

MDA Campaign Starts This Week

Coin collecting cannisters for the 1953 Muscular Dystrophy fund campaign were distributed this week to University living organizations.

Members of Alpha Phi Omega, men's service honorary, placed the cannisters to assist the local chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America.

MDA is seeking funds to finance research aimed at developing a cure for a disease that is now considered always fatal. More than 200,000 Americans, better than half of them children, are afflicted by this malady.

Crash Injures Oregon Frosh

Robert Gast, freshman in liberal arts, and Robert Lucas, special student, were seriously injured in an automobile accident Wednesday afternoon just south of Junction City.

Gast and Lucas were in a north-bound car driven by Denny Holmes, freshman in liberal arts, when it collided with a car driven by Richard Klemm, Eugene. Klemm was also reported seriously hurt and was hospitalized. Both cars were totally demolished.

Gast, who was thrown through the windshield of the car, is at Sacred Heart hospital, suffering from a lacerated forehead and further complications. Lucas, also at Sacred Heart, had a broken collarbone and fractured kneecap. Holmes and no injuries other than bruises and shock.

The three students were headed for Corvallis to pick up Gast's car, according to Bill Denman, counselor at Merrick hall, where the men live.

Homecoming Events

(Continued from page one) two teams will be introduced. An after-game reception will be held in the SU.

Climax of the weekend's activities will be the Homecoming dance from 9 p. m. to midnight Saturday evening in the SU ballroom. Featured orchestra is Dick Schwary. During intermission, Druids and Friars, junior and senior men's honoraries, will tap new members and the Homecoming queen will be crowned.

Sign Deadline Set For Tonight

Deadline for all living organizations to put up their signs in order to be eligible for competition in the Homecoming sign contest is 5 p. m. today, Ann Gerlinger and Ann Bankhead, co-chairmen of the sign contest, have announced.

The six judges who will judge the signs between 7 and 8:30 p. m. are Brownell Frazier, associate professor of interior design; V. Anne Collins, secretary of the school of architecture and allied arts; Virginia Kempston, counselor for women; E. G. Ebbighausen, associate professor of physics; Sidney Claypool of Claypool's drugstore and Ted Baker of the Eugene Register-Guard.

Impressiveness, originality, effort and adherence to central theme will be the point stressed by the judges. Also considered will be lights, music and moving parts.

The judges will pick first, second and third place winners from both the men's and women's living organizations. The first place winners will be announced at the Homecoming dance Saturday night and will be presented their rotating trophies by the Homecoming Queen. The second and third place winners and their prizes will also be disclosed at this time. Delta Tau Delta and Delta Delta Delta received the trophies last year.

All campus living organizations are eligible to enter the contest. The contest rules include a price limit of $35 for each sign, a financial statement and a plan of the sign which was to have been turned into the co-chairmen Wednesday, and the signs to be finished by 5 p. m. today. Those failing to follow these rules will be disqualified.

Registration Planned For Alumni at Downtown Hotels

Living organizations should encourage their returning alumni to register for the weekend at the Student Union or the Osburn and Eugene hotels, Sally Ryan, Homecoming hospitality chairman, has announced. A trophy will be awarded to the living organization with the largest number of alumni registered.

The registration booths will be open from 3 p. m. this afternoon until 10 p. m. this evening and from 9 a. m. Saturday to 1 p. m. Saturday afternoon. Members of Kwama and Skull and Dagger will register the alumni.

Last year's winner of the registration trophy was Delta Delta Delta, with Beta Theta Pi and Alpha Tau Omega as runners-up. Alpha Tau Omega won the trophy in 1950. It was not awarded in 1951.

IHC Prexy, Veep Resign Positions

Conflicting loyalties was the reason given for the resignation of Bill Deatherage and Leo Nuttman, second year law students, as president and vice-president respectively of the Inter-hall council at the council meeting last Tuesday.

Deatherage represents the administration as head counselor for John Straub. Nuttman, who is in charge of student help in the John Straub kitchen, also felt that his position with the administration would prevent him from properly representing the students in IHC.

Election of the new IHC president and vice-president will take place at the regular council meeting Tuesday.
