Oregon On Way To Two Records

LOS ANGELES — Three teams shared offensive honors in the weekly football statistics released by the Pacific Coast Conference Commissioner's office — UCLA, Stanford and California.

The UCLA Bruins have gained their spot on the ground, with an average of 247.6 yards a game rushing, and a big bulge over California's 193.5 and Southern California's 188.9. Stanford's superiority is through the air where the Indians have averaged 181 yards a game.

Nearing Records

Their completion mark of 56.8 per cent and their 14 touchdown passes place them within range of the Conference season records of 57.3 per cent (Washington, 1950) and 16 TDs (UCLA, 1946, and Washington State, 1951). California ranks second in passing with 166.1 and Washington third, 143.1.

California's combined rushing and passing totals give them a good lead in total offense with a game mark of 359.6 yards. Stanford is second, 325.4, and UCLA third, 313.

Ducks Up High

Three teams also shared defensive honors — Southern California, Oregon and UCLA. The Trojans have given up but 114.5 yards rushing to 121.9 for UCLA and 144.3 for Washington.

Oregon's pass defense has allowed but 57.1 yards and their totals of 30 completions allowed for 457 yards give them a chance at two PCC season records. Montana allowed but 53 completions in 1946 and Southern California gave up but 668 yards last year. Ranked next in pass defense are UCLA, 79.1, and Stanford, 85.5.

UCLA's total defense average of 201 is the best in the PCC, followed by Oregon, 231.3, and Southern Cal, 240.7. UCLA also leads in punting, 40.6, and is tied with California for interceptions, each having stolen 17 enemy aeriels. Washington State leads in kick runbacks, 17.1 yards on punt returns and 21 yards on kickoff returns.

All teams have two games remaining. This weekend: Washington State-Oregon State at Corvallis, Oregon-California at Berkeley, Washington-UCLA at Los Angeles, San Jose-Stanford at Stanford and COP-Idaho at Moscow. Southern California is idle.

COACH 'PAPPY' WALDORF
Prepares for Duck Season

Ducks Stay In Condition

Coach Len Casanova isn't going to let his Oregon football eleven get out of shape for the University of California game this Saturday at Berkeley.

The Ducks have won their last three games, the longest win streak since the 1948 Cotton Bowl season, and "Cas" isn't going to let his boys become overconfident.

After a giant-killing effort against USC two weeks ago, the Webfoots had it easy for the Idaho game. Casanova's job this week is to harden the Oregons up for the always tough Bears of Coach "Pappy" Waldorf.

The locals went through their second day of heavy practice Tuesday afternoon beneath wet, drizzly skies, the type of weather that isn't expected for the California contest.

The Ducks came out of the Idaho clash in good physical condition, and minor leg bruises are not expected to slow down Don Hedge-

WADDA YA KNOW

No Forfeits Reported in IM Games; Fijis; Phi Deltas, ATO's Victorious

In intramural action Tuesday, all of the games were held as scheduled, a feat that has been accomplished only four times since the start of the volleyball season.

In the first game, Phi Gamma Delta had to go to three games to gain their win over the Delta Upsilon team. All three of the games were fairly close, with the Fijis winning the first, 15-12, the D U's the second, 15-13, and the Fijis finishing stronger, 15-8. Both teams played a good brand of ball, with many fine saves.

Yesterdays action affected only the second place standings in the "B" leagues. A win for the Fijis tipped them into a second place tie with the team that they defeated, Delta Upsilon, in league 2-B; and the Alpha Tau Omega victory gave them undisputed title to second place in league 3-B.

Ho Hum, Irish Top AP Gridiron Poll

NEW YORK (AP) - Notre Dame's victory over the University of Pennsylvania last Saturday, didn't hurt the Fighting Irish's national football rankings at all. For the seventh straight week, Notre Dame was picked as the number one team in the nation in the poll of sportscasters and writers conducted by the Associated Press.

Notre Dame came from behind to beat the Quakers, 28 to 20, although the Irish were 19-point favorites. However, Notre Dame polled 79 of a possible 125 first-place votes. Maryland again was second and polled 24 first-place votes. Illinois moved up a notch to third place and received four votes for the top spot.

Phi Deltas Take It Easy

Phi Delta Theta had an easy time of it as they rolled over the Phi Kappa Sigma team in two successive games, 15-0 and 15-8. The Phi Deltas showed a tremendous net game as their spiking added many of the points to their score.

ATO Drops Deltas Twice

In Tuesday's final game, Alpha Tau Omega took both of the games played from the Delta Tau Delta squad. The scores were 15-5, and 15-12. In the final game, A T O had quite a time in keeping out in front of the Deltas, but closed fast to grab the win.
