

Campbell Club, French, Chi Psi Take IM games

Intramural volleyball action Wednesday consisted of three forfeits and three games in which Campbell Club, French hall and Chi Psi A teams scored victories over Barrister Inn, Merrick hall, and Lambda Chi Alpha, respectively. Winning via the forfeit route were Phi Sigma Kappa A, Nestor hall A and Kappa Sigma B.

Campbell Club's volleyballers won the third and deciding game to defeat Barrister Inn, 15-13, 12-15 and 15-10. In the final set, Campbell Club built up a 11-6 lead when Barrister Inn closed the gap with a four point splurge. But Campbell Club stopped the brief rally and dmated it with one of its own by taking four straight points to ice the game.

French hall dealt Merrick hall two identical losses, each 15-7 in their volleyball fray. Merrick, shorthanded with only three players, fought valiantly but in vain as French just had too much manpower. In each game however, Merrick held leads of 7-6 and 7-4 but seemed stymied to go any farther while French kept increasing their score to win.

Chi Psi outspiked Lambda Chi Alpha in each set of their contest, the first ending 15-9 and the second, a runaway at 15-2. Holding a slender 9-6 margin in the initial battle, Chi Psi gathered scoring momentum to win 15-9. By the second set they were at top form, knocking home 11 consecutive counters after a 4-2 score.

Webfoots Defense for OSC; Eight Game Captains Elected

Oregon's Ducks went through another practice session of offense and defense Wednesday afternoon as they continued to prep for the Saturday Homecoming clash with the Oregon State Beavers.

The usual Wednesday routine was followed with the defense consisting of the third team running OSC plays at the first two units and some dummy offense work to round out the drill.

JOE FULWYLER, OSC's senior center, will be a pain in the neck for Oregon's Ducks when the two cross state foes clash at Hayward field. He was the "Iron Man" for OSC last year, playing 326 minutes.

The squad had to drill without Dick James, who is still out of commission with a leg injury suffered in the California game. Along with linemen Chuck Laird and Don Hedgepeth, it is unlikely that he will see much, if any, action this weekend.

Elected game captains were the eight seniors who will be playing their last game. The eight named are Ted Anderson, Emery Barnes, who is also the season's captain, Len Berrie, Chuck Greenley, Cece Hodges, Barney Holland, Chuck Laird, and Ken Sweitzer.

The Beavers will be coming down to Eugene with two units in their last three games — 19-0 over Idaho, and 7-0 over WSC, sandwiched around a 34-6 loss to Michigan State.

Currently top ground gainer for Kip Taylor's charges is 5'9", 180-pound Ralph Carr, a returned serviceman. Against the WSC Cougars, he gained over 100 yards and averaged over five yards per carry.

Top OSC linemen are Joe Ful-wyler, senior from Vale, and Laverne Ferguson, senior from Parma, Idaho. Ferguson is the team captain.

As a constant reminder of the fact that the Beavers have beat Oregon four straight, the Duck coaches have posted cartoons and newspaper clippings in the dressing room. "Beaver stock soars upward" and "Taylor predicts victory" are samples.

LAVERNE FERGUSON, a guard, is the captain of Coach Kip Taylor's 1953 gridders. He's from Parma, Idaho, and weighs 205 pounds.

Outstanding Honor Goes to Clement

Doug Clement, middle distance man on Oregon's track team, has been picked as the outstanding amateur track and field performer in Canada. Clement is from Vancouver, B.C.

He read of his selection in a news release from Montreal, Canada. In addition to this honor, he will receive the J. W. Davies trophy.

Clement is a two year letterman for the Webfoots, running the 440 and 880 yard dashes. He also held a position on the 1952 Canadian Olympic team which placed fourth in the finals for the 1600 meter relay.

Mural Office Seeks Entries

The intramural office is calling for entry blanks for the four winter sports, bowling, handball, A basketball and B basketball. Although deadline for the entries is January 5, the IM directors would like the blanks in early.

Paul R. Washke, director of intramural sports, states that campus organizations should enter only as many teams as they will guarantee to actively support in the program.

The mural program this year has been handicapped by organizations that would enter a team just to get the entry points, and then forfeit all the games. Washke says that this isn't fair to the teams who want to play, but whose opponents never show up for the games.

Cameron Top Rusher; Shaw Fourth Passer

LOS ANGELES — Paul Cameron, Bob Garrett and Sam Morley have strangleholds on their respective rushing, passing and receiving crowns but every other statistical battle is wide open as Pacific Coast conference teams head into their final full weekend of play.

Figures released by the PCC Commissioner's office showed Cameron with 618 yards rushing and a lead of more than 100 yards over Aramis Dandoy, Southern California, and Dick James, Oregon, 479.

Garrett has completed 106 passes for 1506 yards and but five interceptions for a commanding margin over Sandy Lederman, Washington, 80 completions, Paul Larson, California, 72, and George Shaw, Oregon, 47.

Three TD Passes

Garrett threw three TD passes Saturday to run his total to 16, thereby smashing the old PCC season mark of 15 (Bob Burkhart, WSC, 1951). He has a completion mark of 59.6 percent and an outside chance to crack Don Heinrich's record 60.9 percent set at Washington in 1950.

Morley has 39 receptions for 506 yards and five touchdowns. Following him are two teammates, John Steinberg and Ron Cook, with 29 and 17 catches, respectively. The PCC record of 46 was set in 1951 by Ed Barker of Washington State.

Slim Margin

In total offense Garrett has a three-yard lead over Larson, 1371 to 1368, with Lederman third, 998. In TD responsibility, Garrett has 17 to Cameron's 16 and both have a chance to equal the record of 20 set by Russ Saunders of Southern California in 1929.

The other statistical races are wide open. Cameron leads Al Talley, California, in scoring, 66 to 60, with Cook third, 54. Cameron and Flip Kleffner, Idaho, have 40.9 punting averages with Dandoy a close third, 40.6. Garrett has a slim lead in pass interceptions, with seven to six for Oregon State's Ralph Carr. Dandoy has 222 yards on punt runbacks to 205 for Cameron, and Carr has 272 yards on kickoff returns to 223 for Idaho's Jay Buhler.
