

ASPA Fellowships Stress Congress

Better public understanding of Congress is the aim of a new scholarship program sponsored by the American Political Science association.

Under the program six outstanding men and women are awarded $4000 fellowships for a nine month period of study in Washington, D. C. They will spend one month in the Library of Congress studying congressional organization; four months actively working on the staff of a Senator or Representative; and four months as an active, working staff member with a Congressional committee.

Preference will be given to applicants in the age group 25 to 30. Suggested types of experience and training include the following:

1. Completion of doctorate in political science.
2. Completion of two years graduate work in political science plus one year of experience in politics, teaching or public administration.
3. A. B. degree (honor graduate) in political science or international relations, with two years of full time practical experience.
4. Master's degree in political science and a law degree.

Applications must be submitted through a departmental chairman, dean or employer prior to Feb. 1. Appointments will be for a nine-month period in Washington, D. C. November 1- July 31. Further information may be obtained from the American Political Science association, 1785 Massachusetts ave., N. W., Washington 6, D. C.

Farris to Address Bar Association

J. Kelly Farris, third-year law student, will speak before the Lane County Bar association today as a luncheon contestant in the third annual Lane County Bar Association Case Analysis contest.

His subject will be "Fraud and Misrepresentation As Grounds For Avoidance of Releases of Personal Injuries Claims—Oregon Law."

Lubensky to Speak To Law Students

Law students will hear William F. Lubensky, Portland attorney, speak on the functions of a large law office at 11 a. m. Thursday.

Lubensky, who graduated from law school in 1940, is a specialist in labor law. During the war he was a counsel with the War Labor board, and now he is a labor counsel for Southern Pacific lines.

Thursday evening Lubensky, here under the auspices of Phi Alpha Delta, professional law fraternity, will talk to that group on "Current Developments in Labor Law." He will speak at Gerlinger hall.

This is the first of a series of programs to be sponsored by the law fraternity.

The first and third Tuesday of each month (exceptions made during vacation) a law student may appear before the bar to discuss a case of interest selected by the student. He is allowed 20 minutes to present his case, but is not allowed to read from a manuscript. His performance is rated on a standard rating sheet by three members of the bar who act as judges.

At the end of the year the two students with the highest scores will be awarded a $50 first place prize and a $25 second place prize by the Lane County Bar association.

This year talks have been made to the bar by Malcolm Montague, senior in law, and Donald Bach, law student.

First, second and third year law students are eligible to participate in the contest.

Your hands on the Future!

When you grip the wheel of an Air Force jet, your hands are on a fast, high flying future that leads to the top in jet aviation.

Once behind the controls of an Air Force jet, you leave the humdrum of everyday life... soar far above the cares of the crowd into a bright new future of adventure and excitement. You're part of a select flying team, playing for the highest stakes of all... mastery of the Jet Age! You'll win too, because you've been trained to win. You have confidence in yourself, in your fellows, and in your plane, the fastest and safest flying equipment in the world.

As an Air Force Aviation Cadet, you get in on the ground floor of jet aviation, learn jet flight with the latest equipment and best instructors. You graduate as an Air Force lieutenant earning over $5,000 a year... a man thoroughly prepared for leadership in both military and commercial aviation.

Join the many fine young men who keep their hands on the future. Train as an Aviation Cadet!

You may be eligible

To qualify as an Aviation Cadet, you must be at least a high school graduate. However, you will be of more value to the Air Force if you stay in college, graduate, and then volunteer for training. In addition, you must be between 19 and 26½ years, unmarried, and in good physical condition.

★ Win an Air Force Commission

★ Earn over $5,000 A Year

HERE'S WHAT YOU DO:

1. Take your high school diploma or certificate of graduation and a copy of your birth certificate to your nearest Air Force Base or Recruiting Station. Fill out the application they give you.
2. If application is accepted, the Air Force will arrange for you to take a physical examination at government expense.
3. Next, you will be given a written and manual aptitude test.
4. If you pass your physical and other tests, you will be scheduled for an Aviation Cadet training class. The Selective Service Act allows you a four-month deferment while waiting class assignment.

WHERE TO GET MORE DETAILS:

Contact your nearest Aviation Cadet Selection Team, Air Force ROTC Unit or Air Force Recruiting Officer. Or write to: Aviation Cadet, Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Washington 25, D. C.
