Pre-registration Plan Experiences Revision

For the first time in seven years Oregon students will experience a change in the pre-registration procedure for winter term, Clifford L. Constance, registrar, has announced.

The change, which has been desired for a number of years, was made possible this year by decreased enrollment.

Reasons behind the change include a desire to facilitate the advising program and to increase attendance at post-holiday classes. Oregon State college is completely dropping the pre-registration process, according to Constance.

Adviser Conferences Remain

The change in procedure means that students will not enroll for classes until Jan. 4, the first day following Christmas vacation. The only part of the pre-registration remaining will be adviser-advisee conferences.

These conferences will be held at 8 p. m. Nov. 30. Each faculty adviser will meet his advisees as a group. Trial programs in the new time schedules, which will be issued all day Nov. 30 in the registrar's office in Emerald hall, are to be used.

If there is not time to plan a program at the meeting, students are to make individual appointments with their advisers within the following two weeks. When the new program is completed, the adviser will sign the student's copy form provided in the class schedule.

Student Keeps Copy

This student's copy is to be kept until the time of registration when

Rally Is Substitute For Traditional Fire

Although the traditional Homecoming bonfire has been cancelled for lack of a place to hold it, a rally will be held at 7:30 p. m. today, immediately following the noise parade, at 15th and Agate streets behind the University tennis courts, Al Goldenberg, rally board chairman, has announced.

First official presentation of the Homecoming court will be made at the rally, and Len Casanova, head football coach, and members of the team will speak. The Oregon rally squad will lead students in yells and school songs.

Members of the Alpha Phi pledge class will entertain with a special football skit.

IFC Considers Possibility Of Change in Pledging Rule

The Inter-fraternity council discussed the possibility of revising its rule on the period of pledging at its Thursday night meeting. According to Associate Director of Student Affairs Ray Hawk, the scholarship committee now permits between 60 and 80 men who do not have a 2 point GPA for their first year in school to return for a second year.

The current IFC rule will not allow men to continue their pledging if they do not have a 2 point GPA for their first year in school. A committee consisting of Wes Ball, Mike Noee, Ted Rubenstein and Con Sheffer was appointed to study the possibility of changing the rule.

The same committee will study the possibility of permitting fraternity members in freshman dorms. Current IFC rules forbid fraternity men to enter the freshmen dorms.

it is to be presented for checking against the official registration card. If the study programs are identical, it will not be necessary for a student to see his adviser on registration day. Section changes will be allowed, however.

Preliminary study program blanks are provided in the new class schedules, which should be taken to the adviser-advisee meetings Nov. 30. Forms are provided for working out courses and times, the student's copy which is to be kept and a blank to be filled out for advisers.

With the new registration program, a late fee of $1 per day will be assessed if steps 1, 2 and 3 are not completed Jan. 4. Steps 4, 5 and 6 may be completed up until noon, Jan. 9 without payment of a late fee, if the first three steps are completed on Jan. 4.

Steps Listed

Steps in the registration procedure are:

1. Obtain registration material in the Dad's room of the Student Union, Jan. 4; (in the registrar's office in Emerald hall after Jan. 4.)
2. Build a study program with adviser's approval. If the program approved by the adviser in the preliminary advising conference doesn't need to be changed, this step is reduced to careful copying of the approved program from the student's copy to the official registration card. If the registration card is taken to the adviser in his office, obtain his signature on it.

3. Enroll in courses in department and school offices. This must be done Jan. 4 to avoid assessment of a late registration fee.
4. Check with student affairs clerk in the Student Union ballroom Jan. 4 or at the student affairs office in Emerald hall after Jan. 4.

5. Check study programs and obtain fee assessments from registrar's office clerks in the SU Jan. 4 and at the registrar's office in Emerald hall after Jan. 4.
6. Payment of fees at the cashier's office in Emerald hall.

Veterans on P. L. 16 or 346 must clear with the registrar's office between steps 3 and 5 in order to charge any costs against the Veteran's administration. All other veterans are to complete registration the same as non-veterans and check with the office at a later date.

Opinions on Court Sought by Senate

The senate instructed ASUO Pres. Tom Wrightson to gather information on the legality of the student court and submit it to the ASUO constitution committee for an opinion, during its Thursday night meeting.

The motion followed a discussion of the student court growing out of the recent situation when J. Kelly Farris, law student, refused to pay a traffic fine to the court because he said that it had no legal power to collect the fine.

At the present time, Donald DuShane, director of student affairs, assured the senate, the administration considers the court correct in its procedures.

The motion was a result of statements by Bob Funk, senator-at-large, that he felt the situation needed clarification by a legal authority.

Carl Weber, student court chairman, appeared before the senate to discuss the situation. He explained the procedures for dealing with traffic tickets.

DuShane said that students refusing to comply with requests of the court were turned over to the student affairs office for what then becomes disciplinary action.

In other business, the senate heard a report by Dick Bruce, graduate student member, on the proposed University housing committee. Compiling of opinion on the plan has not been completed, but those contacted so far have indicated their approval. The committee, if set up, would have a file on all available space in campus living organizations for visiting high school students.

Sales End Today For HC Luncheon

Advance ticket sales for the Homecoming luncheon will end today, announced Germaine LaMarche, chairman. The buffet style barbecue luncheon is to be held at 11:30 a. m. Saturday in the Student Union ballroom.

Tickets are being sold at $1.25 each at the main desk of the SU. A limited number of tickets will be available at the door of the luncheon Saturday morning, Miss LaMarche added.

Dance, Noise Parade Variety Show on Tap

Two days of intensive campus activities celebrating the 1953 Homecoming open today with the punishment of tradition violators at 4 p. m. All violators are to meet on the Student Union steps where the men will be hacked and the women taken to Fenton pool for the traditional dunking.

Theme of this year's Homecoming is "Alums and We, '76 to '53." The weekend has been dedicated to Bill Hayward, former Oregon track coach.

The events planned for today and Saturday are the result of over a month's work by General Co-chairmen Dorothy Kopp and Bob Pollock, assisted by a general committee of nearly 20 and some 300 student workers.

Parade Held

First major event of the weekend will be the noise parade which will start rolling at 5:30 p. m. today. All entrants are to form at 19th and University streets by 5 p. m., according to Chairman Edna Humiston.

Following the noise parade, a rally will be held at 7:30 p. m. at 15th and Agate streets, Al Goldenberg, rally board chairman, has announced. The Homecoming court will be introduced and Head Football Coach Len Casanova will speak.

Wilson at Show

What Oregon's new president, O. Meredith Wilson, will see on campus will be the theme of the annual variety show to be staged at McArthur court at 8:30 p. m. Announcement of the queen will highlight the 45 minute show, according to Judy Morse, co-chairman.

All living organizations are to have signs completed by 5 p. m. today in order to compete in the sign contest, announced Ann Gerlinger and Ann Bankhead, co-chairmen. Judging will take place between 7 and 8:30 p. m.

Activities Continue

Homecoming activities will continue Saturday morning with the observation of fresh traditions at 9 a. m. Freshman men are to paint the 'O' on Skinner's butte and polish the Oregon seal in front of the Student Union.

A meeting of the Oregon Alumni association will be held at 10:30 a. m. Saturday in the Dad's lounge of the SU.

Following the meeting, the annual barbecue luncheon will be held at 11:30 a. m. in the SU ballroom. Members of Phi Theta Upsilon and Kwama, junior and sophomore women's honoraries, will serve at the buffet style luncheon.

Welcome Included

Events preceding the Oregon-Oregon State college football clash include a welcome by ASUO Pres. Tom Wrightson, the Order of the O alumni march, introduction of special guests and band formations on the field.

Half-time entertainment will include, in addition to band performances, speeches by the Homecoming queen, the Oregon Alumni association president and the OSC student body president. After the game graduating seniors on the

Show to Feature Naming of Queen

Announcement of the 1953 Homecoming queen will highlight the variety show at 8:30 tonight in McArthur court, Judy Morse, and Don Crawford, co-chairmen, have announced.

The queen was selected in all-campus elections held Tuesday and Wednesday. Members of the court are Mary Cosart, Ann Gerlinger, Janet Miller, Nancy Randolph, Sylvia Wingard and Florence Wright.

Bill Hathaway, will serve as master of ceremonies for the 45 minute show, Miss Morse said. The theme of the entertainment has been built around the things O. Meredith Wilson, now University president, will see on campus when he arrives early next year.

Appearances of "Professor Snarf" and "Worthal," campus-cartoon characters by Bibler will be featured in the show. Names of students playing these parts have been kept a secret.

Musical entertainment in the show will include the Phi Delta Theta combo and Singers Ann Stearns, Mark Tapscott, Doug Stobie and Dorothy Anderson. Sets for the show are by Leland Nee. Lights and technical aspects have been done by John Jensen.

Noise Parade Rules Listed

Floats participating in the Homecoming noise parade are to be at 19th avenue and University street promptly at 5 p. m. today, Edna Humiston, noise parade committee chairman, has announced.

1. Vehicle must be a single conveyance. Semi-trucks are permissible, but not extra trailers.

2. The recognition number given to the floats at the drawings for pairings plus the names of the organizations must appear on both sides of the float. A five point penalty for each missing sign will be imposed.

3. The parade will start at 5:30 p. m.

4. Formation will be along University street with the head at 19th avenue. Floats will assume their places in line on a first-come-first-served basis.

5. The penalty for being late is 15 points subtracted from the total score.

6. All floats must enter University street from 13th street.

First place cups will be awarded at the variety show 8 p. m. this evening. Second and third place winners will also be announced at that time.

Special Edition

A special 12 page Homecoming edition of the Oregon Daily Emerald will be published Saturday morning. Copies of the paper will be distributed to living organizations and will be available for alumni in the Student Union and at the Eugene and Osburn hotels.
