idaho.

Morley Catches Most

Sam Morley, Stanford end, has the reception lead well in hand with 27 for 314 yards and three TDs, to 21 for 319 for teammate John Steinberg. Garrett leads in pass interceptions with seven.

Dandoy is the leader in punt returns with 290 yards and a 17.4 average, followed by Cameron with 166 yards. Jay Buhler, Idaho, has 205 yards on kickoff runbacks and Ralph Carr, Oregon State, 203.

of Oregon injuries.

Ducks currently on the disabled list include airplane casualties Dean Van Leuven and Jerry Nelson, both probably out for the season and Larry Rose, who is counted on to shoulder some of Van Leuven's duties at fullback but who is currently out with a foot injury. He may see action Saturday.

End Len Berrie is still doubtful as is giant End Emery Barnes, who has an injured hip.

Contrasting with the Oregon injured list is the Idaho team which at present has all 34 gridders in top shape. The Vandals are especially well rested in that they had an open date and did not play last Saturday.
