ter, with $100 set aside for piping broadcasts into the Student Union.

KWAX first went on the air April 4, 1951, with a broadcasting schedule from 5 to 11 p.m. weekdays and 2 to 6 p.m. Sundays. Last spring direct lines were piped to Carson and John Straub halls, making reception possible for those students on AM sets. Plans for similar facilities for Susan Campbell and the Vets dorms are scheduled for completion this year.

Policy Told

This fall KWAX was limited to broadcasting only to the two "pip-d" dorms when it was found that the FM frequency formerly used was interfering with TV channel 6. A new frequency okay has now been received from the Federal Communications commission, and the station will go back on FM after Thanksgiving vacation.

A policy of "service and entertainment" is being followed by KWAX this year, according to Paul McMullen, station manager. The station is completely student operated by a staff of 32, under the advisership of A. E. Kretzinger, assistant professor of speech. Glenn Starlin, former adviser, is the KOAC representative.

Student talent in the KWAX broadcasts includes: The Joan Klinger show, Nancy Randolph's show, Campus Recital, the University Hour (also broadcast over KOAC), and The SU and You, which is also piped into the SU fishbowl every Thursday from 10 to 10:30 p.m.

Organa Releases Picture Schedule

Campbell Club, Philadelphia house and the remainder of Susan Campbell hall will have Organa pictures taken today, according to Janet Bell, living organizations editor.

Campbell club has been scheduled from 9 a. m. to noon, Philadelphia house, 1 to 5:15 p. m., and the remainder of Susan Campbell hall, 9 a. m. to 5:15 p. m.

Hale Kane and Yeomen will have pictures taken Monday, after Thanksgiving vacation.

Library Has New Display of Books

Additions to the University Library are now being displayed in a single new book shelf in the card catalogue area, according to John F. Lauber, library administrative assistant. Formerly they were arranged in the departments according to their subjects.

The new arrangement is for convenience, said Lauber. The books will stay there for two weeks, with additions to be made twice weekly. The books to be displayed are mostly recent publications.

The many-volume sets of periodicals and reference works which the library frequently buys and the constant flow of government documents it receives, will not be displayed in this area, however, because of the small space area, said Lauber.

3 Architecture Grads Honored By Museum

The work of three graduates of the school of architecture and allied arts was among the 19 recommended for purchase by the Seattle art museum following the 39th Northwest annual exhibition there recently.

Those receiving the special recognition were Robert Feasley, '51, William Hixon, '50, and Richard Frasch, '51.

likely to appear in sawed-off blue jeans, shirts and sneakers with no socks. For men, a necktie was a rarity, and slacks of faded blue denim, and khakis plus shirts, sweaters and dirty white shoes or loafers was the uniform."

The favorite in college lingo now seems to be "dum, ta, dum, dum." Other terms include "crazy," "nervous," "really great," or "I've had it."

Renewed Interest

On campuses all over the country there is a renewed interest in religion. Frank McPhee, Princeton football captain last year, majored in religion and took top honors. "Religion courses on most campuses are well subscribed, and religious-emphasis weeks are a big hit with the students."

But just what do today's collegians want? Probably to have a home and family, to be a success and to be just plain content. Today's women are well prepared to help support the family if graduate work or the draft prevent the husband from doing so.

"Sizing up the collegians of 1953, they might seem dull in comparison with their predecessors of less-troubled eras." But, as Newsweek puts it, "though they want to conform, they are thoroughly and solidly American."

LATEST COLLEGE SURVEY SHOWS LUCKIES LEAD AGAIN

Last year a survey of leading colleges throughout the country showed that smokers in those colleges preferred Luckies to any other cigarette.

This year another nation-wide survey—based on thousands of actual student interviews, and representative of all students in regular colleges—shows that Luckies lead again over all brands, regular or king size...and by a wide margin! The No. 1 reason: Luckies taste better.

Smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste, and the fact of the matter is Luckies taste better—for 2 reasons. L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. And Luckies are made better to taste better. So, Be Happy—Go Lucky!

Luckies give you finer smokes,
So buy 'em by the carton—
