

Umbrellas . . .

. . . will come in handy this afternoon. The local weather bureau has predicted showers for late afternoon. High for today will be 48, low tonight, 38.

Top Grades . . .

. . . were made by 170 students last term. The fall term honor students with a 3.5 or above grade point average, is listed on page 2.

VOL. LIV.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, TUESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1954

NO. 57

Ike Reviews GOP 1st Year

(AP)—Pres. Dwight D. Eisenhower told the nation Monday night that his Republican administration is doing everything possible to keep the nation's economy sound. He attacked "self-appointed peddlers of gloom and doom" — those who have been predicting a depression in the new year — and said his administration will not tolerate a "boom-and-bust America, dependent on war or threats of war for prosperity."

Summing up the first year of his administration, the President said there had been a dozen accomplishments. First of these accomplishments was the end of fighting in Korea. Others included a new strengthening of defenses against communist aggression, a 13 billion dollar cut in appropriations, reduced expenditures which made possible tax reductions on Jan. 1 and the offering of the plan for a world pool of atomic energy for peaceful purposes.

Concerning the administration's program for the coming year, he said it will be "one of help for the country, one of service—service that is prompt, service that is single-mindedly devoted to solving the problem."

The program, he said, will be devoted to what he termed the realities of living—peace in the world, the cost of food, clothing and shelter, taxes and income and savings and jobs, and schooling and health.

"It is a program that does not deal in pie-in-the-sky promises to all, nor in bribes to a few, nor in threats to any. It is a program inspired by zeal for the common good, dedicated to the welfare of every American family," Eisenhower said.

Details of the president's program will come Thursday when he delivers his State of the Union message to Congress.

Republicans have generally praised Eisenhower's speech, but some Democrats have called for immediate action against a possible recession.

RE Speaker Slate Numbers Eight

The Rev. Archibald McDowell of the University of Portland and The Rev. Edwin Becker of Drake University Divinity School have been chosen speakers for Religious Evaluation week Jan. 17 to 21, according to Barbara Swanson, general chairman.

The selections complete the list of eight religious leaders who will speak during the week.

RE week, with the theme, "Religion and the Individual," will open Jan. 17 with an introductory dinner. Tickets for the dinner will go on sale Thursday in living organizations, the religious foundations and the YMCA office in the Student Union. Prices will be $1 for students and $1.50 for non-students.

The program will include assemblies featuring the eight speakers, classroom discussions,

Cast Announced For 'The Moon'

Gloria Lee, junior in speech, and Helene Robertson, freshman in liberal arts, have been double cast as Patty O'Neil in F. Hugh Herbert's adult comedy, "The Moon is Blue," according to Horace W. Robinson, who will direct the University theater's arena staged production.

The two leading male parts, those of Donald Gresham and David Slater have also been cast. Donald Gresham will be played on different nights by Keith Stuart, junior in education, Donald McDonald, sophomore in speech and Harry Smith, senior in speech. The role of David Slater will be played by Clarence Sutor, senior in speech.

The production opens in the arena theater Jan. 29 and plays nightly except Sunday until Feb. 18. The box-office will open for regular sales on Jan. 25, according to Mrs. Gene Wiley, theater business manager.

Activity Slate Ends 'Quiet'

by Joe Gardner
Emerald News Editor

If you're thinking of concentrating on the studies this term and getting that 4-point you've always dreamed of getting, forget it. Oregon's winter term, traditionally the quietest time of the year on the campus, this year will include more than the usual share of lectures, concerts and athletic events.

First big event of the term will be a concert by Yehudi Menuhin, noted violinist, Friday evening in McArthur court. His appearance is sponsored by the Eugene-University Civic Music Association.

SPORTS HIGHLIGHTED

Eight home basketball games will be played during the term. The games include: the University of Idaho, Tuesday and Wednesday; the University of Washington, Jan. 22 and 23; Oregon State college, Jan. 30; Washington State college, Feb. 2 and 3, and Oregon State college, Feb. 26.

Swimming meets with Oregon State college, Jan. 30, and the University of Washington, Feb. 6, have also been scheduled. Amphibians, women's swimming honorary, will hold their annual water show Feb. 18 and 19.

Wednesday evenings will be devoted to educational films presented free of charge in Commonwealth 138 and the Browsing room lectures given in the Adelaide Church memorial room of the Student Union. The browsing room lectures feature talks by University faculty members followed by discussion periods.

DADS HONORED

Major social event of the term will be the Senior Ball slated for Feb. 20. Plans are still in the tentative stage for the dance, according to Elsie Schiller, senior class vice-president. The annual Lemon-Orange squeeze will be held Jan. 30.

Religious Evaluation Week with guest speakers representing various world religions will be held Jan. 17 to 21. Barbara Swanson, senior in sociology, is general chairman of the event.

Another major event of winter term will be the annual Dad's Day, Jan. 23. Included in the weekend will be two basketball games, the barbershop quartet contest, a dad's luncheon, a sign contest and dinner and open houses at the various living organizations. General co-chairmen are Mary Wilson, junior in speech, and Phil Lewis, junior in foreign language.

Four art exhibits for the art gallery of the SU are planned for the term. These include: Life exhibits, USA, Jan. 4 to 23; Chinese art, Jan. 24 to Feb. 13; children's exhibit, Feb. 14 to Mar. 6, and Emile Zola, Mar. 7 to 20.

LECTURERS ANNOUNCED

On informal, no-date mixer will be held in the SU Fishbowl Friday evening. Other mixers are scheduled for Jan. 15 and 22; Feb. 5 and 26, and Mar. 5. Weekly entertainments are also scheduled for "Friday at 4." Friday evening coffee hours for guest speakers are planned for Jan. 15, 22 and 29; Feb. 5, 12 and 19; and Mar. 5.

Recorded music concert-lectures in the Peter Benson Howard music listening rooms of the SU are slated for Jan. 19, Feb. 16 and Mar. 9.

The University Assembly committee will present five guest lecturers during the term. The assemblies are all scheduled for 1 p. m. Tuesdays in the SU ballroom.

Among the assembly speakers are: Humorist Richard Armour, next Tuesday; Martin Harvey, religious leader, Jan. 19; T. S. Peterson, president of Standard Oil of California, Feb. 9; Sir Llewelyn

(Please turn to page two)

Cards Still Available

Students who did not pick up their athletic cards Monday may obtain them today at McArthur court, and also tonight at the Idaho game, according to Ted Bouck, athletic business manager.

Bouck also cautioned the students against loaning their athletic cards, which are not transferable. A check was made of the student cards at the OSC-Oregon doubleheader, and almost 150 cards were being used illegally.

These cards were given a "violation" stamp on the back. If these cards are used illegally again, they will be taken away from the students, says Bouck.

Violinist to Give Concert Friday

Violinist Yehudi Menuhin will appear Friday at McArthur court in the term's first Eugene-University Civic Music Association concert.

The artist began playing the violin at the age of four, and at eight appeared as soloist with the San Francisco Symphony orchestra under Alfred Hertz.

His New York debut was made at the age of nine in a recital at the Manhattan Opera House, and at 11 he played the Beethoven concerto with the New York Symphony orchestra in Carnegie hall.

In 1935 Menuhin made his first round-the-world concert tour, appearing in 63 cities in 110 concerts. Following a two-year retirement subsequent to the tour, he returned to the concert stage in September, 1939, to appear with such conductors as Toscanini, Stowkowski, Beecham, Mitropoulos and Monteux.

The violinist has toured all of the Latin American countries, Mexico, the Caribbean Islands, Central and South America four times, and also made extensive tours in Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and the Philippines.

YEHUDI MENUHIN
Began at Four

The concert, which will begin at 8 p. m., is free to all University students on presentation of student body cards.

personal conferences, luncheons honoring the speakers, fireside discussions in the living organizations, and skeptic hours.

Protestant speakers for the event were selected through the University Christian Mission. The Jewish and Catholic speakers were selected by the RE week program committee.

Speakers previously selected include Martin Harvey, dean of students at Southern university, Baton Rouge, La.; Otto A. Bremer, executive director of Lutheran Student Foundation of Northern California; Robert E. Fitch, dean of the Pacific School of Religion at Berkeley, Calif.

Earl Cranston, dean of the school of religion, University of Southern California; T. Z. Koo, professor of Oriental studies, University of Iowa, and Rabbi Joshua Stampfer, spiritual leader of Congregation Ahavai Sholom, Portland.

Faculty adviser for RE week is P. J. Powers, assistant professor of romance languages. Russ Walker, YMCA executive secretary, is adviser for the program committee.

Tryouts Thursday For 'Venus' Roles

Tryouts for all principle speaking and non-singing roles in "One Touch of Venus" will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. on the main stage of the University theater.

The musical comedy, libretto by Ogden Nash and S. J. Perleman and music by Kurt Weill, will be the UT's fifth production of the current season.

The tryouts will consist of dramatic readings and those persons acceptable will be called back for singing tryouts next week, according to Frederick J. Hunter, instructor in speech. Since the scripts have not yet arrived, tryouts will be held from mimeographed papers so no advance reading is necessary.

Chorus tryouts will be announced later.

Nine Lectures Set In Browsing Room

Nine subjects relating current trends and problems to great books and writers in the fields of literature, sculpture, anthropology, journalism, art, history and religion, are presented in the winter schedule of the browsing room.

The lectures are held Wednesday from 7:30 to 9:30 in Student Union browsing room under the direction of Miss Bernice Rise, reader's consultant and browsing room librarian.

First in the series will be "Art of the Common Man in Japan," Jan. 13. Wallace S. Baldinger, associate professor of art, will accompany his talk with colored slides.

Editor Petitions Called

Petitions for editor of the Oregon Daily Emerald have been called for by Dick Williams, secretary of the student publications board. The pub board will select the new Emerald editor at its meeting Jan. 13.

The petitions are to be submitted to Williams at the Student Union by 5 p. m. Monday. The position carries a monthly salary of approximately $70.

On Jan. 20 "Responsibilities to One's Self: Spiritual Honesty" with T. Z. Koo, professor of Oriental studies, at the University of Iowa, as lecturer will be presented.

Paul S. Dull, associate professor of history and political science will show colored slides of Japan on Jan. 27 when he presents the lecture "Japan in Pictures."

"Jonah at Nineveh" from the Lifted Spear by E. G. Moll, professor of English, will be the topic of the fourth lecture. Moll will present the lecture.

On Feb. 10, Warren Price, associate professor of journalism, will discuss "An American Crisis in Freedom of Speech: The South, 1830-1870."

Colored slides, this time of Mexico, will be presented by L. S. Cressman, head of the anthropology department, on Feb. 17 with his talk "Pre-Colombian Mexico."

"Architectural Sculpture of the 19th Egyptian Dynasty," illustrated with slides, will be the subject of M. R. Sponenburgh's talk Feb. 24.

A lecture on "The Novels of D. H. Lawrence: Rainbow and Women in Love" by Carlisle Moore, associate professor of English, will complete the term's series.