Vol. LV.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Monday, November 23, 1953

Weekend Success Chairmen Report

This year's celebration of Home- and a complete sellout." A total coming was among the most suc- of 825 couples danced to the music cessful, and the dampest, in the of Skinnay Ennis last year. 77-year-old history of the University, according to Dorothy Kopp and Bob Pollack, general co-chair- planned on attended the annual Financial reports hadn't been totaled Sunday afternoon, but the Long reported that approximately chairman, said.

All 1000 tickets were sold for the Saturday evening dance and a Homecoming dance for memberlarge crowd heard Dick Schwary ship in Druids and Friars. Druids, and his band play past the 12:30 the junior men's honorary, tapped a. m. his contract called for. Bob Pollack; Joe Gardner, Emerald

Alum Sign-up

A total of 528 alumni registered for the weekend at the Eugene and Osburn hotels and at the Student Union, Sally Ryan, Homecoming hospitality chairman, announced Sunday. A large number of the returning alums did not ni association registration trophy, Ann Gerlinger. Alpha Tau Omega placed first, with Beta Theta Pi second; Delta Delta Delta, third, and Sigma Chi ni registered was awarded to Aland Phi Delta Theta, tied for fourth.

Last year's winner was Delta third.

fliations with organizations no Epsilon-Ann Judson house entries. longer on campus, 5, and unaffiliated. 91.

1899, C. L. Templeton, now of Janet Miller and Mary Cosart. Seattle, Wash., R. S. Brayson, 169 Mill St., and Blaine Horney, Yonof 1953, were registered.

More Attend

From 25 to 50 more people than barbecue luncheon Saturday afterto 300 a year ago.

Seven men were tapped at the McCracken, dance chairman, news editor, and George Shaw, termed the dance "quite a success All-American candidate football player.

Tapped for membership in Friars, the senior men's honorary, were Con Sheffer, Inter-fraternity council president; Alan Oppliger, senior class representative; Ken basketball player and Wes Ball, native land. senator-at-large.

Delts Win

For the second consecutive year, the trophies for the winning signs were copped by Delta Delta Delta and Delta Tau Delta. Second place went to Sigma Kappa and Campbell club. Chi Omega and Sigma register, according to Miss Ryan. Chi took the third place awards, In the competition for the alum- presented by Homecoming Queen

The trophy for the living organ-ization which had the most alumpha Tau Omega by Sally Ryan, hospitality chairman.

At Friday night's variety show, Delta Delta, with Beta Theta Pi representatives of Phi Delta Theta second and Alpha Tau Omega and Orides accepted the trophies for the winning noise parade en-Broken down, the registration try from Edna Humiston, noise figures showed the organized parade chairman. Second and third alums leading with 432 returning, places went to the Alpha Chi The remainder was dived into af- Omega-Alpha hall and Sigma Phi Ruling over the weekend activities, in addition to Queen Ann, Oldest alumni registering were Were Princesses Sylvia Wingard, three members of the class of Nancy Randolph, Florence Wright, Saturday.

Registration Begins

calla, Ore. Twenty members of the with registration Friday afternoon last graduating class, the class and living organization dinners, presumably taken sometime Sat-(Please turn to page three)

Koo to Discuss

Former official in the Chinese Nationalist government, T. Z. Koo, will discuss the current situation in the Orient at an assembly scheduled for the Student Union ballroom Tuesday at 1 p. m.

"The War of Ideas in the Orinoon. Ticket Chairman Cynthia ent" is the topic chosen for disweekend is expected to clear fin- 550 tfckets were sold. A crowd of the Department of Railways for cussion by the former official in ancially, Milan Foster, finance 500 was anticipated, as compared the Chinese Nationalist government. Koo, now a resident of the United States, is a professor of Oriental studies at the college of liberal arts in the State University of Iowa, Iowa City.

Known internationally as a scholar, speaker and churchman, Koo usually appears before his audience in his native Chinese scholar's robes. He also carries a Chinese flute which he will play on request from his audience. Koo was educated under the classic Chinese custom of Confucianism Wegner, all-Northern Division over a half century ago in his

He has been active in YMCA work in this country, in addition to his educational profession. Koo tive China and has current contacts with the situation there and throughout the Orient.

His appearance is sponsored by the University assembly committee with arrangements made through the Pacific Northwest YMCA-YWCA councils.

Two Houses Report Thefts

At least two campus living or ganizations reported clothing missing following Homecoming open

Delta Tau Delta members said Sunday that five topcoats and a of 28.5 feet is expected at Cosmall sum of money were taken quille. sometime between 2 and 7 a. m.

Upsilon, said that several hun-Homecoming events started dred dollars worth of clothing was missing from that house. It was urday, White said.

Men's Dorm MERALD OK'ed for UO

The Oregon State Board of Higher Education Saturday approved the final plans for the 300-man addition to John Straub hall, subject to a later determination by its finance committee concerning the acceptibility of the financial plan.

In so doing, the state board stated firmly that it was approving for all time the deferred living policy of the University of

The investment in the five-unit, $1,250,000 men's dormitory means that the ruling that freshmen must live in dormitories for their first year, rather than in fraternities, is no longer experimental. It is a broadly affirmed policy of the University administration with the backing Probed Today of the state board.

The structure is to be of reinforced concrete with brick veneer, and will cost an estimated $3,800 per man for the 300 men. Included in this estimate, however, is the cost of remodeling the kitchen area of John Straub. The new building will be attached to the east side of that building.

Will be Ready in 1955

The board has anticipated that bids will be received and will be ready for opening in February, and estimates that the structure will be built and ready to open in September, 1955.

The new building will be financed through bonds and the sale of the trailers previously used for temporary housing, and from the Woodward dormitory gift now on (Please turn to page three)

has made many trips to his na- McKenzie Reaches 13 Foot Flood Crest

The McKenzie river was expected to crest at 13 feet Sunday night, two feet over flood stage, as heavy rains continued to drench the Northwest. No flood danger was expected to reach its crest of 9 feet at 10 p. m. Sunday. Flood Heart hospital for X-rays. stage is 12 feet.

No widespread damage is expected in this area. Forecasts for the rest of the week predict lighter though continuing rainfall.

Flood waters have isolated 3500 persons in Southwestern Oregon. The north fork of the Coguille river has risen to 35 feet and a crest at Coburg, Harrisburg, and Jef-Jim White, a member of Delta ferson. The Willamette is expeclevel the river would flood farm operations. land and cover highway 99E between Junction City and Harris-

No disciplinary action has been initiated yet in the series of incidents involving University of Oregon and Oregon State college students over the weekend.

However, Ray Hawk, associate director of student affairs and a member of the University discipline committee, told the Emeraks Sunday afternoon that he would start an investigation of the incidents today.

Hawk said that he had not had a chance to talk with Dan Poling, OSC dean of men, since last week, and that he had little information on many of the incidents that took place at Saturday's football game.

He called the taking of Oregon State football equipment unfortunate, but said that "a good percentage" of the crowd who mobbed the OSC equipment managers were "not University students, but Eugene hoodlums." He added that the Oregon equipment managers had promised to try to recover some of the equipment.

Three Oregon students were treated at the infirmary following the game for injuries sustained "in defending the goalposts." One was treated for a lacerated nose and scalp, another for a lecerated is expected by the weather bureau hand, and the third for a broken from the Willamette river, which nose and bruises about the eye. and was later sent to Sacred

Eta Mu Pi To Run Penney's Tuesday

Fifteen members of Eta Mu Pi. retail business honorary, will take over Penney's department store Tuesday.

Students will handle all phases Flood warnings have been issued of the store's operation for the day. They will have about four hours of actual selling on the ted to crest at 15.5 today. At that floors as well as the executive

Students will also see two films and hear a talk on the history of Penney's.

West, Brittsan Give

by Sally Ryan

For the third consecutive year the freshman class elected four men to serve as its officers for the year. This year, however, was the first time elections were held fall term under the provisions of a constitutional amendment. Prebeen winter term.

Don Smith

President of the class is Don Smith, an architecture major. Smith was president of the student body at Eugene high school last year. He was vice-president of the the student body his junior year and a member of Hi-Y.

Smith's major interest in Senate issues is directed toward the restoration of the Millrace, for he at one time lived on the 'Race. He also strongly favors adoption of an honor code here.

To help the orientation procedure, Smith would like to see a separate organization of Eugene men serving as an informal counseling group Affiliation with a dormitory is of little value to off-campus freshmen, he says.

Smith smiled when he remembered last year's Duck Preview. He was asked to pose for an Emerald picture with the Duck Pre-plans for the weekend." Where was Smith that weekend? In Corvallis for Beaver Preview.

Doug Basham

Vice-president of the class is Doug Basham, a liberal arts major who hopes to go into pre-med. He is president of Merrick hall.

A former student body president viously freshmen elections had from Jefferson high school in Portland, Basham was selected as the outstanding citizen of his sen-ior class and awarded the George Hibbard Memorial scholarship of $100.

> In high school he was also a member of the National honor society, the rally squad, the intercity officers' council, a class officer and Oregon's delegate to Boy's Nation.

> "The Student Union is the best place for the chimes," he claims. He also favors a campus chapel and a Millrace cleanup.

As a Senate member Basham advocates a change in the voting system to allow a separate vote for president and representatives. To get more freshmen women elected, he would add a clause providing that one representative be a woman.

Darrel Brittsan

The most Southern of the four view co-chairmen, "going over officers is Darrel Brittsan, representative, from Medford. A sophomore honors student in liberal arts with plans for pre-law, Brittsan is president of Susan Campbell hall.

Left to right, Don Smith, president; Darrell Brittsan, and Doug Basham, representatives, looking over plans for coming frosh activ-

At Medford he was president of the senior class, president of the Torch honor society, president of the International Relations league and sophomore class vice-president. Last spring he was awarded a $300 Oregon Mothers club scholarship.

Brittsan feels that the students have the wrong attitude toward. the rally squad and thinks that a freshman rooting section and more frequent white shirt sections would help.

Gary West

The second representative, Gary West, participates in the University marching band and attended the Oregon Federation of Collegiate Leaders recently. A liberal arts major who hopes to go into law, he is president of French hall and was assistant chairman of the Homecoming finance committee.

West, from Halfway, Ore., helds an Oregon Dads scholarship of $200 and was eligible for the sophomore honors program.

He played varsity football and basketball for Halfway high school where he was also president of the

(Please turn to page two)