

Hale Kane Courtmen Win Tournament Tilt

Intramural basketball action Monday saw three playoffs, one in the "B" League between Sigma Phi Epsilon and Sigma Nu, and two in the "A" League between Hale Kane and Northwest Christian College and Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Susan Campbell.

In the first game of the day Hale Kane edged out NCC by a 41-45 margin in a game which showed the upmost in action for the day. Hale Kane led all the way and was not seriously pressed until the fourth quarter, but then the fireworks began. NCC put on a full court press and the Hale Kane boys had some difficulty in moving the ball over the ten second line. NCC players poured in six straight points and moved within four points of Hale Kane. On two fouls they had the chance to tie up the ball game, but, blew it as they only made one for four.

Sigma Nu coasted to an easy win over the Sig Eps by a 21-12 count. Neither team played hard as the score shows and the scoring was very slow. Sigma Nu had the advantage from the start and was never thwarted in their scoring, holding a 18-9 halftime edge.

Susan Campbell continued on in its bid for the I. M. basketball trophy by beating SAE 48-34. Susan Campbell had no trouble at all in beating SAE with towering Bill Jones pouring through 20 points for the winners. Moss was high point man for the losers with 11 counters.

Pitchers Begin Diamond Drills

With the end of basketball season just around the corner and spring approaching, baseball coach Don Kirsch has begun working out his pitchers for the coming diamond season.

Kirsch hopes that by getting an early start with the chuckers he will be able to have them in tip top shape for the opening game of the season.

The Ducks have several promising pitchers back from last year's Northern Division championship nine. Norm Forbes, Trent Huls, and Bill Blodgett are the best known of the veterans. All of these men saw much action last year.

Betas Score Victory In I.M. Handball Final

Beta Theta Pi won the intramural handball championship Monday afternoon after a thrilling toe to toe battle with Alpha Tau Omega in which the Betas came out victorious by a 2-1 score.

The winners were forced to put their all into the match and had to make a comeback to win out after the ATO's had won the opening game of the series.

Paul Hawkins of ATO started the day off right for his team when he scored a hard earned win over Ken Reiser. Reiser won the first game 21-6 but Hawkins rallied gamely and won the final two and the match 21-6 and 21-10.

Tom Lyon of the Betas evened things up when he rolled over Ron Pfeister 21-4 and 21-7 in two straight games.

This made the score 1-1 and left it up to the doubles teams to decide the issue. Dick Adams and Bruce Purvine of the Betas proved superior to Ron Chevrier and Jim Woodside of the ATO's and after two spine-tingling tussles came off the court with the win. Score of the first encounter was 21-16 and the second fray ended with a 21-8 tally.

For the ATO's it was a tough match to lose. They were the defending champions and were favored to repeat again this season.

Campbell Club Scores Upset

The biggest upset of the season occurred in intramural bowling action last Thursday evening when an underdog Campbell Club team scored a 3-1 win over highly favored Theta Chi.

Theta Chi had previously been undefeated in Thursday night league play and now have a 13 won, three lost record which is still good enough for first place. The Campbell Clubbers, by virtue of their upset win, moved into the second spot with a 12 and four mark.

Leading the victors in their surprise win was Lowry Hoyer who sported a 183 average for the night. Hoyer rolled up a very neat 210 tally in the final line of the evening.
