

Hoop Forward ...

... Ed Halberg leads Oregon basketball scoring after 13 games. Complete summary on page 3.

High Clouds ...

... with a few sunny periods this afternoon and tomorrow are predicted by the weather bureau. High both days will be 43, with a low tonight of 30.

RE Week Starts Sunday; Complete Agenda Revealed

Religious Evaluation week will open Sunday at 6 p. m. with an introductory dinner in the Student Union ballroom. Robert E. Fitch, dean of the Pacific School of Religion will be the main speaker.

Tickets for the dinner may be obtained until Thursday in living organizations, religious organizations or the YMCA office. Tickets for students are $1; for non-students, $1.50.

The program for RE week following the theme, "Religion and the Individual," is as follows:

Sunday
11 a. m. — Speaker in Eugene churches.
3-5 p. m. — Coffee hour with speakers for RE week committees and any interested persons, Gerlinger hall.

Monday
Theme — "What Tells Us of God?"

7:30 — Chapel meditation, Gerlinger hall, Earl Cranston.
8 a. m.-Noon — Speakers in classrooms.
Noon — No-host luncheon honoring Robert Fitch and Otto Bremer, Student Union.

Senate Petitions Due

Petitions for the vacant ASUO senate-at-large position are due Thursday at 5 p. m. in the ASUO office, Student Union '304. Any student with a 2 point accumulative GPA is eligible to apply for the post, vacated by Marilyn Parrish.

Armour Stresses Humor As Test of Free World

by Dorothy Iler
Emerald Assistant News Editor
"Laughter is healthy, wholesome and civilized. The ability to laugh is one of the distinctions between man and animal, and perhaps even between the free man and the slave," said Richard Armour, satirist and writer of light verse, at a University assembly Tuesday.

This God?" The Rev. Archibald McDowell, SU ballroom.

Tuesday
Theme — "God and Man."
7:30 a. m. — Chapel meditation, Gerlinger hall, led by Father Archibald McDowell.
9 a. m. — Address: "Knowledge and Belief," Edwin Becker, SU ballroom.

Students Should Sign for Confabs

Students interested in having personal conferences with any of the eight Religious Evaluation week speakers should sign up immediately with Jane Bergstrom, personal conference chairman, or with Russell Walker, YMCA executive secretary, according to Miss Bergstrom.

Stampfer.
Wednesday
Theme — "God-given Responsibilities."
7:30 a. m. — Chapel meditation, Gerlinger hall, led by T. Z. Koo.
8 a. m.-Noon — Speakers in classrooms

Thursday
Theme — "Responsibility to God."
7:30 a. m. — Chapel meditation, Gerlinger hall, led by Rabbi Joshua Stampfer.

Quartet Contest Finalists Selected

Four finalists for the barbershop quartet contest to be held as part of the Dad's Day events were selected Tuesday night.
The four finalists include quartets entered by Beta Theta Pi; Phi Kappa Psi; Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Psi Chi, psychology honorary.

SU Board Agenda

- The Student Union board will meet in the SU board room at 4 p. m. today, according to Chairman Andy Berwick. Business on the agenda includes:
• Treasurer's report;
• Barbershop quartet report;
• Perpetuation plan changes;
• Special attractions report;
• Announcement of ping pong, bridge and billiard tournaments;
• Directorate chairman's report, and
• Discussion of the proposed SU house organ.

Weber Resigns As Court Head

Carl Weber, senior in business, has submitted his resignation as chairman of the student traffic court, it was learned Tuesday from the office of ASUO Pres. Tom Wrightson. The resignation, submitted last Thursday, is effective immediately.

Baldinger to Talk On Art in Japan

Wallace S. Baldinger, associate professor of art, will speak on "Art and the Common Man in Japan" in the Student Union browsing room tonight at 7:30. Held in conjunction with the Perry Centennial Conference on Far Eastern studies, the talk will be illustrated with slides taken by Baldinger during his recent visit to Japan.

Willis Describes 'Changing Mind'

There is still room for doubt that any culture of the Far East will follow western examples of social, political or economic structures, Donald S. Willis told an audience largely composed of students Tuesday evening at the opening lecture of the Perry Centennial celebration being held on Campus this week.

Translation Problem

First problem faced by the Japanese in their contact with the western world was the problem of which foreign works should be translated into Japanese. Among early favorites were biographies of famous authors, children's stories from the Bible and "Pilgrim's Progress."

sought last week from the constitutional committee of the ASUO Senate, according to Donald DuShane, director of student affairs.

Time Needed
A "desire to devote more time to what I consider a heavier study load this term" was listed by Weber as his reason for the resignation. In addition to his study program, Weber is married and has an outside job, Wrightson said.

Weber has held the position of traffic court chairman since the beginning of fall term. He has been a member of the court since fall, 1952.

A new chairman will be appointed by Wrightson, subject to approval of the ASUO senate. Action on the appointment is expected to be taken at the senate meeting Thursday, Wrightson said.

2nd Vacancy Occurs
Another vacancy occurred on the traffic court when Dick Gray, sophomore in business, failed to return to school this term. Gray was appointed to the court fall term. This vacancy is also expected to be filled at the senate meeting.

Senior member of the court is Don Rotenberg, junior in chemistry, who, with Weber, was the only holdover from last year. Appointed last fall to serve on the court were Sylvia Wingard, junior in business; Art Middleton, sophomore in architecture, and Gray.

Weber could not be reached by phone Tuesday evening for comment.

lar, a western innovation, became the model for young writers of Japan who were to found the school or realism in Japanese letters.

Impact Weakened
The lack of religious sentiment and new theories of evolution from the West remained an obstacle to the Christian movement in Japan, Willis stated. The multiplicity of sects also weakened the impact of Christianity on Japan.

The study of the West was encouraged by the newly-founded Japanese Ministry of Education in 1871. Universal education was advocated, and the French school system was adopted by Japan, Willis noted.

Japanese education keyed the ideas that learning is the key to success in life and that every man should subordinate all other concerns to that of his children's education.

Remaining events in the Perry Centennial celebration include lectures at 7:30 tonight, Thursday and Friday, and a tour of the Museum of Oriental Art at 4 p. m. Thursday. Special exhibitions of books and art are currently featured at the museum.

Kwama Taps Three

Three women were tapped by Kwama, sophomore women's honorary, Tuesday night. The three are Roberta Hackworth, sophomore in education; Donna Hill, sophomore in political science, and Sally Stadelman, sophomore in sociology.