Don't Let 'em Snow You

What's a person to do?

More accurately, what's a student to avoid? We're overwhelmed by the fare of "culture" that is being offered to the lowly Oregon student this term. It may not be a significantly heavier schedule than those of past winter terms, but it's plenty heavy—even if it's typical.

We have:

- Eight home basketball games
- Two home swimming meets
- Four Eugene-University civic music association concerts
- Four additional concerts
- Eight SU movies, all with Academy Awards
- Nine educational films in Commonwealth
- Eight browsing room lectures
- Five University assemblies
- Seven Friday evening coffee hours
- Nine "Friday at 4's"
- Four SU art exhibits
- Five fishbowl mixers
- Senior ball
- One Lemon-Orange Squeeze
- Dad's Day weekend
- Four coffee hour forums
- Three recorded music concert-lectures
- Four billiard tournaments
- One bridge tourney
- Religious Evaluation week

Which doesn't include the numerous other lectures sponsored by schools and departments, the inevitable events which will be added to the schedule, and events of living organizations. Or, if you're busy with an SU committee, the Emerald, the Oregoniana, the ASUO senate, KWAX, the University theater, the YW or YM, an honorary, a professional fraternity, or one of the thousand-and-one other groups on campus, you'll have their activities and programs to concern you.

Let's we forget, there are certain courses with which we'll be involved. And just in case we find time on our hands during final examinations, there's a state high school basketball tournament that very week.

Of course the only objective difference between a heavy schedule and a light one is that a heavy one makes the events available, while the light one doesn't; if you don't want to attend any or all of the events, you don't have to do so.

But a lot of people find it hard (or at least somewhat unpleasant) to stay away from affairs they would like to attend. That's part of the reasoning behind the cutting-down in activity by the student affairs committee in such areas as dances, anyway.

As it is, one just has to make his choice; no one is interested in everything that is put on, anyhow, and there is the advantage that so much is available that it's hard for the schedule to lack something that will interest a person.

"Get a well-rounded education at college, my child. Just don't try to be too well-rounded."

Those After Effects!

"—Then on th' other hand I never was sensitive about anyone seeing my term grades."

Economics Staff Member Selected

A new lecturer has been named to the staff of the economics department to replace Edwin C. Robbins who will spend the next two terms finishing work toward his doctorate at the University of California.

Bernhard is a graduate of Reed college and holds a master of science degree from London School of Economics. He received his doctorate from Northwestern university.

Before coming to Oregon, Bernhard served on the staffs of the University of Illinois, Northwestern, Wittenberg college, University of Utah, University of Nevada and Whittier college.

From 1940 to 1943 he was an associate economist in the executive office of the president, bureau of the budget, Washington, D. C.

Rubenstein Named To IFC Presidency

Ted Rubenstein, Sigma Alpha Mu, assumed the presidency of the Inter-Fraternity council at the beginning of this term when former IFC Pres. Con Sheffer, Sigma Nu, failed to make a 2 point GPA fall term and was declared ineligible to hold the position under University regulations.

According to the IFC constitution, Rubenstein, as vice president of the organization, automatically filled the vacancy created by Sheffer's ineligibility. Sheffer had held the position since last spring term.

Nominations for the vacated position of vice president will be held at Thursday's IFC meeting, according to Ray Hawk, associate director of student affairs and adviser to the group. Elections will not be held until the following IFC meeting scheduled for Jan. 21, Hawk said.

Robinson Elected AETA President

Horace Robinson, associate professor of speech, has been elected president of the American Educational Theater association.

During the past year he has been vice president of AETA and in that capacity was in charge of the program for the national meeting in New York, Dec. 28 through 30.

He has been on the Oregon staff since 1933.

Pianist To Give Monday Concert

Miriam Molin, pianist, will present a recital in the music school auditorium Monday at 8:15 p.m.

Miss Molin has been heard in orchestral appearances and as a recitalist in European and American cities within the last three years.

She was selected to perform the world premiere of Ernst Krenek's "Fourth Piano Concerto" as an orchestral soloist in 1951.

Her program here will include another work by Krenek, the "George Washington Variations" for solo piano. Both works are dedicated to her.

Also included will be "Passacaglia" by Aaron Copland; "Andante and Variations in F Minor" by Haydn; "Two Capriccios, Op. 76" and "Rhapsody in G Minor" by Brahms, and "Sonata No. 3, Op 46" by Kabalevsky.

The recital, open to the public, will also feature three works by Chopin, "Nocturne in E, Op. 62", "Polonaise in F Sharp Minor, Op 44" and Seven Preludes.

Admission is free.

Gallery Displays 'Houses USA'

A photographic exhibit entitled "Houses USA: 1607-1946" is currently on display in the Student Union art gallery.

Prepared by the editors of Life and The Architectural Forum, the exhibit was put together for the Inter-American Office of the National Gallery of Art.

It traces the style of American homes from the first colonizers up to the more modern architectural designs.

The exhibit will continue through Thursday.

Fishbowl Mixer Scheduled Friday

"Silver Thaw" will be the theme of the Fishbowl mixer Friday night from 9 to midnight.

Featured will be the music of the "Whisperers," campus combo. There will be decorations. It is a no-date dance.

Chairmen Needed For SU Programs

Petitions are being accepted for chairmanships of the Student Union special events committees.

Included in the events are national billiard tournaments Feb. 23 and March 2, 9 and 10; the national bridge tournament Feb. 18; a campus bridge tournament, and a ping pong tournament.

A chairman is also needed for the Creative Arts Workshop program. This annual event presents original work of students in writing, art, music, dance, drama and other allied fields.

Graduate Position Open On Board

Deadline is Friday for petitions for the graduate position on the Student Union board, according to Andy Berwick, chairman. The position carries full voting power and lasts for a term of one year, he said.

Emerald Appoints New Staff Workers

Dick Lewis, junior in journalism, has been appointed assistant news editor of the Oregon Daily Emerald effective immediately.

Lewis, who came here this year from Willamette, has been employed on the Lebanon Express as assistant circulation manager. While at Willamette he was editor of his fraternity publication.

Also appointed to the Emerald staff is Donna Runberg, sophomore in journalism, who takes over the position of national advertising manager. Miss Runberg worked on the Emerald business office staff fall term.

Pre-med Students Confer Thursday

A meeting of applicants to the University of Oregon medical school will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday in Science 123, A. H. Kunz, head of the chemistry department has announced. Kunz is chairman of the pre-medical and pre-dental advisory committee.

At the meeting, members of the medical school admissions committee will be available to discuss applications to medical school, qualifications for the study of medicine and any questions pertaining to pre-medical studies and the study of medicine.

All students interested in medicine and especially wives and prospective wives of medical students have been invited to attend the meeting, Kunz said.

Interviews before the admissions committee will be held Friday and Saturday for those who have applied for admission to the 1954 class. Students are asked to make appointments for their interviews in Science 121. They must bring their fall term grade report with them for the interview, Kunz added.
