

Oregon Throttles WSC

by Jim White
Emerald Sports Writer

Oregon and Washington State played a basketball game in McArthur court last night. — It wasn't as bad as last year but it convinced everyone that WSC can't play an exciting game in the Willamette valley. Only the fabulous shooting of Oregon's 'outside men' kept the fans from sleeping through the affair. That and, of course the fact that they had to stay awake to "boo" every time the referee blew the whistle. The final score was 66-51.

The Cougars* were completely outclassed by the Webfoot sharpshooters as the Ducks finally exploded the theory that they can't win against a zone. Oregon successfully combined the sharpshooting of Holland and Hawes with Wegner's driving lay-ins and Anderson's hook shots to prove quite definitely that they can't be counted out of the title race.

Defensively, Barney Holland was by far the greatest player on the floor. Holland held WSC's big gun, Ron Bennink, to exactly one point in the first half. The Cougar deadeye came alive in the second half to pot 13 for the losers.

Ken Wegner dumped in a long one-hander after almost three minutes had elapsed to begin the scoring. Oregon quickly built up a 14-13 lead at the end of the quarter, Wegner leading the way. In the second quarter, after Oregon had built up a 26-8 lead, the Cougars started gaining with seven straight points, and it looked for a minute like WSC might come alive; but Bob Hawes put an end to the foolishness with two quick baskets a free throw to give the Ducks a 31-16 halftime lead.

The Webfoots spent the third quarter building up the lead with Wegner and Holland leading the scoring. With the third quarter score standing at 48-27, many fans started for the exits. Borchler cleared the bench in the last period in order to give the subs a little practice and Washington State managed to chop a few points off the lead but never presented any kind of a threat to the league leading Ducks.

Oregon shot .431 in the first half and .381 in the second half to round out the game with a very nice .406 average. WSC managed an even .300 percentage after a rather poor .186 in the first half. The win tightened Oregon's hold on first place with a record of seven wins against two losses. The same two teams meet Wednesday night at 8:00 p. m.

HOW THE STARS GOT STARTED...

MAUREEN O'HARA says: "My first stage appearance was at age 5—between acts in a school play—reading a poem. I've literally lived acting ever since! First, in clubs, churches, amateur theatricals. I was on the radio at 12; in the Abbey Theatre at 14—had my first screen test at 17. Acting is hard work—but I love it!"
