J-School Dinner

Tickets for the journalism family dinner, to be held at 6 p. m., Tuesday in the Student Union ballroom, may be purchased for $1 at the school of journalism quonset next to Commonwealth hall until 5 p. m. Friday. Because of limited seating, tickets will not be available after this time.

Feature attraction of the evening's entertainment will be a talk by Gordon A. Sabine, dean of the school of journalism. Sabine will discuss the new journalism building and show slides of the complete floor plans of the structure.

Other entertainment will include skits by the students and faculty. All students interested in journalism have been invited to attend the informal dinner, Sabine announced. Those attending the dinner are advised to wear old clothes.

Luncheon Tickets

The sale of tickets for the Homecoming luncheon will end Friday, according to Germaine La Marche, chairman. Tickets are on sale at the Student Union and the Co-op at $1.25 each.

The luncheon, an annual feature of Homecoming, will be held at 11:30 a. m. Saturday in the SU ballroom. Tickets will also be available at the luncheon, Miss La Marche said.

Returning Alums Registration Set

Alumni returning for Homecoming are to register at the Eugene or Osburn hotels or at the Student Union, Sally Ryan, hospitality chairman, has announced. Alums must be registered to count towards the alumni registration trophy awarded to the living organization which has the largest number of alumni returning, she said.

The registration booths, staffed by members of Kwama and Skull and Dagger, will be open from 3 to 10 p. m. Friday and from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. Saturday.

Tickets for the luncheon and the dance will be on sale, as well as alumni association memberships and Homecoming buttons. No game tickets will be sold, Miss Ryan stressed. Copies of the Homecoming issue of the Emerald will be distributed, along with registration tags.

The winner of the rotating trophy, which will be presented at the Homecoming dance Saturday evening, will be determined Saturday afternoon on the basis of registration figures.

Last year's winner was Delta Delta Delta, followed by Beta Theta Pi and Alpha Tau Omega. No trophy was awarded in 1951 because of the weekends' conflict with Thanksgiving. The 1950 winner was Alpha Tau Omega.

HC Sign Judging Scheduled Friday

Signs for the Homecoming sign contest are to be completed by 5 p. m. Friday in order to be eligible for competition, according to co-chairman Ann Bankhead.

The judging will take place between 7 and 8:30 p. m. Friday. Signs will be judged on adherence to central theme, (Alums and We; '76 to '53") effort, originality and impressiveness. Lights, moving parts and music will be considered also, she said.

Financial statements and plans were to have been turned in to Miss Bankhead Wednesday. She may be reached at Kappa Alpha Theta for questions concerning sign construction.

Winners in the men and women's classes will each receive a rotating trophy. Presentation of these and the other prizes will take place during intermission at the Homecoming dance.

SU Board Seats New Members

by Laura Sturges
Emerald Editorial Assistant

Four new Student Union board members took their places at the board meeting Wednesday afternoon.

They are: Stanley Hunsdon, junior, physical education representative; Tom Taylor, junior, art and architecture representative; Bob Pollock, junior, liberal arts representative, and Klaras Dietmeier, senior, education representative.

The graduate school representative post remains vacant, Virginia Dailey, vice-chairman, reported.

Budget Report Approved
The board approved the monthly budget report, presented by Treasurer Bob Koutek. Of the $5,341 budgeted for 1953-54, $1,062.38 has been spent, leaving a balance of $4,278.62.

Board delegates who attended the recent Student Union conference at Washington State college spent $65 more than the travel budget allowance of $175, according to Board Chairman Andy Berwick. He explained that extra costs came from unforeseen accommodation expenses.

The board voted to take the $65 from the board contingency fund. The funds will be replaced later with proceeds from the Mount Angel choir concert in February.

Contest Planned
A student barber shop quartet contest will be held in the Student Union Jan. 22 in conjunction with Dad's weekend. Lucia Knepper, music committee chairman, presented tentative contest rules to the board. Letters concerning the contest have been mailed to men's living organizations, Board Secretary Donna Schafer said.

Appointments to two committees were announced by Berwick. On the creative arts workshop investigating committee are: Herman Cohen, instructor in speech, chairman; Klaras Dietmeier, Tom Taylor and R. C. Williams, Student Union director.

Named to the graduate program investigating committee are Bob Pollock, chairman, and Stanley Hunsdon.

The linen exhibit now in the Little Art Gallery will be on display until Dec. 5, according to Miss Schafer.

Phi Beta Senior Six Say No Success Secret Exists

by Dorothy Iler
Emerald Assistant News Editor

A "secret for success" doesn't exist for achieving high grades in college, according to the Senior Six of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary.

The five men and one co-ed, who will be initiated into the honorary today at 4 p. m., agreed that studying and extra-curricular activities both play important roles in the college program.

Warren Bachelis
Warren Bachelis, psychology major, feels that a certain amount of activities outside of the classroom is important. However, the primary emphasis should not be placed on them, he said. Bachelis' own study schedule is "very ir-ratic," but he believes in taking advantage of any possible study time.

Bachelis, who is already taking some graduate credits in psychology, plans to work for his master's degree here at Oregon.

Ron Lowell
A pre-med student, Ron Lowell, also follows no set schedule for studying. "Studying comes first, but a student must also save time for other things," said Ron. Activities are a necessary part of college, the Phi Beta initiate with a GPA of 3.93 believes, since one aim of college is to create a well-rounded individual.

Being president of Alpha Tau Omega heads Ron's own list of activities. Last spring, he received the Koyl Cup as the outstanding junior man on campus.

Shirley Shupe
"I never follow a definite schedule, because I just can't keep on it," said Shirley Shupe, English major. The only girl selected by Phi Beta Kappa this fall says she studies whenever she can find time. Activities can and should be co-ordinated with studies because a student "can miss one whole side of his personality" by not participating in extra-curricular activities, Miss Shupe said.

President of Ann Judson house, Miss Shupe has a GPA of approximately 3.75. She plans to do graduate work and eventually would like to teach.

Harold Toliver
"Studying each subject between each class is an effective way, to make good use of free time," said Harold Toliver, English major. (Please turn to page two)

Frosh Women Mid-term Statistics Reported High

Statistics regarding mid-term reports of freshman women have been released from the office of student affairs by Miss Virginia Kempston, freshman counselor for women. Less than 5 per cent have an F grade in any subject or more than three mid-term reports which indicate below average or failing work, she said.

Less than 10 percent of the women are doing below average work in two subjects. Approximately 30 percent are having the same difficulty in on subject only, many of which are one or two-hour courses.

Courses numbered 200 or more, not regular freshman subjects, cause the greatest amount of difficulty, according to the progress reports. Most warning cards have been returned from the science, social science, and English departments. This was an expected result since these courses are taken by most freshmen, said Miss Kempston.

Women receiving below average or failing grades in any subject are urged to contact Miss Kempston in her Emerald Hall office, at extension 265, for an appointment.

Dorm counselors are helping the freshmen with suggestions of wise use of study time, appointments with professors, seminars in subjects, help sessions in the various departments, as well as keeping good health habits, Miss Kempston added.
