

Phi Delt's Stage Two-way Battles With Hale Kane

Phi Delta Theta and Hale Kane are once more making a two-way battle out of the intramural basketball schedule. The 'A' and 'B' squads of both organizations have gone undefeated in league action and seem destined for a high finish in the playoffs.

The closest race is shaping up in the Frosh league where French hall and Susan Campbell are currently bragging about undefeated records. One will fall this afternoon, however, when they tangle for the championship.

Other quintets sporting undefeated marks are Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Chi, SAE, Northwest Christian college, Theta Chi, Phi Kappa Sigma, Nestor hall, and Stitzer hall.

Ducklings Set Weekend Trip

Coach Don Kirsch's freshmen basketball team, fresh from a convincing 79-47 win over the Linfield Frosh, will take to the road this weekend for their first long trip of the current campaign.

At the present time the Frosh have a three won and three lost record and hope to push their mark up to over .500 in their next two tussles.

Friday night the Ducklings will play the Reedsport All-Stars on the latter's court and expect a rough and tumble battle with one of the best known independent teams in the state of Oregon. Reedsport has always been a fairly strong basketball community and their independent teams nearly always are among the top ones in the state A. A. U. tournament.

On Saturday evening Kirsch's crew moves on to Grants Pass where they take on a Grants Pass All-Star team of unknown abilities. The Frosh expect a rugged game here, also.

Tempers Get Hot In I. M. Basketball

Alpha Tau Omega and Delta Upsilon staged a knockdown and dragout basketball game Thursday afternoon in I. M. action which finally ended with the ATO's out in front by a score of 26-21.

The DU's outplayed their favored opponents in the first half and at its conclusion were holding an 8-7 lead. But in the last two periods Dick Dubosch and John Keller began to find the range for the ATO's and pulled their team into a slender lead which they hung to tenaciously until the end of the tussle.

All through the second half tempers flared white-hot and one member of the losing five was removed from the game for unsportsmanlike play.

In other Thursday games, Lambda Chi Alpha edged Delta Tau Delta 19-17, Theta Chi rolled over Sigma Nu 48-34, Phi Kappa Psi smashed Kappa Sigma 50-19, Phi Kappa Sigma rolled over Phi Sigma Kappa 32-14.

Billiard Champ Exhibits Tricks In S. U. Today

Sports enthusiasts of the University of Oregon will be treated to something unique in sporting events this afternoon, Friday, in the Student Union when a former world's champion billiard player and trick shot artist will stage an exhibition at 3:00 p. m.

Charlie Peterson, now a resident of Los Angeles, California, will stop in Eugene for a short demonstration of billiard skill before moving south after a tour of the northwest.

Peterson at one time held the world's championship at billiards and he has always been noted for his tremendous skill with tricky and spectacular shots.

Peterson is also well known throughout college circles as the man who actually made intercollegiate billiards the popular game that it is today. Peterson went from school to school in the mid-west and east section of the United States coaching the game and can be credited with the origination of college billiards.

Lou Bellissimo, who arranged Peterson's appearance, suggested that all Oregon students who plan on turning out for the Oregon billiard team next month would gain a wealth of experience from watching Peterson perform

Orangemen, Vandals Schedule 'Must' Games

Oregon State and Idaho will put their chips on the table this weekend when they play two very crucial two game Northern Division series.

Both the Beavers and Vandals are close on the heels of Oregon's Ducks in the championship race but any more losses on their records would definitely hurt their hopes.

With a five won and three lost mark at the present time the rangy Beavers of coach Slat's Gill will host the unpredictable Washington State Cougars in what could be a very interesting pair of games.

Jack Friel's team will go into the tussles as a definite underdog on the basis of past results but if the Cougars should happen to have a good night, such as they had against Oregon Wednesday night, they might give the Corvallis bombers a surprise or two.

Idaho, who has completed its suicide swing through Oregon will be tough to beat from here on out, has a brace of games scheduled with Washington's Huskies at Seattle Friday and Saturday nights. The Vandals sport a division record of four wins and four losses and will have to win both games if they are to keep their pennant hopes alive.

Tippy Dye's Huskies are at this writing in the league cellar with a one and five mark but in almost every one of their losses the Washingtonians have put up a close fight and game by game they have been constantly improving. They will be looking for an upset victory against Chuck Finley's crew this weekend.

The league leading Oregon Ducks will be idle until Friday and Saturday nights, February 12 and 13, when they move into Moscow, Idaho for a pair of battles with the Vandals.

A CAMPUS-TO-CAREER CASE HISTORY

He had a head start

It took a class reunion to show Ed Mahler, '50, that all first jobs are not alike. He tells us why.
(Reading time: 33 seconds)

The class reunion at his alma mater, Swarthmore College, was an eye-opener for Ed Mahler. The talk among the Class of '50 switched to jobs. Ed had taken it for granted that everybody was happy with his work.

Then he found that some of his classmates had had two or three jobs since leaving school. Others had kept the same one but weren't satisfied. By sticking with his first job and intending to make it a lifetime career, Ed suddenly discovered he had a head start.

After being graduated with a B.A. in Economics, he went to work for Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania in 1950. He reports he chose the Telephone Company because it seemed to offer the best chance for a career.

After a year of training in which he worked in each of the departments—installing telephones, handling business contacts with customers—Ed felt he had a good look at the entire company.

He was assigned to the Traffic Department, which has the responsibility for seeing that customers' calls are handled efficiently. The job included personnel work in addition to developing better operating methods and practices. He was quickly put on his own.

Now Ed has been transferred to the job of estimating the amount and type of new equipment which will be needed in central offices as their customers increase.

Ed points out that projecting himself into the future isn't anything new. That's precisely what he attempted to do when he chose his first—and only—job.

Ed Mahler's job is with an operating company of the Bell System. But there are also jobs for engineers, arts and science and business administration graduates with Western Electric, Sandia Corporation, and Bell Telephone Laboratories.
